SENIOR PLAY TO BE APRIL 27

MUCH INTEREST BEING SHOWN BY CAST

Mrs. Brown Consents To Coach
Cast for High School Senior Play This Year

The annual senior play has been selected and the cast of characters has been chosen by the faculty. This play is one of the high spots during the life of a senior, and the play this year is going to be like all good senior plays, an excellent one. Mrs. Brown, who made such a success with last year's senior play, has again consented to act as coach for the 1934 class play. The exact time of presentation has not yet been decided upon but it is rumored that it will be given on Friday, April 27.

In order to show you what a fine play it is going to be we are giving a short synopsis:

The place is the smart living room of Tom (Gene Price) and Oke' (Lucas Padgett) apartment, and the time is that most thrilling time of school days—commencement. It's too bad when a charming young man gets a girl to even at his school with her girl-shy. Yet here is the handsome Tom Arsdale (Gene Price), graduating from college with the name of being a woman hater. What a con-

NEW ADDITION TO BUILDING

Left Wing Being Added to The High School Building With Help by CWA

The new addition that is being made on the left end of the high school building will mean much to the students. It will be beautiful and attractive and something for us to be proud of.

The building of the wing is being made possible by the help of the CWA, the school district, and the careful planning of Mr. Ward and the school board. The school district is furnishing the materials and the CWA is furnishing the labor. Mr. D. C. L. Hiers is supervising the work.

Several years ago a similar wing was built on the right end of the building. The new wing will make the building seem more balanced.

There will be five rooms in the addition; the basement, two on the first floor and two on the second floor. That will make the total number of available classrooms in the building twenty-one.

It has not been definitely decided which teachers will get new rooms. At present it is thought that one room will be given to the French department, one to the commercial department and probably the seventh grade will be moved to the high school next year and be put in one of the rooms.

The basement of the wing will be seventy-four feet long, twenty-one feet wide and eight feet high. There are three possible uses for the basement, it may be used as an agriculture room, as a motion picture projector room, or the shop class may

TEAM ENTERS STATE MEET

ANDREWS WON OVER FAST
LOCAL BOYS

Walterboro High School Basketball Team Went to Columbia, March 8 for Finals

The Walterboro high school basketball team, after winning the district eight championship went to Columbia, March 8, to take part in the state meet.

The team played Andrews and even though they played good ball the taller Andrews team defeated them 34-24. The Walterboro team got off with a slow start but came back in the last half and outscored Andrews team.

The State said the taller Andrews team defeated the game little Walterboro team by the score of 34-24 (Continued on page 4)

CONTESTS HELD FOR DISTRICT 8

HIGH SCHOOL LEAGUE IS SPONSOR OF MEET

Walterboro Has Been Well Represented in Contests For Past Years

Each year the South Carolina high school league sponsors a number of contests in which a large number of high school pupils participate. These pupils gather from different parts of the state, having been chosen from a group of other students who tried out in the preliminary contest of their school district, at Columbia during high school week.

There are six literary contests held besides the debates and declamation and expression contests in which we hope to be represented this year. The English contest was held on March 3; history, March 7; biology, March 17. The Latin examination will be held on March 24 and geometry and algebra on March 31.

Walterboro has thus far been well represented in the contests and seems to have a good representation for the following ones:

Steven Hiott, George Linder and Mary Elizabeth Tindall represented Walterboro high school in English. Patricia Walker, Wilma Wallace and Margaret Wichman participated in the history contest. In the biology contest, Morrell Gipson and Elizabeth Langdale went forward to take their place in the district. Patricia will represent the school in the Latin contest. Wilma Wallace, Willie B. Garris and Edna Zeigler will compete for geometry. Algebra will be taken by Elizabeth Langdale, Brantley Padgett and Mattie Trowell.

In these district contests each school sends its representatives to an appointed place in the district where they will stand the examination. Some of the schools that send representatives to the contests in district 8 besides Walterboro are Denmark, Dunbarton, Lodge, North Charleston, Ridgeland, Smoaks, Summerville and Williston.

Teachers 100 Per Cent At State Meeting

Every teacher in the Walterboro high school attended the South Carolina Education Association meeting held in Columbia on March 8 and 9. While at the meeting, the teachers attended the general meetings where they heard addresses by nationally prominent men and women in the field of education. At other times they attended the smaller departmental meetings which were given over to discussion and talks concerning various educational subjects. All of the teachers came away feeling that it had been a great meeting and that they had received information and inspiration which would help them to do their work better.

The Walterboro teachers took an active part in the proceedings of the meeting. In order that you may know some of the things your teachers did during the convention, we are mentioning all those we could find out about. Mr. Ward and Mr. Stevenson are both members of the council of delegates. It is this body which has charge of the business of the association. Mr. Ward, who is past president, is a member of the executive committee, the most important committee of the association. He responded to the address of welcome given by the City of Columbia at the first general meeting.

Mrs. Thomas, who is vice president of the history teachers department, presented to her group a plan for organizing history clubs among the high schools of the state. These clubs would have as their purpose the collecting of local historical materials of value for their preservation, and to stimulate interest among pupils in their state's history. This plan was enthusiastically adopted as a worthy project, and it is hoped that it will be put into operation at an early date.

The teachers were high in their

BOXING BOUTS TO BE HELD

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN ANNOUNCEMENT

Tournament Being Sponsored by the Athletic Department of High School

Great interest has been shown in the announcement of the boxing tournament which is being sponsored by the athletic department. The first series of bouts will be fought this Friday night, March 23. In case all the bouts are not finished, it will be necessary to have other preliminary bouts. Then the final bouts in each division will be fought on March 30.

The boys are being divided into weights beginning with 60 pounds and going on up to the heaviest weight in school, with each division having a 10 pound range. The main idea in these bouts is to decide who in the best boxer in his particular weight. A block letter will be awarded to each winner in his weight.

It is hoped that this tournament will revive an interest in boxing and lay the stage for a good boxing team for next year. It has been several years since W. H. S. has had a boxing team. In fact, not since the days of John G. Blocker and Adolph Walter.

The following is a partial list of boys who have entered and their division. The grammar school boys are taking part in it too, but we regret that we do not have their names and weights:

- 90 pounds—Randolph Ritter, and Emory Langdale.
- 100 pounds—Newton Hiott, Wilford Huff, Harry Cohen, John Seigler, and Gerald Carter.
- 110 pounds—Herman Crosby, Burrell Varner, Foch Ulmer, Kenwood Price, C. C. Hiott, Ralph Bridge.
- 120 pounds—Fripp Fishburne, Thomas Key, Carroll Berry.
- 130 pounds—Harold Smoak, Vernon Price, Brantley Padgett, Irvin O'Neal, Jim Peurifoy, Ned Riddle, Woodrow Price, Floyd Hiott, Willie Benton, George Benton.
- 140 pounds—Raymond Moore, Jim Hiott, P. F. Cone, James Casteen.
- 150 pounds—Stephen Skardon, Harry Hooker, Claude Hiott.
- 160 pounds—Harris Sweat, Charles Richardson, Bradford Wichman.

BOYS' TEAM WINS GAME

WALTERBORO DEFEATS
NORTH CHARLESTON

Basketball Team Played Good
Games In District Eight Tournament

Hurrah for the Walterboro basketball team! They won the championship of district eight by defeating North Charleston in the final game of the tournament held here February 23 and 24. This is the first time since 1931 that our boys have won the district championship.

The boys were favored to beat Ridgeland in the first game, which they did, but everybody figured that they didn't have much chance with North Charleston. But the team fought hard, every player did his part, and as a result, they won a great victory. This entitled the team to a trip to Columbia to play in the state basketball tournament. Every boy on the team was a star and showed what teamwork could do. A big feature of the game was the nervous chewing up of almost an entire bench during the game by Mr. Frick. It is reported that he suffered from a bad case of indigestion the next day.

This closes a very successful season for the team, and we know that next year we will have an even more successful team.

ORATORICAL MEET AT W. H. S. APRIL 14

Much Interest Being Taken in Declamation and Expression
Contests This Year

More interest is being taken this year in the declamation and expression contest than ever before. Quite a few pupils have already selected their pieces and have begun work on them. They are trying out for the contest which will be held in school here to select the boy and girl to represent Walterboro high school in the district oratorical contest to be held here on April 14. Then we must have a boy and a girl to represent us in the same contests in county fields day. So, you see, the winners are going to get more than one chance to let us hear them speak.

There may be others before it is over but these are all we could find out about. Their selections are also given:

Expression:
Willie B. Garris, "The Little Fellow."
Doris Fennell, "The Painter of Seville."
Ruth Wallace, "A Mortifying Mistake."
Leatrice Langdale, Mae Elizabeth Tindall, Evelyn O'Brien, Ethel Glover.

Declamation:
Ralph Bridge, "The South and Her Problems."
Claude Hiott, "Sparticus to the Gladiators."
Chalmers Chassereau, "Not Guilty."
Hugh Peurifoy, "The Law."
James Crosby, "The Message to Garcia."
Carlton Jordan, David Hackney.
Elizabeth Beach.

Published Monthly by the Pupils of the Walterboro High School, Walterboro, S. C.

Well, this is the junior class edition. We did the best we could. Hope you like it.

We are wondering if you will like this edition as well or better than the Wildcat as it has been put out for the first three editions this year. We want the school to have the kind of paper that it wants. Think it over and express your opinion.

The Wildcat takes this opportunity of congratulating the grammar school pupils on putting out the Grammar Grams each week in the local paper. We can see from this that the school is going to have some good Wildcat editions later on when they take our place.

Patronize our advertisers. They help to make it possible for us to have a paper. Tell them "thank you" when you go into their places of business. Ask your parents to do the same thing. Tell them one reason you are trading with them is because they advertise in The Wildcat. If you do this—they will want to advertise more.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

By school spirit we mean the pep, enthusiasm and cooperation that we show at school. He who would get the most out of his school must always be ready to serve it. The boy or girl who thinks first of the interests of his school, who is jealous of its good name, who is eager to aid in any enterprise which will benefit it, who is willing to sacrifice time and personal advantage for its welfare, is one who will find school a delight and its memory a lasting satisfaction.

Such a person has a fine sort of school spirit, for school spirit consists not so much in cheering the team on to victory or even in supporting it in times of defeat as in being loyal to its ideals and purposes. School spirit is not noise but is the attitude of mind and heart.

We should pride ourselves in the appearance of our school and its surroundings and we should try to take care of the property. We should think that our school is better than any other and cannot be excelled.

We also should have faith in our athletic teams. Walterboro high can lick any school in the state just as long as she thinks she can. But if we hand larger schools the victories before the game or say we're going to be beaten we're all going to be disappointed. It's up to us to avoid this attitude.

Pupils who have good school spirit are considerate of schoolmates, and teachers, and are enthusiastic and loyal supporters of all school activities.

Herbert Broughton.

"SPRING FEVER"

When spring comes along, you have a lazy feeling. You have no inclination or desire to study. When a person is in this condition you can bet ten to one that he is suffering with that dreaded disease "spring fever." In spring, it is hard to resist the lovely out-doors, but we should exert our self-control to overcome this desire to neglect our studies for the open. We have practically reached the end of the school year, so we should not be quitters. We should stick it out until the last. At the present time we should turn our attention to our books so that we won't lower our grades. By doing this, we will not only please our parents, but will store up knowledge in our heads that will be of more value to us in the future than we realize at present. Let's brace up and overcome this "spring fever" which has made victims of so many of us.

Hugh Peurifoy.

HOW OUT-OF-CLASS ACTIVITIES HELP PUPILS

How many of us like to be called "good sports" or to be an "all-around person?" Everyone of us wishes to have the honor of making an athletic team for doing some deed to help the school during out-of-class hours.

All of us do not realize how much it would help us in every way to become better fitted to meet life. Whether we win or lose in our undertakings we become better sports and learn not to worry if we lose but to keep trying.

If we help in out-of-class activities we are doing much to make our school a better one altogether. How proud we were of our school boys' basketball team when they won the loving cup! It brought up the standard of our school as having a good basketball team. Likewise if we all join together and give our school the "rep" of being the best in everything our school would be looked up to and would have a much higher rating than it now has. Why shouldn't and couldn't we reach that goal? Let's each of us plan to do something that will help both our school and us, and also bring us nearer to the goal. It will make our school proud of us and us proud of our school!

Florence McDaniel.

THE VALUE OF EDUCATION

Education has a great value and meaning. In its true sense education means something more than the ability to unravel the involved constructions of a dead language; something more than a proficiency in mathematics and the physical sciences; something more even than that can be reaped from the most laborious toil of the human intellect. It is drawing out, a development of every element every faculty, every power of body, mind and spirit.

An education on this broad basis should be the life work of every human being. It increases the humanity of man and adds to our very being. Even if one is to spend his life in idleness gazing at the clouds it is a duty he owes to himself, to the universe, and to God, to make the most of himself by acquiring a liberal education. An educated man is more a man than an uneducated man.

A person's education problem gives character to society and begins new social problems. Education is also a civil and political problem.

Education goes hand in hand with religion. The statistics of every community will show that three-fourths of the criminals are taken from the ranks of the ignorant. Education has transformed the savage into a Christian.

Education was divinely instituted. Nature is the school-mistress whom God employs to educate his children. This sweet and patient teacher knows how to win our hearts so that study becomes a pleasure. She will lead us triumphantly through and admit us into her vast university. Education is a part of that God-like nature which we boast of, it is a part of our very immortality. So is knowledge.

Audrey Smith.

Debating Club Working Hard

The members of the debating club have been working hard. At the last meeting the club was divided and four members were put on each side. The query, which will also be the query for the state debating contest this year, was: "Resolved, That the Powers of the President Should be Substantially Increased as a Settled Policy." This preliminary debate took place on Thursday, March 16th. Some of the teachers acted as the judges and Mr. Stevenson, the club sponsor, was chairman. The winners chosen were, affirmative, Harry Cohen, Margaret Wichman and Dick Jefferies, alternate; negative, Wilma Wallace, Harry Hooker and Bradford Wichman, alternate.

Debating meets have been scheduled with the Summerville and Wiliston teams. These debates will take place around the first part of April.

Wilma Wallace.

The Part Juniors Take in School Life

The junior class, the largest one in high school, has contributed much to the success of the school this year. We do not like to boast about it, but we are real proud of the records made by the members of your class. Of course, we cannot expect to do as much as the seniors, but we think we have done pretty good for juniors. Just watch us when we get to be seniors next year. We'll show you something.

Here are just a few of the things we have done this year, or expect to do before school is out:

In assembly many of the junior class take part on the program, some of whom are: Herbert Broughton, Ralph Bridge, Dorothy Beach, Elizabeth Drawdy, Eugenia Carter, Doris Fennell, Patricia Walker, Margaret Wichman, Florence McDaniel and Hugh Peurifoy.

In athletics the junior class leads every other, the junior basketball teams having defeated the other class teams. The varsity boys' basketball team has four regular players as juniors and two juniors on the sub-team. The girls basketball team has four junior players. Many juniors are going out for boxing also.

The junior-senior! What thoughts that brings forth of pretty new dresses and lots of fun. The senior class better look out or they will find themselves admitting that this was the best junior-senior ever held. Here we come seniors for a bigger and better junior-senior!

As for the scholarship and attendance record of the tenth grade, it is very high. Let's bring our standard up higher juniors!

The junior class is represented in the debates also, the team being made up of juniors.

In all the dives the tenth grade took an active part, especially in the book drive.

Margaret Wichman.

The Junior-Senior Reception Soon

Every spring one can see groups of juniors gathered in the halls and on the campus, whispering excitedly, but upon the appearance of a senior, they become quiet immediately, almost too quiet. Why all the secrecy? Of course, the annual junior-senior reception!

For many years, it has been the custom for the juniors to entertain the graduating class with a formal party or reception. The seniors always anticipate this event eagerly because that is the time they appear in all their glory.

The entire junior class has been working very hard this year and after much planning, has finally agreed on something and preparations are under way for the reception which will be given some time about May 1.

The junior-senior committee composed of Dorothy Beach, Margaret Wichman, Florence McDaniel, Doris Fennell, Herbert Broughton, Charles Richardson and Denny Starr, has charge of all preparations and have appointed several other committees—refreshment, entertainment, decoration, etc.

By selling stickers, caps and jackets the class has practically financed the reception, thus making it possible for every member of the class to take part in the reception at just a small cost.

We, the juniors, expect this to be the best junior-senior reception ever—so you seniors had better be preparing for it!

Doris Fennell.

Miss Sullivan was walking down the street in Charleston the other day when she noticed a weighing machine with the notice, "I speak your weight." She put a penny in the slot and stood on the platform. A voice answered, "One at a time, please."

Mr. Stevenson: "What kind of a cow do we get evaporated milk from?"

Elizabeth P.: "From contented cows."

Discovered Pupils' Talents Recently

Who knew what talent in the art of writing poetry was in our midst? Violet Bartha's poems are giving us all much pleasure.

Elizabeth Beach and S. J. Ulmer can both make a piano ring. This talent was recently discovered in an assembly program.

Did you know that we have a male quartet? Fripp Fishburne, Bradford Wichman, Beverly and Stephen Skardon.

Claud Hiott certainly sings bass solos well. His rendition of "My Hearts in the Highlands" gave much pleasure in assembly.

You should hear Violet Bartha's soprano and Reece Kinard's alto in a duet. The effect is quite pleasing.

Henry Stokes and Johnny Gibson sing in such combination also adding pleasure to our programs.

Have you heard John Seigler play his guitar accompanied by Dean Breland in assembly?

We have enjoyed Ethel Glover as a vocalist.

Hugh Peurifoy and Harley Saunders are also among the soloists enjoyed by the students.

Herbert Broughton's saxophone renders pleasing variations in the musical life in our school.

Ruth Wallace is good in expression. Her reading "A Mortifying Mistake" received hearty cheers.

These recently discovered talents added to our "old standbys" form a group of interesting students participating in our assembly programs.

Elizabeth Drawdy.

Little Bits of Gossip

Nettie Pearl Sandifer runs upstairs every morning before school begins. She must have a rendezvous.

How did Dot Beach like the fireworks? Ask her!

Did you hear about the certain boy who shampooed with a very sweet smelling hair tonic for a special date with a special girl? But it turned out that "she" couldn't smell.

Wonder what the Three Musketeers—Helen Haws, Nettie Pearl Sandifer and Miriam Hiott—will do when Helen graduates this year and they have to select some one else to parade with them?

Did you see Miss Reed, Miss Bryson and Miss Hunt taking typewriting lessons after school every afternoon?

Four W. H. S. girls (3 from the tenth grade), rated a "T" last Saturday morning. You should have seen P. F. turn red when they drove up to the drug store and ordered "curb service."

Jo Sprott, Henry Stokes and Miriam Hiott sporting violets which they "claimed" had been given to them by nice looking young "fellow."

It is reported that Mr. Frick said that he didn't expect to go to another teachers meeting with an auto. Maybe the "reason why" for this statement is the same one we saw him talking to in the hotel lobby that evening.

Benefits of a Good Commercial Course

The commercial department has for its aim a two-fold purpose, first, to acquaint the student with the underlying principles of business and give him a knowledge of its organization and administration; second, to prepare the student for certain positions which require more or less specialized training.

In bookkeeping, a complete course is offered in the organization and administration of business. The student displays a fair knowledge of the course by being able to close a set of Partnership or Corporation books and by being able to make financial statements which show the results of transactions made during the fiscal period.

In order to meet the demand for more or less specialized graduates of the high school the commercial department attempts to offer, in bookkeeping, a drill in modern day methods of business which will be of help to the graduate in any kind of clerical work. It endeavors to train students to read knowingly, write legibly, calculate accurately, and express themselves definitely, specifically and concisely.

Learning to typewrite is obviously a "tool" rather than a "cultural" requirement. However, the convenience and the economy of time and energy gained through the efficient use of the typewriter in preparing notes and reports—to say nothing of an improved quality of content, form, and legibility—make it well worth while for the prospective collegiate student. For the commerce student particularly, it sometimes may also have vocational significance in initial employment.

In high school shorthand may be desirable for students who expect to qualify for high-grade secretarial work or commercial teaching. When secretarial training is taken in high school, it gives the student some advantage in using it for college notes. Frequently, it also aids in securing needed part-time remuneration or support through college.

To summarize, high school students who expect to continue with business training in the college or university may profitably take the business course in high school. The chief contributions of these studies are the preparatory, exploratory, and guidance values which enable the student, more intelligently, to plan for and adapt himself to an advanced business education program.

Elizabeth Hiott.

Students to Compete In Final Test

From the examination papers sent in from the district the three best papers are selected and the pupils are notified. These students will go to Columbia during the high school week, April 25, 26 and 27, to compete in the final test. It is quite an honor to be selected to go. Not everyone gets the chance to show their talents in a state examination, competing with the fifteen best pupils of the state. It should be the ambition of each of us to be selected to represent the school.

Walterboro has been very successful in these enterprises for the past years. In 1932 Ruby Price was selected as one of the best in the district. She represented W. H. S. at Columbia in biology. Last year W. H. S. was very proud to claim the honor of having our English representative, Dimples Thomas, win first place in the state. Patricia Walker was chosen from the school and district and represented Walterboro at Columbia, in the biology examination. This is a very good record. Let's urge the school to keep it up and carry it into greater realms.

Since the school is so well represented this year in these contests we are sure that we have a winner in our midst. Won't we strive to do our best and win over the toughest of them all? You have been selected to carry on! Don't fail to come up to expectations! We're rooting for you, pals! Do your best! W. H. S. is counting on you!

Patricia Walker.

Junior Class Has Increased Immensely

The junior class has increased immensely since its first year. Some of the members that started off with the class are still there. It made our hearts ache to see the ones leave us but we were glad to see the new ones join us. Dorothy Beach, Elizabeth Beach, Herbert Broughton, Doris Fennell, Elizabeth Fishburne, Billie Riddle, Hugh Peurifoy, Denny Starr, Wilma Wallace and Margaret Wichman started in the first grade and have continued to the tenth. During the ten years we have had other members added that are still with us.

When we reached the seventh grade we had our seventh grade play "The Gypsy Rover." Those taking the leading parts were: Doris Fennell, Mary Pinckney, Denny Starr, Herbert Broughton, Hugh Peurifoy, Mildred Hayden, Billie Riddle, Elizabeth Beach, Harry Cohen, Carroll Berry, Russell Glover and Stephen Skardon.

This class took part in the student council, the reading club and events during field day.

Herbert Broughton won the seventh grade scholarship medal against strong competition.

In the same year the seventh grade county-wide examinations caused a lot of excitement.

As the advancement from grammar school to high school is the turning point of the scholastic course, we looked forward to it with great expectation and some fear. It meant besides advanced work, a complete change of building and faculty.

In the eighth grade quite naturally the largest addition was made. Our grade was then the largest in school and still is.

We are proud of our members that have taken part in plays, literary contests, field day, athletics, the Wildcat staff, etc.

The National Honor Society initiated eleven members February 16, 1934. Those from our class are: Charles Richardson, Florence McDaniel, Herbert Broughton, Ralph Bridge, Margaret Wichman and Doris Fennell.

The event that we probably consider the most outstanding one of the year is the junior-senior reception. It is a parting salute to the senior class. It has been the custom of years for the junior class to give the senior class some kind of entertainment. It is commonly referred to as the junior-senior.

The junior class of 1933-34 is going to make this class the largest and the best class ever graduated from Walterboro high school.

Marjorie McDaniel.

Some one brought up the question the other day about how the driveway would be arranged after the new addition to the building had been completed. At one there ensued a heated argument. Some were in favor of having it as it was before, some thought the space was too narrow to have a circular driveway, while others thought it would be best to have one wide driveway halfway between the steps and the fence, with a concrete walk from steps to driveway. Other plans have been suggested. Lots of pupils are thinking about it and wondering.

Have you a good plan you would like to suggest? If it is good, you may win a prize. The National Honor Society has decided to award two prizes for the best plan offered for landscaping that part of our campus. The first prize is $1.00 and the second prize is 50 cents. Turn in your plan, together with a drawing of it to Vera Gruber before April 1st. You may want to make a carefully drawn map, showing shrubbery, drive, walks, trees, etc., together with your description. Get busy. Here's a chance to help your school and yourself at the same time.

Facts and Figures About Junior Class

The junior class at the beginning of the school year had enrolled 107 pupils. This enrollment is the largest in the history of the class and is the largest class in the history of the school. Thirteen of the pupils have stopped school for various reasons, leaving 94 pupils actually attending classes today.

Of the 94 pupils, there are 44 boys and 50 girls. Forty-eight pupils come from outside of Walterboro and 46 make their home in town.

The tallest member of the class is Charles Richardson, 6 feet 2 inches. The smallest is Herman Crosby who is just about 5 feet, more or less. Ray Mundaugh lives the greatest distance from school, about 25 miles; while Doris Fennell has only about 75 yards to go from her front steps to the school steps.

The number taking various subjects are as follows: History 91; English 87; French 60; Geometry 47; Shop 28; Commercial 23; Home Economics 15; Agriculture 12; Latin 4; Biology 3; Civics 2; Mathematics 1.

The junior class is divided into four home-rooms. The home rooms with their presidents are: Home room No. 22, Norwood Beach; home room No. 23, Doris Fennell; home room No. 24, Irvin O'Neal, and home room No. 25, Charles Richardson.

Come on, juniors, when we graduate let's make it the largest and the best class that has ever attended the Walterboro high school.

Margaret McGee.

TO THE SENIORS

Good-bye to the seniors! They are going away. We may not see them for months, But they will not stay. They will be back to visit us; To them it may seem long, For to them old W. H. S. Seems just like a home.

When they are away On some other school floor, They will never forget W. H. S. and 1934.

The year that seemed the saddest, The year that seemed the best, The year that they will leave us With their farewell address.

They first entered high school In the freshman class; The next was the sophomore Which they were eager to pass. They have also been juniors And now seniors and the course nearly run; They are now in the battle And the fight nearly won.

We know they have been honest; We couldn't run them low And we hate to see them leaving When the time comes for them to go. We wish you success Wherever you may roam, Until you finish your school-work And have found a home sweet home. Dean Breland.

History of The Senior Class Gifts

In 1927, Mr. Ward suggested to the senior class the idea of leaving a gift to the Walterboro high school in memory of that class. It readily agreed to the new plan and donated the gate posts which are now at the main entrance of our high school.

Once the custom began, it was continued. The senior class of 1928 gave fifty dollars to the school for the purpose of helping build a gymnasium.

The picture which you have probably noticed hanging above the bulletin board in the main building was presented by the outgoing class of 1929.

In 1930, a radio, which is now at the Walterboro grammar school was given.

The class of 1931 furnished the school with the two football goal posts which are on the athletic field, and, also, the large show case which displays many interesting miscellaneous articles in the hall.

A water fountain was left by the 1932 senior class. This fountain is situated in our gymnasium.

The class of 1933 presented us with one-half of the beautiful curtain which hangs on the stage of the gymnasium, and our present senior class of 1934 is giving the school the other half.

The funds for the gifts are always raised by giving the senior play.

This customary practice has supplied our school with many needed articles which have been useful to the whole school. It shows appreciation from the senior class to the school and school faculty.

Fellow schoolmates and faculty, we know it is hard to wait until next year to see what will be left in memory of the senior class of 1935.

COUNTY FIELD DAY THIS YEAR

county schools to take part in. All the county schools will be given a holiday.

The results of last field day were only partly successful for us, W. H. S. won the athletic cup, it is true, but Smoaks won the literary cup.

The question is: How is Walterboro high school coming out this year? Are we just going to win one cup and be satisfied? Or are we going to pick our events now and start to work hard and win both cups? We need more cups in our display and this is an easy way to get two more.

Pupils of Walterboro high school, pick your event out of the following and start work now and win both the literary and athletic cups.

Literary events for high school follow:

Spelling, declamation and reading, geometry, algebra, American history.

Literary events for the grammar school:

praise of the all-state band, orchestra, and teachers' chorus. The first two are made up of high school pupils from all over the state. Walterboro high school was represented on the all-state orchestra by Mary Carn Fishburne, and in the teachers' chorus by Mrs. Clara Fishburne. Let's hope that we will have a larger representation in these groups next year.

Teachers who saw the Walterboro-Andrews basketball game were Mr. Byrd, Miss Reed, Miss Hiott and Mr. Stevenson. Mr. Frick was kept busy looking after the team on the first day but attended several meetings the next day. Mr. Stevenson was secretary-treasurer of the department of superintendents and was elected to the same office in the department of secondary principals for the coming year. Miss Bryson enjoyed a fine meeting of home economics teachers about which she no doubt has told her pupils. Several teachers attended banquets and luncheons given by the alumni of the colleges from which they graduated.

So, all in all, it must have been a mighty good meeting.

Just Little Bits of News

The National Honor Society pins have come, and the members are proudly strutting theirs around. They are right pretty, too.

Cupid has been making progress in and around the Walterboro high school this year. Since school started, two teachers have married. Miss Evelyn Jones on January 18 and Miss Margaret Carpenter, on March 8. And now we hear that Miss Crouch has announced her engagement, the marriage to take place this summer. We are just wondering who will be next. Several teachers are wearing diamonds.

Not only has cupid struck at the teachers, but he has exacted a heavy toll among the pupils. Some of those who have been married since school started are Stella Reid, Alice Craven, Pauline Ritter, Hazel Richard, Mildred Bass, Gladys Herndon and maybe some more that we to not know about.

Have you heard all the nice things they are saying about the Walterboro float and the girls who rode in it in the Azalea Festival parade in Charleston last Friday. Even the News and Courier had something nice to say. Dorothy Beach was the Colleton county queen and her attendants were Margaret Wichman, Doris Fennell, Alleneize Smith and Frances Hogan.

Aren't we proud of our 10-foot wide concrete walk connecting the main building with the field house. No more sand in our shoes.

Wonder if the seniors have noticed all the free scholarship announcements on our bulletin board! Many colleges are offering scholarships ranging in value from $50.00 to $400.00 for this coming school year. The winner of these scholarships must have a high school diploma and in some cases will have to stand competitive examinations this summer. There is no lack of opportunity to get a college education for the one who really is willing to work to get it.

How many pupils in school know that Mattie and Elizabeth Trowell are twins? Oh, you say that you didn't know that before! Well, I just found it out not long ago myself.

Did you know that we have a coming golf star right here in high school? Yes, sir, it's Ned Riddle. He shoots with the best of them out at the country club. He expects to enter the state high school golf tournament in Columbia in May and he stands a good chance of winning it. We wish you luck, Ned.

While we are talking about the Riddles, we might as well mention that Billie is an expert amateur photographer and that he develops his own films.

The pupils of the Walterboro high school have another treat in store for them. The Limestone College choir is making a tour of the state and will be in Walterboro on Tuesday, April 10. They will be here at 11 a. m. and will appear in the field house before the high school pupils and the public at 11:15. There will be no admission charge and everybody will be invited.

The choir is vested and is modeled after the internationally famous Westminster choir. Miss Pfahl, the director, was for a number of years a member of the Westminster choir. There are eighteen young ladies in the choir, besides the director, and pianist. The choir travels by bus on its spring tour over the state.

The home economics department will prepare and serve a lunch provided by the teachers, who are taking this opportunity of bringing to Walterboro high school pupils something fine and worthwhile in music.

Hilda Theile.

Assemblies I Have Enjoyed

During this school term we have enjoyed some good assembly programs. Before the faculty play was given we saw a small part of it in assembly. When the circus came to town, some Indians who were traveling with it came to the high school and talked to us about themselves. At the close of their program a little Indian boy said, "God Bless You," in his own language. When the Newberry Singers came here to give their program, they arrived in time to entertain us with a part of their program. Mr. Barksdale, a blind singer, has sung for us twice and we enjoyed his songs very much. Friday, two men representing Furman University, entertained us with music. One sang while the other accompanied him on the piano. We are always glad to see some of the grammar school children. They have given several assembly programs at the high school this year. Recently, they gave a play, "Waiting for the Train" which was enjoyed.

Of course, we like to see our school mates on the stage. Miriam Hiott has sung several times. John Seigler has played his guitar twice, once with Dean Breland playing a mouth organ. S. J. Ulmer has accompanied different ones on the piano.

Now that we have the field house we can have basketball games and boxing matches in assembly, and we have enjoyed them a great deal.

Many Uses of Our New Field House

One wonders if we really appreciate our beautiful new field house which we have been using this year. No one can dispute its value to the school and community, for it has been used in many ways and on many occasions. The code recently signed by every pupil in high school is being observed and is a great sign of appreciation on the part of the pupils. They are the ones who should appreciate it because they are the one who use it most.

The field house has been used by the pupils here as an assembly room, a basketball playing floor, a boxing floor, for short plays, for the new manual training classes, and for the college classes. It has come in fine for all of these and, no doubt, many other uses will be found for it as time goes on. It is certainly a relief to have our assembly where it is not so crowded. We hope that by next winter that it can be heated better than now. At the noon hour, the field house is used as a recreation center. Pupils come in to eat their lunch, talk to their friends, take part or witness basketball games, play the piano, or do just what they want to so long as it does not harm the building.

In addition to the use made of it by the pupils, it is made use of by others. It is an ideal place for large political and religious meeting places. The district basketball tournament was held here this year because we had a fine new building.

All in all, our field house is a building which we have long been wishing for, and one which, now that we have it, we should take care of. It is one of the first buildings of its kind constructed in the state by the RFC and has been used as a model for several others over various parts of the state. We heard several visiting pupils here for the tournament expressing the wish that they had one like it at their school.

We still thank those who made it possible for us to have such a splendid building right here on our own campus.

All in all, our field house is a building which we have long been wishing for, and one which, now that we have it, we should take care of. It is one of the first buildings of its kind constructed in the state by the RFC and has been used as a model for several others over various parts of the state. We heard several visiting pupils here for the tournament expressing the wish that they had one like it at their school.

We still thank those who made it possible for us to have such a splendid building right here on our own campus.

One wonders if we really appreciate our beautiful new field house which we have been using this year. No one can dispute its value to the school and community, for it has been used in many ways and on many occasions. The code recently signed by every pupil in high school is being observed and is a great sign of appreciation on the part of the pupils. They are the ones who should appreciate it because they are the one who use it most.

The field house has been used by the pupils here as an assembly room, a basketball playing floor, a boxing floor, for short plays, for the new manual training classes, and for the college classes. It has come in fine for all of these and, no doubt, many other uses will be found for it as time goes on. It is certainly a relief to have our assembly where it is not so crowded. We hope that by next winter that it can be heated better than now. At the noon hour, the field house is used as a recreation center. Pupils come in to eat their lunch, talk to their friends, take part or witness basketball games, play the piano, or do just what they want to so long as it does not harm the building.

In addition to the use made of it by the pupils, it is made use of by others. It is an ideal place for large political and religious meeting places. The district basketball tournament was held here this year because we had a fine new building.
