

"Music Makes Our Lives Worth While"

At the beginning of the school year, the chorus begins working on its annual Christmas Concert. Many hours of work are put into the concert. The students attempt to do their utmost in performing. There are many good points to chorus besides singing. In the chorus room each individual tries to express his courtesy to his fellow member. When a chorus respects the rights of others, it is easier to accomplish a job well-done.

Class-time is 55 minutes each day and sometimes there are many interruptions, so the chorus has to put in night practices. They try to make their concert the best possible.

After Christmas vacation, the chorus comes back to school ready to start preparing for its Spring Concert. The Spring Concert is given in May. Because it is the last performance of the year, there will be a lot of emotions preading in the atmosphere, especially from the seniors. There are many seniors in the chorus this year. Almost all are four-year veterans in the chorus. The seniors will miss their place on the stage and will certainly be missed by the other members.

"Music Makes my Life Worth while," goes one of the songs sung by Walterboro High School Chorus. And the chorus show that the meaning of this song is true in everything they do.

Above: Ms. Kaye Berry, Assistant Choral Director

Being surprised by her gift, Mrs. Buckner gives the chorus something to laugh about.