

Left: Miss Junior, Robin Taylor, just couldn't keep from showing a smile that she shall long remember.

Below: "Someone Up-Stairs like me," is the only thought Wendy Connelly (who won Miss Merry Christmas) could really be thinking.

Left: The Junior contestants were Tammie Sally, Faye Ulmer, Lisa Mole, Carol Middleton, Beth O'Quinn, Phillis Cockrum, Vonda Gilgen, and Sabrina Salley. They all were real winners.

Below: The Senior contestants: Redell McDonald, Clara Deal, Cindy Hunt, Lillian White, Aretha Barwick, Sabrina Grant, and Frances Boesnch were truly a senior delight.

THE WONDERFUL BEAUTIES

Contests always seem to make school just a little bit more exciting. If it were just any contest it wouldn't be that important. But when it is Miss W.H.S., Miss Senior, Miss Junior, and Miss Merry Christmas it becomes interesting from the first day the students vote until the last moment before the winners are announced. Each and everyone of the titles means a great deal. Even if they don't win they will always remember being contestants. Dressing in their lovely gowns and marching before the student body gives them a chance to realize that they are truly not unnoticed. Because each contestant from the minute they walked on the floor until the minute they left had the envy of the other young ladies and the eye of every young man.

The students showed their respect and good manners by giving the contestants a real W.H.S. applause.

The winners were chosen by the student body. Wanda Murdaugh won Miss W.H.S. and said, "Winning this title was like having a dream come true." And from the student applause she truly deserved to win the title. Joni Stringfield felt that winning Miss Senior would be a title that she would long remember. The way she reacted to winning gave everyone the feeling that she was undoubtedly telling the truth.

Now the Juniors also proved that their class had beauty. Robin Taylor expressed her emotions about winning Miss Junior with great calmness. But she admits that winning the title was a great honor. Wendy Connelly who won Miss Merry Christmas was as pretty as the season itself. "This is the best thing that has happened to me all year," said Wendy Connelly.

Colleton High also had its beauty contest. The titles consisted of Miss Sophomore and Miss Freshman. The new Miss Sophomore was Yvette Stephens, Miss Freshman was Renee Hamilton, and the runner up for Miss Freshman was Margaret Hutcherson. They all said that they enjoyed being a part of the contest.

The contestants and students had every right to be proud of themselves.
