

"Only the Shadow Knows"

Sunday, at the witching hour, students could be found stationed around their radios listening to "The Green Hornet", "The Shadow" and "The National Lampoon Radio Hour". A new station, WWWZ in Summerville, soared to the top as people tuned in to catch these programs.

Many people believed this to be part of the nostalgia kick, but a number of these successful shows were making their first appearance. "The National Lampoon Hour" was definitely not a nostalgia show. Like the NATIONAL LAMPOON magazine and its predecessor, "The Harvard Lampoon", this show was a satirical takeoff on subjects ranging from Hugh Hefner to high school.

During the week students, as well as the middle-aged and elderly listening audiences, tuned in to hear the "Chicken Man". These shows appealed to everyone. Just why this was true, "on the Shadow knows".

Brad Bradley seems to be enjoying the skit put on by the annual staff presented at CHS to promote yearbook sales.

Keith Stone
Sharon Stone
James Sturkie
Timothy Sutton
Sharon Sweat
Patricia Taylor

Sonya Taylor
Gloria Teasdel
Jacob Teasdel
Jeff Terry
Sheryl Thomas
Steven Till

Gail Tumbleston
Dale Tuten
Bobby Varnadoe
Karen Varner
Sherrilyn Varner
Sheila Vereen

Dale Vinczi
Vernon Wade
John Walker
Robert Walker
Sandra Walker
Charles Walling

