

SWEATING IT!

Our "Band of Blue" is out there sweating it out for us also. Band Camp and daily practices of long hours of drills preparing for the marching season makes every band member at one time or another feel like throwing in their uniform and going home to the air-conditioning, but they stick it out because they know that everybody will be looking forward to their half-time performances. Albert Manigo-Bey said, "The first days are the hardest because they deal with basic band concepts in the music, marching, flags and rifle spinning, but in the end all pays off and we really have it together." Don't forget our Cheerleaders, they are the ones who keep us going at pep rallies and keep our spirits up. They probably practiced more than the football team. Practice began June 8 lasting until August 20 from 8-12 a.m. During the summer heat, they mostly practice fundamentals. They had a smaller number of cheerleaders so a lot of reconstruction will be needed. Audrey Taylor, Cheerleader Captain, said, "The heat did not discourage us. We work hard to show the players and the fans we care. They are the ones we will be representing wherever we go." So that's the way it was during the summer of '81 at W.H.S.

David Williams shows how the riflemen try to do their thing while Chuck's mind wanders.