Another year has begun and its time for everyone to put on their good study habits. After a long summer of fun and relaxation its going to seem somewhat unusual getting use to the hours of 6:00 and 7:00 in the morning. Valery Sanders stated "I feel awful about getting up in the morning to get dressed and then having to flee out the front door before the school bus leaves." For those who like to hangout late at night staying in wake in class is going to be one of your upmost important tasks. Don't forget reaching the deadlines for homework assignments. "I Always complete my homework before going out and its always on time." says Alice Geddis. One thing thats going to be a problem is putting up with over crowded classrooms and with a problem like not learning can be very difficult in some ways. "Sitting in the back of the classroom and not understanding what the teacher says will be another problem," thinks Robin Taylor. "During the winter and summer months classrooms that aren't heated or airconditioned can effect students learning abilities and cause them to get drowsy." says Keith Williams. The moral is that through it all "All it took was heart."

James Smith and Felicia Johnson take time out to do some homework.
