

Logan,

I don't even know where to begin - I guess it will be time I'll be planning your arrival. I will really miss having you around next year. We've really shared alot like our talks after the games - you were so under-standing with me and I always felt just the right thing to say to make things all better. You have been such a special friend to me over the years. You are such a great guy! you always seemed to know just what I was going thru - you could figure me out like a book. I hope that you get everything you want out of life Logan. If anyone deserves it - you sure do. It was so much fun this year. It was great talking to you even though most of me would be off "gossiping" at the library.
