

A black and white photograph of a brick building, likely a school or university building, with a large tree in the foreground. The building is made of brick and has a flat roof. The tree is large and leafy, with its branches extending over the building. The ground in front of the building is covered with low-lying bushes and grass. The sky is visible in the background.

Now - and in the future may the memories pictured here ever remind you of the standards of "honor, love, and truth" -- those of our alma mater.
