

Summer vacation is a time to fulfill all those daydreams we have during the school year. Maybe we can't fulfill them all but those that we do will become some of our fond memories, those that we shall look back on in our later years. But a large part of our summer vacation is filled with those things that we enjoy most. Whether it's that all All-American sport baseball or just getting away from it all just as Rick Tower does with his horse. "The world seems more peaceful when it's just my horse and me," said Rick. But besides for peacefulness it has earned him many trophies and ribbons.

Now there were those of us that felt that we should make up for all those dances we missed due to other "obligations." Whether it was disco dancing, or square dancing, it was enjoyed. Laura and Tammie Phillips were just two of many who participated in square dancing this summer.

Now there are always those of us who do something a little different like Toby Floyd. Toby, among other things worked with Fred Parker Funeral Home. But then again everyone wants to be a "little" different. And I believe driving a hearse would make you a little different.

There were still those of us who just had a basic summer vacation. You know talking to friends, swimming, and finding skulls. Yes skulls, Louise Kinard found a skull twelve years ago on Air Hall Plantation that she thinks is the skull of an Indian woman. Finding it was only the beginning though, she plans to take it to the Charleston Museum to have it carbon-dated.

Well each of the previous people had no need to defend themselves. But what if there was a dispute and you had to learn to defend yourself? You might want to take karate like Pam and Peggy Garvin. They have been taking karate for the last two years. It must be fun because they keep participating summer after summer. But one thing is for sure, they sure won't have any rough dates.

The summer vacation of the Walterboro High School students may not have been the greatest in the world, but they weren't B-O-R-I-N-G.

Right: Boy he's good, his hat doesn't fly off!
