Volume XIII

Being viewed on television by thousands, Tony Stephens takes it all in stride, while we watch with pride.

Consoling an injured Andy Harrison is Kevin Crosby no. 45.

With dedication and enthusiasm, NHS President Elizabeth Belcher and the National Honor Society made Christmas a little happier for 93 children.

This may be the next young Frankenstein, for Todd Osteen certainly seems to be making a monster of Bill Hough.

Altogether First Class

The thought of bringing together two schools in a new facility brought doubts to parents, faculty and students that concerned discipline, space and relationships. After all, management of 1746 students would not be an easy job.

Freshmen, as well as Seniors, were learning their way around campus. Friendly smiles and "Where am I?" faces were common sights for the first few weeks of school. From then on, knowing where to go just seemed to come naturally.

Along with a new facility came new changes. Instead of one regular lunch, students could choose from salad bar, regular lunch, short order, and a la carte items. Rules on chewing gum, smoking, driving to vocational school and car stickers were also imposed. "I think that most of the rules are pretty fair, but some are just plain ridiculous!", said sophomore Deborah Campbell.

Through a wide variety of offered courses, a 15,000 volume library, and an extended guidance program, educational opportunities were better than ever. Sophomore Karen Francis said, "Educational opportunities here will make it easier for me to study computer programming when I go to college". During the year, more changes were made through trial and error, and the doubts soon disappeared making the school year A First Class Act.

A First Class Act

Though the faculty, classmates and routine were basically the same, graphically painted hallways, clean classrooms, and central air conditioning incorporated feelings of fresh starts for all.

Being in a brand new eight million dollar high school was something that most of the students had not experienced before. "Seeing the new high school for the first time just totally freaked me out!" exclaimed Senior Lisa Sisk. "To me, it looked like a big shopping mall," expressed Jannet Scott.

The appearance was not the only thing that made students proud of the new school. The 158 member Band of Blue placed first in State Competition; senior Ken Clark scored 1300 on the SAT, one of the highest scores ever made; defensive tackle Tony Stephens was chosen to play at the Shrine Bowl; the performing Chorus had seven people to make Honors All-State—Tony Jones, Elizabeth Belcher, Deneen Green, Mike Carter, Evon Robinson, Bert Crosby and Steve Hanna; football season came to a close with a victory over Burke 40-0; Rhonda Jones was crowned Homecoming Queen.

It was not only that students had broken records or won certain awards that made the school year memorable; It was also the spirit-filled pep rallies, the hard fought wins and the graceful losses, or maybe just a friendly smile from someone at the end of a rough day.

During the approximate two and one-half years wait, everyone had his own thoughts, opinions, and ideas about the new school. Now that we have finally moved in, we knew that our building, people, spirit and accomplishments made us a First Class Act!

"We need another foot for the first down!" motions Coach Gyles Hall.

With smiles on their faces and pride in their hearts the Band of Blue accepted this token of appreciation and achievement from the City of Walterboro.

Raising the American Flag before school starts is Laura Bell.

Students find that the commons area is a gathering place for eating, talking, and relaxing.

The Academics Act

Rulers, pencils, pens and notebooks—all part of the academics scene. Homework, tests, classwork, and exams made the act complete. Whoever the student or whatever the subject, the same script was followed. Each student strived to reach their goals, whether it was just to pass or excel, or to sing well or just to be a part of a group.

Academics was not just English, Chemistry, Biology and Algebra, it was also carpentry, welding and shorthand. But academics was not limited, it was joyful singing and beautiful art work. It was also a band with the talent and dedication to place first in the State.

With a caring faculty, a good administration and a beautiful facility, the academic year was First Class.

Winning Leadership

For the tenth consecutive year the Band of Blue has been under the direction of Bill Young. For the past 7 years the band has received Superior Ratings in every event. For the past three years, they have been one, two and three in the S.C. AAAA Marching Championship Competition. This year the 158 member band placed first. The twenty four member flag corp was headed by assistant director Greg Ellenburg. The rookie drum majors were Chad Simons and Christa Gilgen. Colorguard captains were Cathy Hickman, Mazie Shider, and David Williams.

This year's band captains were Bert Crosby, Mike Carter and Monique Tracy. Monique said, "Being band captain was not easy! My election did not infer automatic respect, it had to be earned. Sometimes long treasured friendships were sacrificed or strained in order for me to do what I felt was in the best interest of the band. I felt a keen obligation and personal responsibility for the success of this year's show. I am thrilled over our State Championship and the part I played in it!"

Showing their spirit are Band of Blue members.

The drum section plays the cadence as the band marches in the Christmas parade.

During the State marching contest the band gives it their best shot.

After the half time performance band directors Greg Ellenburg and Bill Young relax.

Working on the Flags, Mazie Shider is being helped by Lynn Campbell.

Discussing the music, Mark Allen and Randy Fletcher prepare for practice.

Jump to the beat of the Band of Blue

The woodwinds, brass, and percussion sent out a beat that made everyone want to jump out of their seats. The drum majors stood in front of the band and directed as if they were born to lead. All of their accomplishments took practice, lots and lots of practice.

The flutes, clarinets, saxaphones composed the woodwind section. The brass consisted of: trumpets, trombones, basses (tubas), baritones and mellaphones. Last but not least the percussion section included snare drums, base drums, cym-bols, and xylophones.

Christa Gilgen said, "You've lost that Lovin' Feeling" was a real crowd pleaser." The brass showed off their stuff with the opener "Paliacci". The percussion section and flags did their thing during the drum feature. The closing of the show "Come in From the Rain" captured the hearts of the audience. Hard work and long hours made the Band of Blue a First Class Act.

Taking five, Band of Blue members are "at ease".

Preparing for a class pep rally, the band warms up.

Practicing the rifle drill are Darrel Washington, David Williams, Emmanuel Huggins, and Micheal Washington while Hewlett Price watches.

High with enthusiasm, members of the Band of Blue enjoy the welcome home party.

Generals of the Field Chad Simons and Christa Gilgen salute the spectators.

Smiling with joy Glenis Mosley is welcomed home by Mrs. Bodison.

We're No. 1 says Band of Blue members during the homecoming party.

We're No. 1

This band season for the Band of Blue was a first class act. From the very first football game through state contest and until the last football game, where they marched as "State AAAA Champions," they made us proud.

Their first competition was held at Columbia, where they placed third. At our own Palmetto Band Classic they earned a Superior rating. The following weekend was Camden. At Camden they received a rating of Superior for the band, band front, and drum majors. State Contest, the most important, was the next weekend.

The week before State Contest was like any other normal week. However, Saturday was not like any other Saturday as the band members loaded onto the buses for the trip to Columbia. Somehow, it was different. Of course, this is the contest that really counts, there won't be a next time to do it better, at least not until next year. Everything was finished, the performance and the hours and hours of practice, and patience now it was time to wait . . .

They announced placements starting with tenth place. It was cold and windy and the anticipation nearly killed everyone. " . . . and in third place is . . . Spring Valley High School." A sigh of relief came from the band students and fans. Everyone there secretly hoped not to be called out for second. " . . . and in second place is . . . Summerville High School." Students of the Band of Blue went crazy, thinking, "can this really be happening to us?" " . . . and the 1982-1983 State AAAA Champions are . . . Walterboro High School from Walterboro, S.C."

Looking very proud, the first place trophy reigns over the festivities.

New Faces

Learning the ropes

Photo assignments tacked on the bulletin boards, Happy Birthday posters taped on the wall, and dirty coffee cups everywhere were usual sights that met staffers' eyes as they first walked into room 219.

In order to create better staff morale birthday parties were held, trips were taken and posters were hung on the wall. Most staffers considered room 219 their home away from home.

The fifteen member staff had only two experienced members, but all thirteen others worked long and hard to "learn the ropes" of yearbooking. They were trained to write headlines, captions, and copy, to draw layouts, and to take and crop pictures. "In the beginning staffers didn't realize that they were actually putting together a book. Now they realize that in twenty years this book will still be sitting on someone's bookshelf. The book will last forever, which is why I think it is so important," said Marilyn Zielke.

Looking through various magazines to find new ideas are Sue Bailey and Patricia Ferguson.

An after hours birthday party was one of the many things the yearbook staff did to boost morale.

Taking notes while listening to speaker John Hudnell at the U.S.C. Journalism Convention are Kendall Wilson and Robin Rutan.

Writing a pass after a long and tiring day is Mrs. Marilyn Zielke.

Learning to operate the camera is photographer Robert Cuzzone.

Adding figures to the yearbook account is Mrs. Annette Johnson.

Memories

More than our share

There was not a day that went by when there was nothing to do. Each member had their own tasks to perform: Marilyn Zielke (Advisor)—To advise and Supervise the staff on a daily basis. Annette Johnson (Business Advisor)—To keep an accurate account of all money brought into and taken out of staff funds. Kendall Wilson (Editor-in-Chief)—To edit each piece of material before it is printed. Jennie Padgett (Ass't-Editor)—To assist the editor in editing, proofing and selecting material. Penny Badger (Managing Editor and Typist)—To try to read what staffers have written, and in charge of all typing done for the Staff. Kim Pinnix (Bus. Manager)—To inform the staff of financial matters and promote sale campaigns. Toya Brown (Photo Editor)—To train all photographers in taking pictures and darkroom techniques. Christa Gilgen (Design Editor)—To choose and maintain the style throughout each section of the book. Kathy Lawson (Index Editor)—To make sure that every person and organization is listed in the index. Kim Hendricks (People Editor)—To make sure that all persons are placed in that section. Robin Rutan (Campus Life)—To make sure that every aspect of campus life is recorded accurately. Ronnie Colson (Sports Editor)—To keep an accurate record of all sports-members and scores. Patricia Ferguson and Sue Baily (Organizations Editors)—To keep an update file of all organizations, members and their activities. Charlette Bowden (Academics Editor)—To make sure that all academic aspects of our school are successfully covered. Richie Beach (Community Editor and Staff Artist)—To place each advertiser and patron in their section and do any artwork in the book. Robert Cuzzone (Photographer)—To photograph all activities within our school.

Alphabetizing and making sure each persons name is spelled accurately, are Kathy Lawson, Index Editor and Kim Hendricks, People Editor.

Writing captions for the sports section is Sports Editor Ronnie Colson.

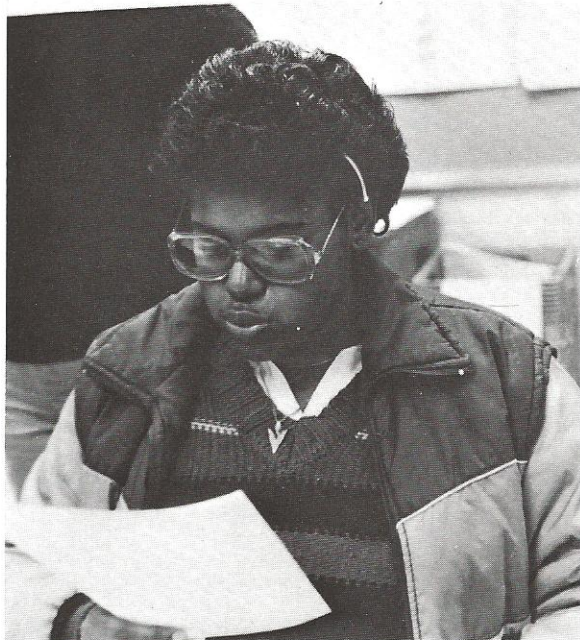

Fitting his pictures into the ad section is Community Editor and Staff Artist Richie Beach.

Deciding on the effectiveness of the sale campaign is Kim Pinnix, Business Manager.

Cropping pictures for the Spirit Week spread is Jennie Padgett, Asst. Editor.

Realizing that the last page of Academics copy has been written is Charlette Bowden, Academics Editor.

Figuring the number of people per spread is Christa Gilgen, Design Editor.

Looking at a Mars Hill College pamphlet is Ruth Deal, Theodicia Farmer, Francis Nesbitt, and Audrey Ford.

Getting assistance from Mrs. Waring is Micheal McClennon and Danny Lewis.

Telling everyone "I'm going to North Carolina University" is Yvette Stephens while Kirk Rising, Robert Taylor, Maria Grant, and Thomas Shider look on.

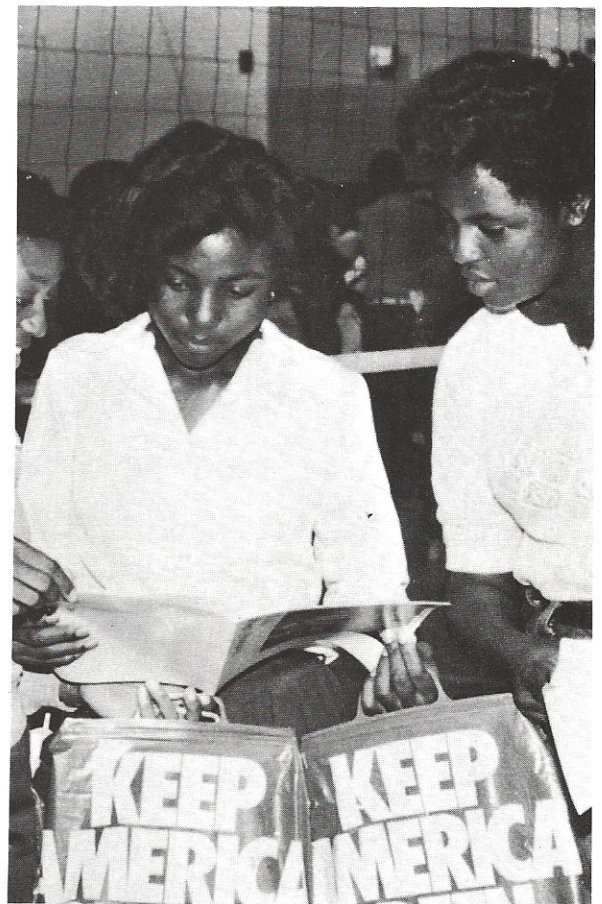

Talking about their plans for the future are Lucy Gilford, Kaye Barwick, Kim Stroble, Carey Thomas, Faye Barwick, and Laurie Hollo-man.

Theresa Fishburne and Lynn Breland find something interesting in their pamphlet.

Ed./Op. Day . . .

A Look at College

The Ed.-Op. program, which has been a tradition for many years was designed to help students learn more about the college they wish to attend. This year's program was as successful as the others, as Juniors and Seniors from Ruffin High and W.H.S. made their way into the gym to see what they could discover.

Mrs. Waring the 12th grade guidance counselor, and the coordinator of Ed.-Op., stated that "Ed-Op gives students a chance to meet the college Representatives from throughout the state and it also enhances their knowledge about the program." The program consists of 45 colleges throughout the state and approximately 1,000 students. Out of the many colleges which participated Clemson and U.S.C. were the most favored by students.

What's Your Pleasure?

French, English, or Spanish?

Que tal? Como vá? or just the usual How are you? Hearing these sounds was not an unusual occurrence in English, Spanish and French classes.

Through different teaching methods, students experienced eating French, dancing Spanish and living the Canterbury Tales. "I took French because one day I hope to move to France", stated Lisa Andrews. "I chose Spanish because Spanish is one of the most used language in the world, and being able to speak it fluently will make getting a job a lot easier", expressed Wendy Parks.

So whether you're saying Que Tal? Cmo ca va? or just plain Howdy, it was fun to learn and it was educational.

Giving their own version of the Canterbury Tales are Alicia Aiken, Rosa Wilson, William Manigo and Evon Robinson.

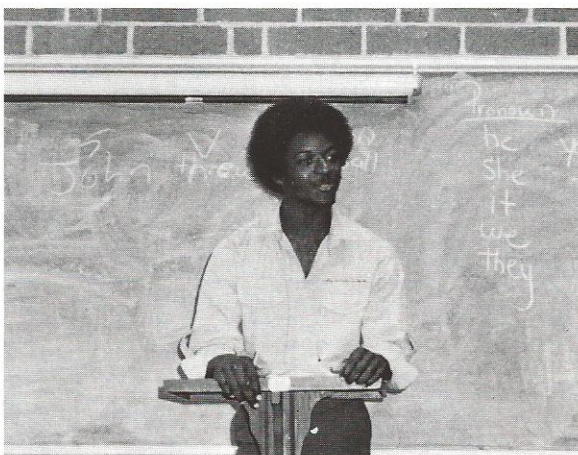

Projects made by Spanish students are cleverly displayed by Miss Edith Frasier.

Presenting his part during the play is John Brown.

Mrs. Virginia vonLehe's bulletin boards help students learn through displays of articles, maps and pictures about England.

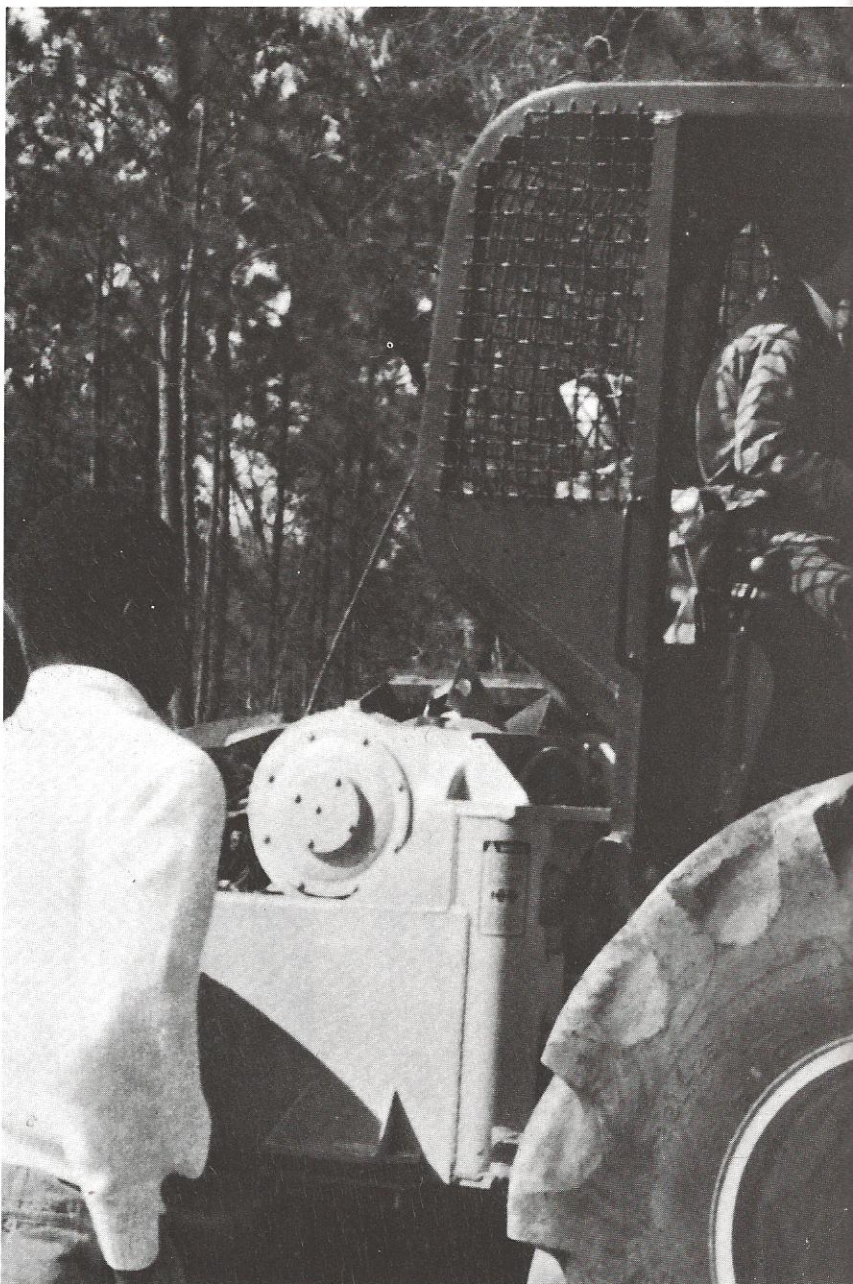

Giving an oral book report in class is Joseph Fair.

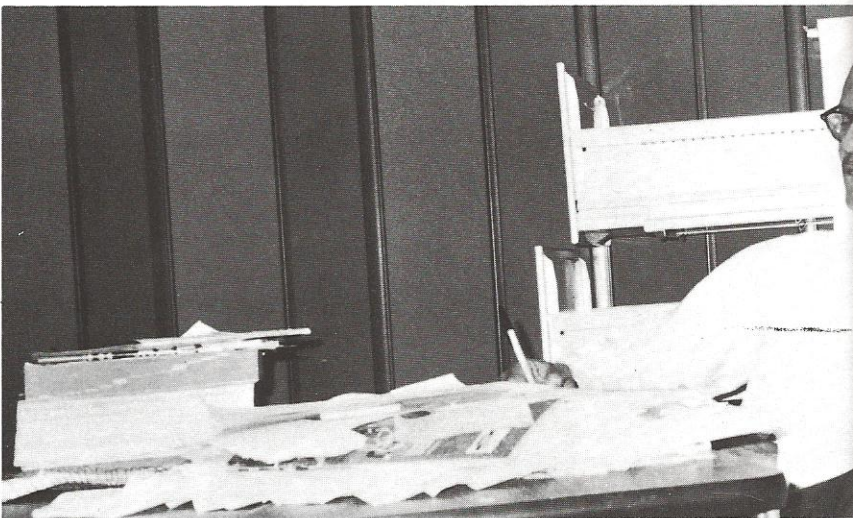

These vocational training students are learning their agricultural skills with actual farm machinery.

Eugene Green looks concerned as he tries to understand the basics of shop.

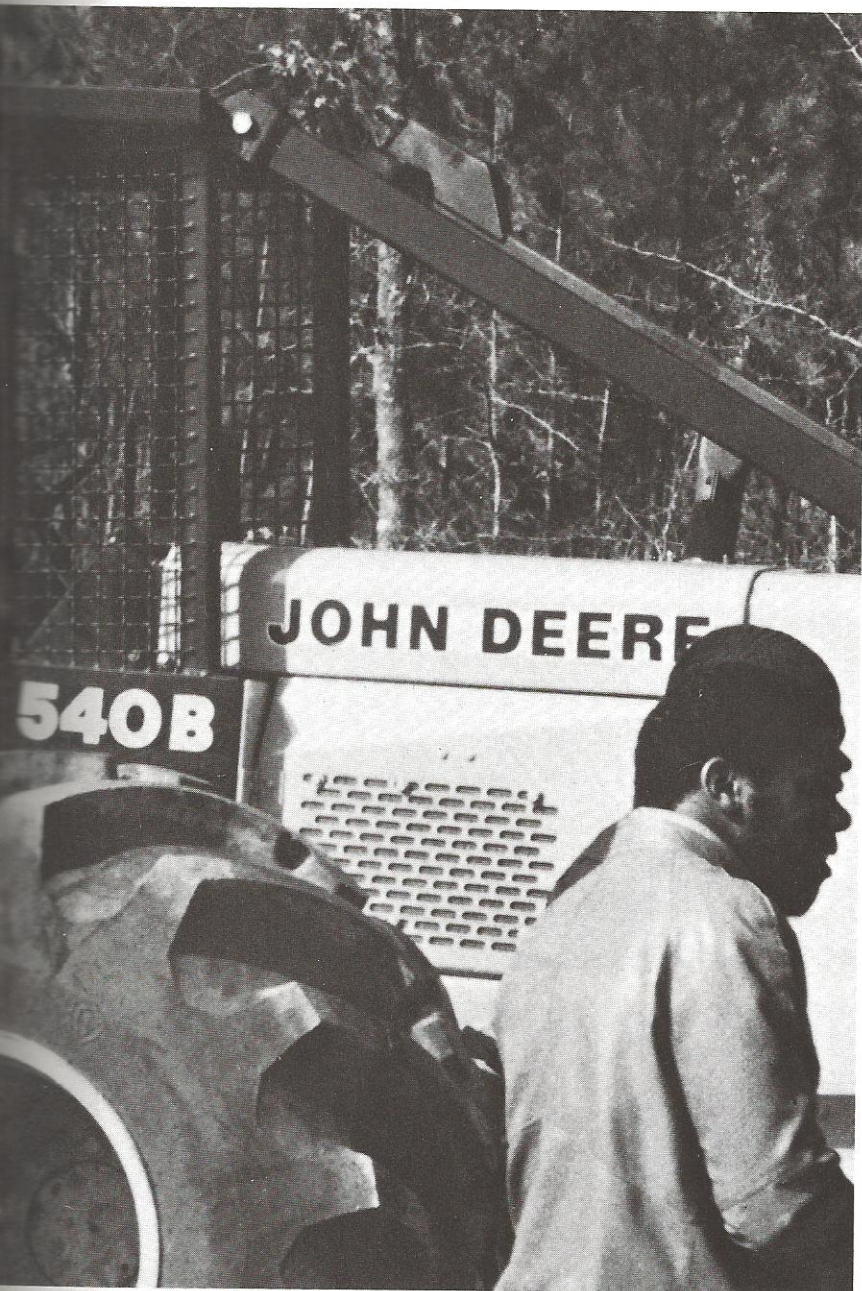

Showing his most diligent expertise in shop is Kyle Beasley.

After a long day's work, Mr. Hubbard takes time to relax.

Out of the Ordinary Industrial Arts

Sewing machines sewed, hammers hammered, ovens baked and saws sawed. It sounded more like a machine than a school. Well, machine shops and kitchens were exactly what they were, at least for 50 minutes a day for the students who chose to take industrial art courses.

During the course of the day, students often got tired of the same old routine but going to these classes made the day more exciting. "Being enrolled in an industrial arts class kind of gives a break in the day, and makes the same old routine seem less boring," stated sophomore Kyle Beasley.

Whether one was cooking, hammering, sewing or sawing, these courses gave students the vocational training that they needed or wanted.

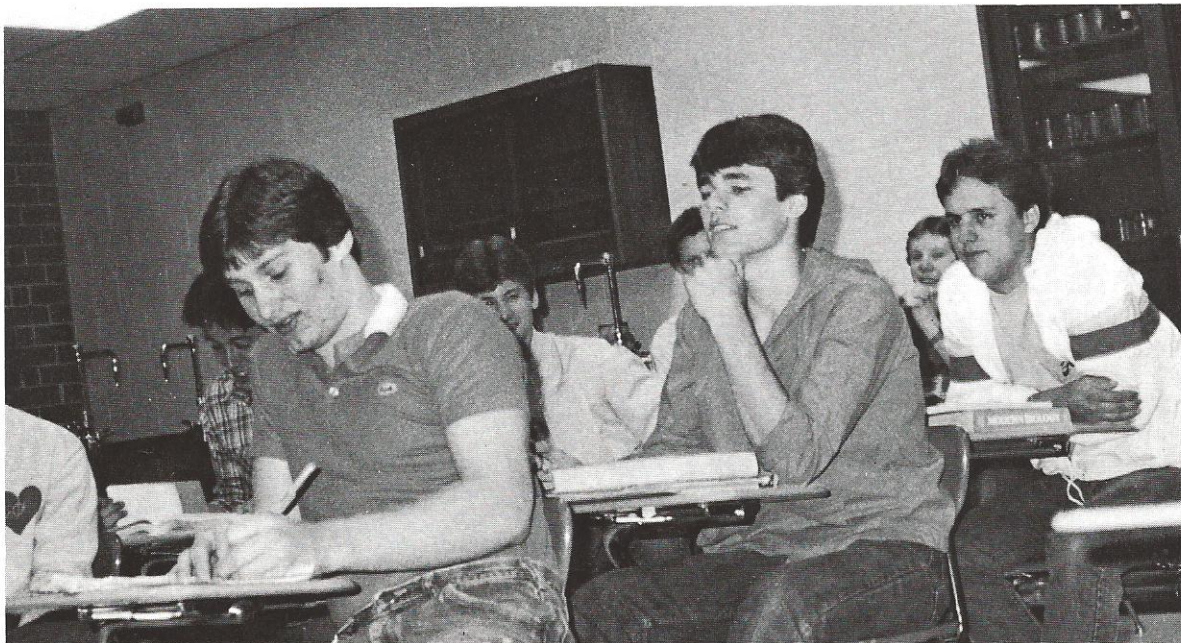

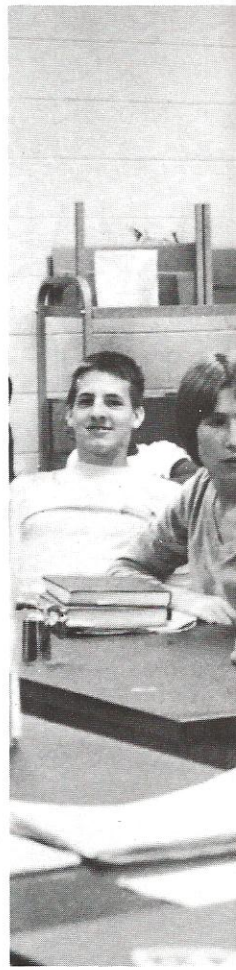

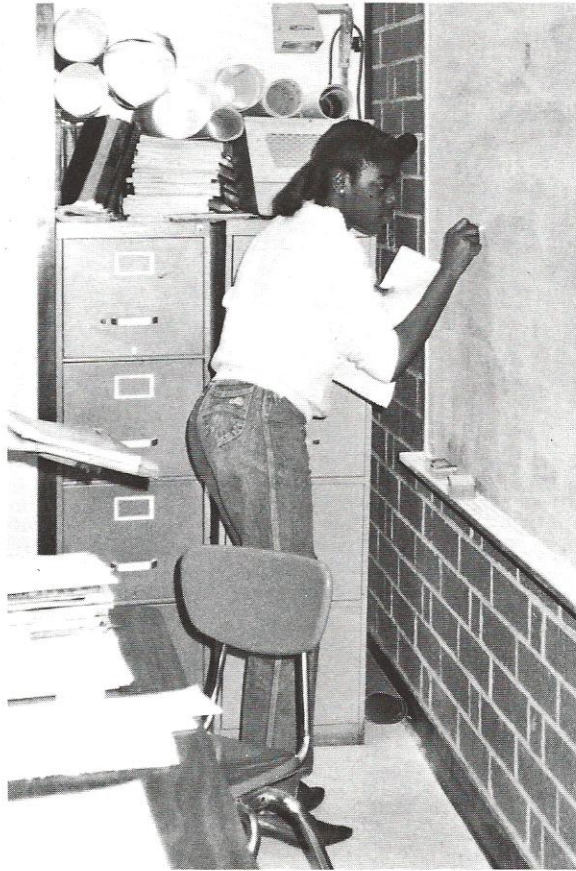

Giving Tony Stephens the cake she has prepared for him is Mrs. Linda Skelton.

Listening to the science lecture are Tami Crosby, Sanaa Taylor, Michael Lunsford.

Displaying a new mathematical operation is an enthusiastic math student.

Showing the class her tadpoles is biology student Michelle Moysey.

It all adds up

Balancing equations, dissecting frogs, mixing chemicals and understanding the speed of a golf ball rolling down a hill were all part of the science department.

With the help of bulletin boards, film strips, tapes, and other various learning aids, teachers made learning science fun. "I enjoyed Mrs. Finney-El's class so much because she made it fun; we didn't go strictly by the book," said freshman Kim Pinnix.

Solving word problems, finding the quotient, measuring the radius of a circle and learning the new tax laws, were all part of the math scene.

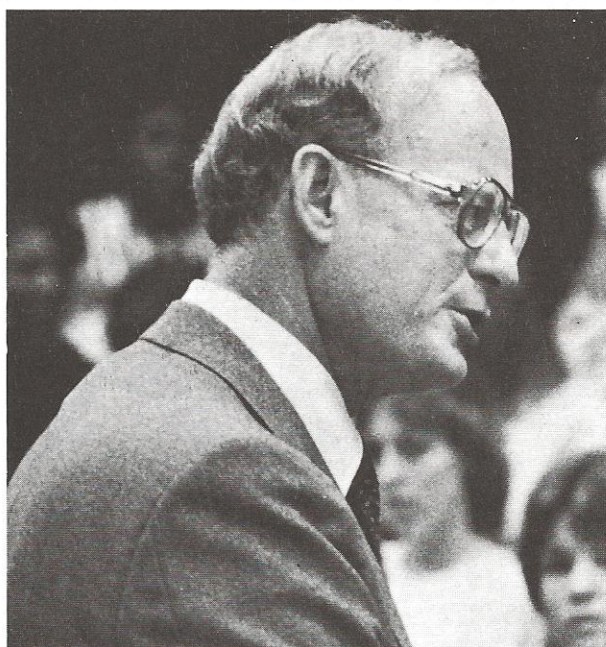

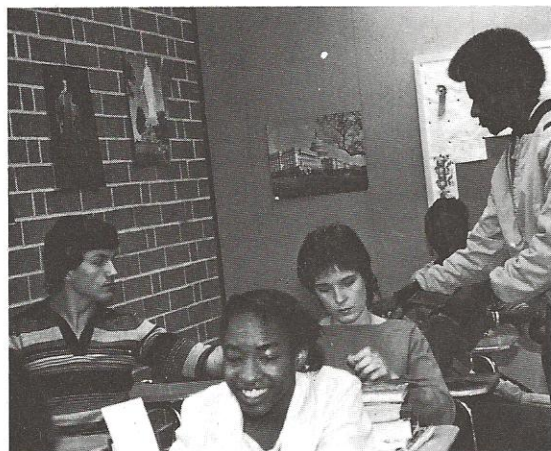

Tough times in Mrs. Elizabeth Murray's Algebra or Mrs. Ottie Allen's calculus were not unusual. The old saying "Students learn best by doing," was clearly proved by most of the educators. Mr. Doug Bullock's students had to fill out actual tax forms. "I learned so much now I can fill out my own tax returns in later years," said Randy Hall.

Whether it was balancing equations in math or science, students had to figure it out and sure enough, it all added up.

Attorney General Travis Medlock speaks to students.

Joseph Fair hands out pamphlets given to him by Mayor Elton Culpepper.

Present, Past and Future . . . we studied it all.

Lectures from Mayor Elton Culpepper and Attorney General Travis Medlock, visits to court, churches and local historical sites made history more than history, government more than government, and psychology more than psychology.

Social Sciences included history, criminology, sociology, American government, psychology, and civics. All helped prepare students in the areas of human relations.

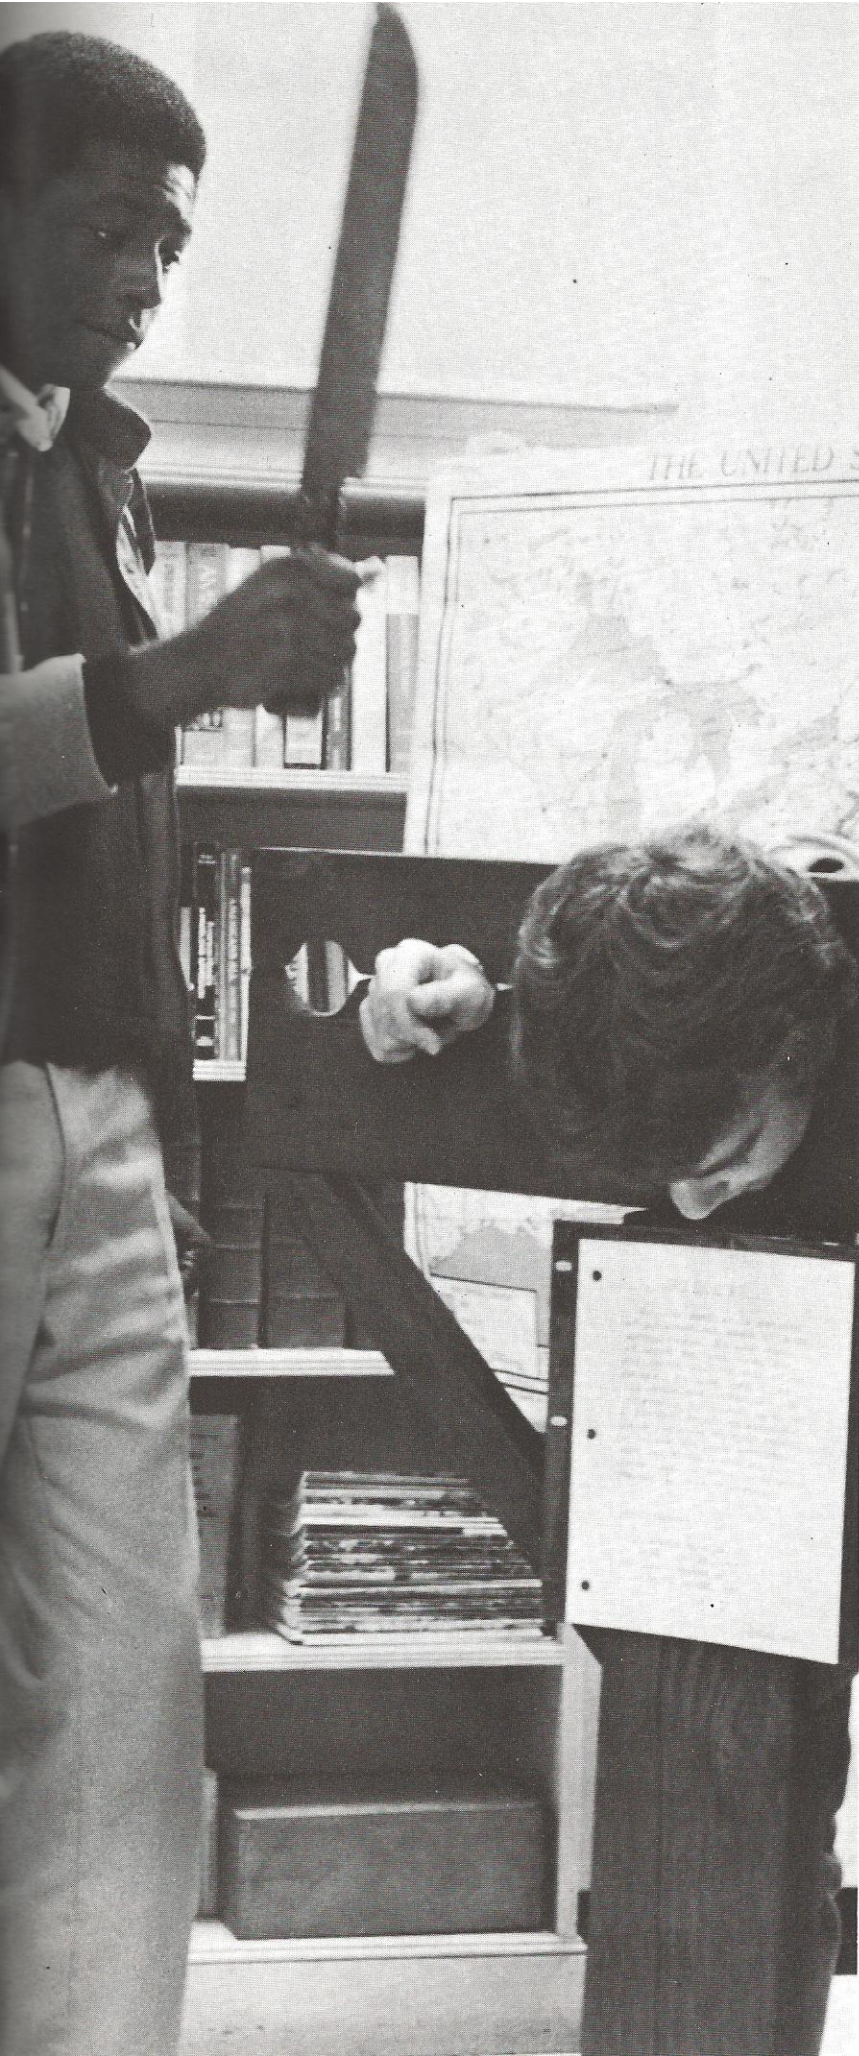

One special program, Crime Prevention, taught students the seriousness and aftermath of various crimes. Civics instructor Vickie Smith stated, "The program really interested students, their grades even improved."

Even though some students felt that social studies was only taken for the needed units, it helped educate them in getting along better with their fellow man.

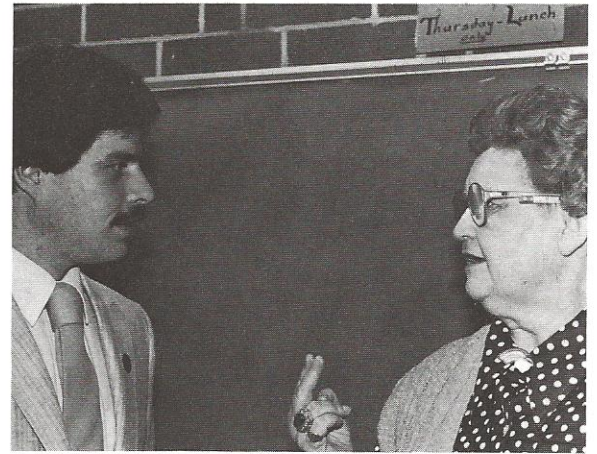

Taking notes in Mr. W.K. Dreyer's class are Rhonda Smoak, Maria Grant and Devon Williams.

Displaying their project for World History are Thomas White and Eric Deloach.

Discussing the plans for the new post office site are Mayor Elton Culpepper and Mrs. Scottie Hook.

"Cousin Betty" is a popular visitor with Mrs. Nell Simmons' History classes.

Hands At Work

Knowledge is the essential key to the learning of any sort of skill. And knowledge would certainly be necessary for those who showed their skill with their hands at vocational school.

The Vocational School covered a number of hand craft skills such as Stenography, Food Service, Mechanics, Masonry, Welding, Electronics, and Carpentry.

These courses offered a lot of different tactics that were faced but ones hands always helped with the work.

In all, Vocational School was beneficial to the mind as well as the busy "hands at work".

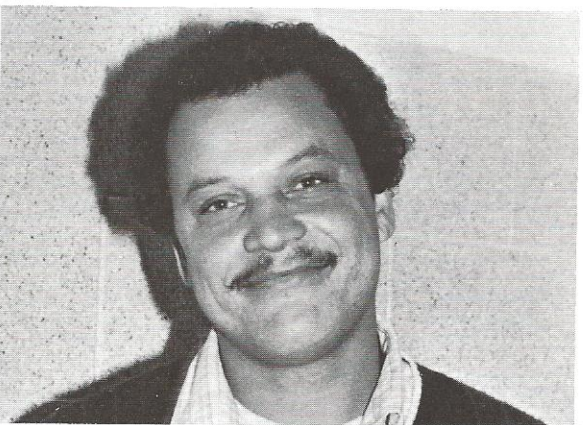

Mr. Chipukities—Head Administrator.
Mr. Bowmar—Carpentry

Eric Deloach and Steve Cook show their electrical skills.

Working diligently on her color wheel is Betty Bellinger.

Setting up the bowling pins is Clifton Tucker while Stacey Roberts waits his turn.

Unloading the last clay pot from the kiln is Bill Hough.

Teaching P.E. students Sonya Walling and Lynn Peters the Modern dance routine is Coach Cathy Layton.

Express Yourself

In your Own Way

Creativity came in many forms. For some it was making a plain sheet of paper a beautiful piece of art work. For others, it was adding modern dance steps to pop music.

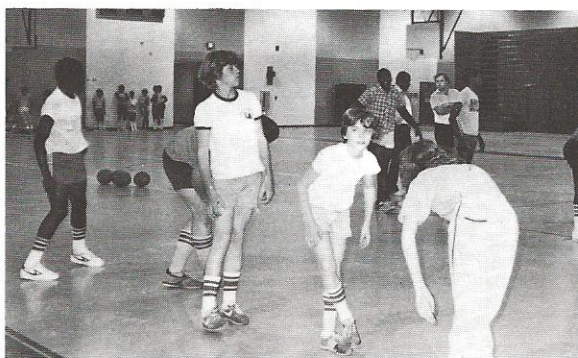

Art was taught on two levels Art 1 and Art II; also an art appreciation course was taught for a half unit. Students worked with oil and water paints, chalk, clay, colored pencils and ink. "Art gives me a way to express myself and increase my talent", said Buri Risher.

Included in the physical education program were basketball, ping-pong, bowling, volleyball, weightlifting, dancing, football, handball, badminton, softball and various exercises to tone the entire body. The way one played a sport often lets him express himself. I work hard in physical education because fitness is very important to one's health state.

However you chose to express yourself, it was fun, educational, colorful, and healthy.

Creating their own version of a still life are Deborah Thomas and Felicia Winfeild.

Warming up before basketball are Kenneth Bridge and Tina Carden.

Singing

A Sound Investment

Sit up straight, be expressive, sing from your diaphragm, and remember to use an oval tone—these were the four points of good singing that made Mrs. Dorothy Mae Buckner's chorus a "sound" investment.

The Walterboro High Performing Chorus was composed of nearly 90 members, and each one worked hard to put on a show better than the one before.

Through the Christmas and Spring Concerts, the chorus and Mrs. Buckner proved that hard work, discipline, and talent could produce a sure first class act.

Practicing for the processional "Hosanna" are chorus I members.

Giving final instructions is director, Dorothy Buckner.

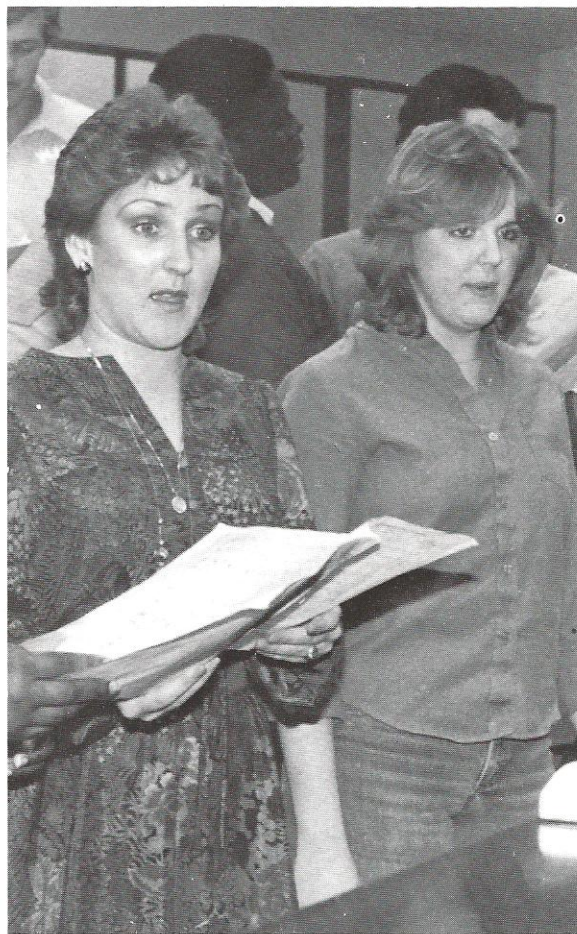

Shielding their candles from the wind are Lynn Boles, and Kelley Whitaker.

Tying up loose ends at dress rehearsal at the auditorium is the performing chorus.

Singing the descant are Elizabeth Belcher and Darlene Walters.

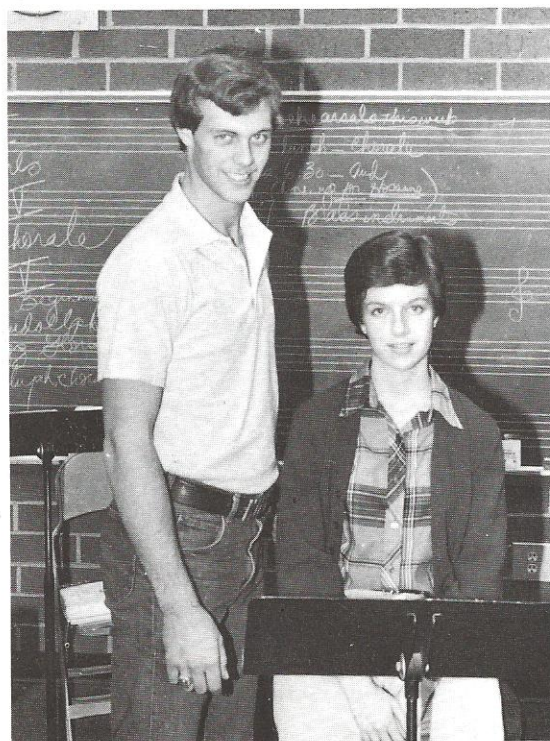

Getting last minute details are Tina Crosby and Deni Godley.

A Fine Combination

In the past thirty years, Mrs. Dorothy Mae Buckner has taught approximately 5,000 students and put on 30 concerts. When asked how she felt about this incredible record, she replied, "Working with youth and music is like double dipping. I have the finest combination when good youth and good music come together to brighten my day."

What made this year's WHS Chorus an exception? An excellent teacher, dedicated students, and good leadership all combined for perfect harmony. The Chorus Concerts consisted of the entire Performing Chorus, Chorus I, Girls Glee Club, Boys Glee Club, and the Chorale.

Student Accompanist: Bert Crosby.

Treasurers: Ruth Deal and Jerri Ann Blakeman.

People

Teachers instructing, students listening, principals discipling, parents encouraging—what did all of these have in common? They were all people, people involved and dedicated to a cause, our school.

From outstanding academic abilities to amazing achievements in sports, every person had a talent to contribute. Those talents were important to the success and well-being of our school.

Walterboro High School was people laughing, people crying, people shouting, people working. Personalities, contributions, and achievements are what made our school a First Class Act.

Looking your best everyday may be the most important aspect to anyone, and this would certainly be true for Yvette Stephens and Kirk Rising.

When asked how they enjoyed the title of "Best Looking", Yvette replied, "Being chosen 'Best Looking' is really important to me because I like it when people give me compliments, and this is the biggest of them all!"

Voted "Best Looking" were Yvette Stephens and Kirk Rising.

Cutest Couples

Sitting in the commons area holding hands, strolling down the halls arm in arm or just gazing into each others' eyes were the ways students usually found Prince Brown and Andrea Williams and Bennie Rowe and Phyllis O'Quinn.

"Prince is so considerate, and he has deep feelings for other people. I think that is the reason we have been going together so long," said Andrea.

"I voted for Prince and Andrea because sometimes when I see them during lunch, they just sit in the commons area for forty whole minutes, just gazing at each other," stated Magdaline Washington.

"I voted for Bennie and Phyllis because it seems that just the mention of the other's name makes them smile," said Penny Badger.

Maybe not right after graduation, but both couples do plan to marry at an uncertain time in the future.

Most Athletic

Tony Stephens and Vermel Williams were voted most athletic.

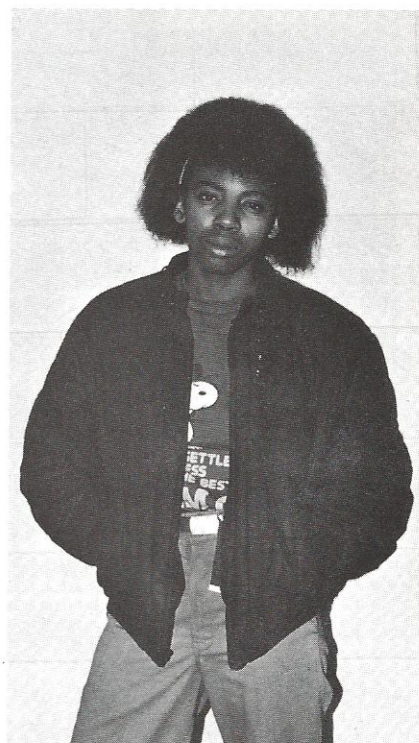

Tony Stephens played football for three years and made All-Conference the past two years. He was selected to play in the Shrine Bowl his senior year and also selected for All-State. Tony is the State Shot Put Champion and he has signed to go to Clemson University on a football scholarship.

Vermel Williams was exceptionally active in volleyball and basketball. She was a productive center in basketball and played many volleyball positions.

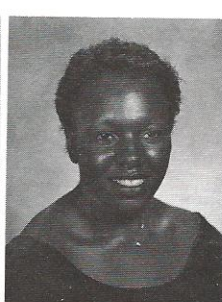

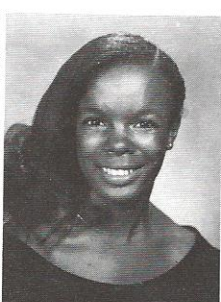

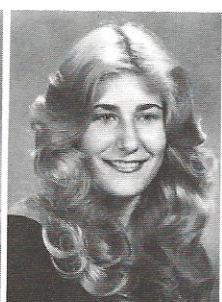

Although there were many senior athletes, these two were selected by their classmates.

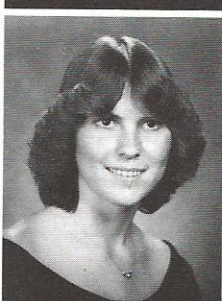

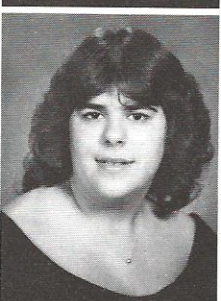

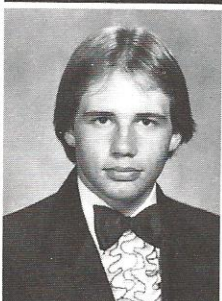

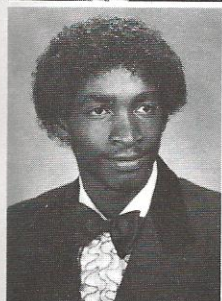

Voted most athletic was Tony Stephens.

Most Likely To Succeed

Elizabeth Belcher, Dan Bodison, and Monique Tracy were elected "Most Likely to Succeed". The students felt that these people would do something good with their lives after completing high school. It was an honor to be chosen.

Elizabeth plans to attend Furman University and major in music education. After college she may teach voice privately or music in the school system. There is a possibility that she may further her music education after college and study for her master's degree.

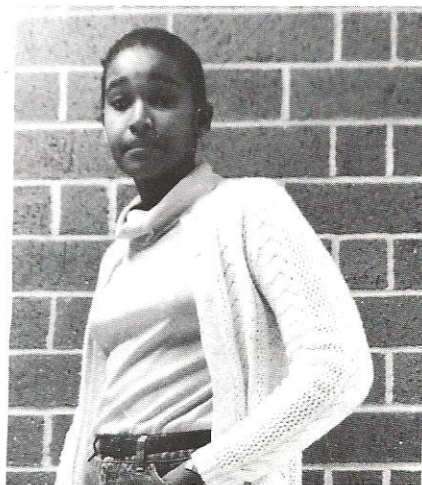

Dan plans to pursue a career in medicine. He said, "I am firm in my resolution to succeed in this career. Helping others

Leaders

The Junior class leaders carried out their offices with ability, service, and leadership. As in the past, the Junior class was primarily responsible for the prom.

When asked what duties each officer was to uphold, class president, Toya Brown replied, "I organize the prom and introduce new ideas to the Junior class." Vice-president Toni Parnell stated, "I help the president in whatever she does." Secretary Tyra Risher commented, "I take minutes and give reports on every meeting." "My job is to care for the financial accounts of the Junior class," expressed Treasurer Renee Hamilton.

Thank Goodness it's Friday Night

When asked what she thought about Friday night's, Mellissa Ammon replied, "It's Friday night and I'm feeling right, friends are all I need tonight!" Her friends quickly seconded that motion.

Whether Friday night plans included parties, mall moods, or cruising with friends, they were always anxiously anticipated.

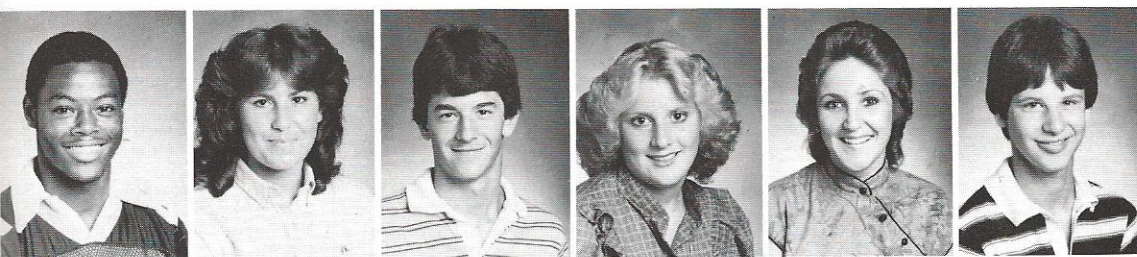

On a Friday night around eight o'clock, Jeffries Boulevard was bright with neon signs, headlights, and friendly faces. Some students chose to date while others kept things casual and just met friends uptown. But whatever the case, Walterboro High's students thought Friday Nights were a first class time.

Romance

When looking in Webster's dictionary, romance was defined as "an emotional attraction." Though technically that may be true, high school students thought of romance as being something different.

Love was youthful; love was pure and honest. It involved feelings of affection for another human being. Feelings which were enduring, like living in a fairy tale world of love and adventure.

Romance has been called the spice of life; the one thing that made each day more worthwhile. Romance was what it was, and always will be.

After Hours

Alabama left, promenade to the right, swing your partner round and round. These were familiar expressions often heard at a square dance.

Vonalyn Phillips explained, "Square dancing is a clean, inexpensive type of dance that partners can do together."

Vonalyn enjoyed a number of hobbies including forestry, cooking, hunting and fishing. "The best thing about cooking is being able to try out new and different recipes on other people," said Vonalyn.

An interesting fact about Vonalyn was that she cooked on a wood burning stove.

"I like forestry, hunting, and fishing because they are out of doors activities and I can be close to God," stated Vonalyn.

These hobbies make life enjoyable for Vonalyn Phillips.

Living Ads

A money bag, a Camaro, or a giant star sitting on top of a hat? The adorned hats were accompanied with the tuxedo look and black fish-net stockings. This was the look of the '83 Variety living ads.

The girls had to live through six days of taking up tickets, parading on stage for the audience and listening to the laughs and snickers. Lori Maddox exclaimed, "My hat was so heavy, it even left an imprint on my head!" "I couldn't believe that we had to wear bright, red lipstick," said Christa Gilgen.

Letters . . . were worth the effort.

One of the most important moments in the life of a high school athlete was the day he received his letter. A letter was the reward for athletes who excelled in their particular sport. It sets you apart from the crowd and makes you somebody.

Earning a letter was more difficult in some sports than it was in others. Some sports required a certain amount of playing time while in other sports, just making the team qualified you for a letter. Making the team, however, wasn't always that easy.

The letter, a big W, was the same for all sports. Each sport was represented by a pin which was worn attached to the letter. The promise of a letter was an inspiration to many young athletes to strive to be their best.

What Makes Us Great?

This year the sophomore class proved they were a first class act. Their spirit at pep rallies, football games, and assemblies helped. They participated in Student Council activities and elections, . . . they held dances and other activities, and gave their best when asked.

When it came to spirit, the sophomore class officers had it. These officers worked hard for their class and performed their assigned duties well. When Vice President Glenis Mosley was asked how she felt about the sophomore class spirit she replied, "The spirit was outstanding. It challenges the rising sophomores to match ours."

Valley Talk

Like, that's totally grody to the max, gag me with a spoon.

No, Valley Talk is not a foreign language or a secret code, but words and phrases used by a group of teenagers ranging from 14 to 17 years old. Vals had their own special style of dress, behavior and vocabulary.

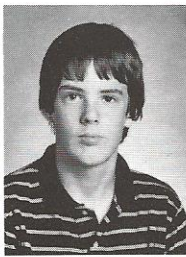

We didn't have very many 100% Valley girls (or guys) around here. But of course every once in a while you'd see a mini skirt, ruffles or bows.

If one is really interested in Valley Talk, then these terms do not sound "far out" to you. Mega, monda, super, totally, to the max; all these mean very or extremely. A beatie is a loser; an airhead is a super dumb person; a jel is both dumb and weird. Groovy is something (or someone) that is really old. Grody expresses something as yucky, ugly or grotesque.

Cruisin'

We get around

"Cruisin' is taking us away to where we wanna be," is the revised version of a famous song that applied to many of W.H.S.'s driving students. However, some weren't crusin' to where they wanted to be, but rather to where they had to be, such as school.

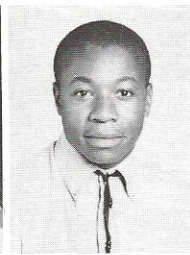

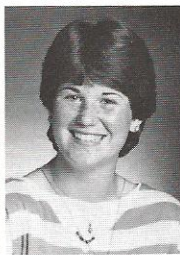

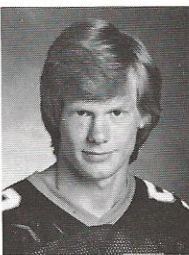

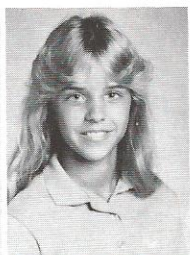

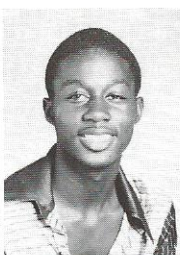

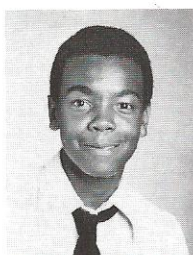

In a small town such as Walterboro, cruisin' was just about the only thing students had to do on weekends and after school. They cruised to friends' houses, to school, and uptown. They cruised up and down Jefferies Boulevard, the main drag, and cut Sonic on every go-around. In short, cruisin' made our days and nights a first class time.

Weekends

What teenagers need to know.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday were the days we had to relax after a fatiguing week. But did we really relax, or was our relaxation just as much "work" as our work?

On Fridays we came to school "pepped up" to enjoy the last day of the week. We enjoyed the day by talking too much in class and planning our weekend.

On the lazy days, Saturdays and Sundays, we picked up our friends, drove down town, and gave the merchants a rough time.

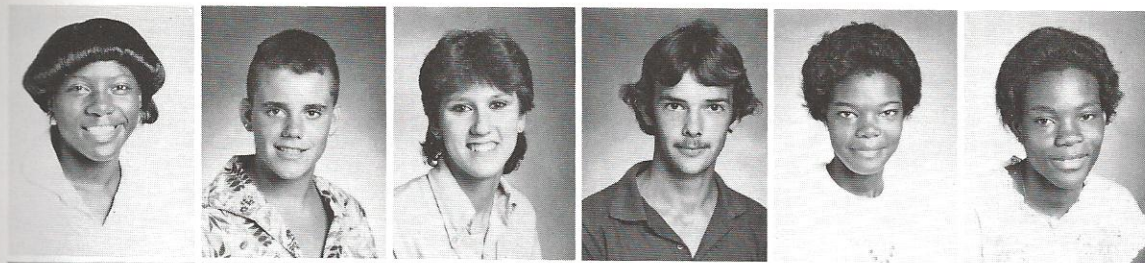

Saturday nights were for movie watching, babysitting, and dates. We never let up and our schedule only got heavier.

As it turned out, our weekends were about as restful as our week but we enjoyed them nevertheless and had a First Class time.

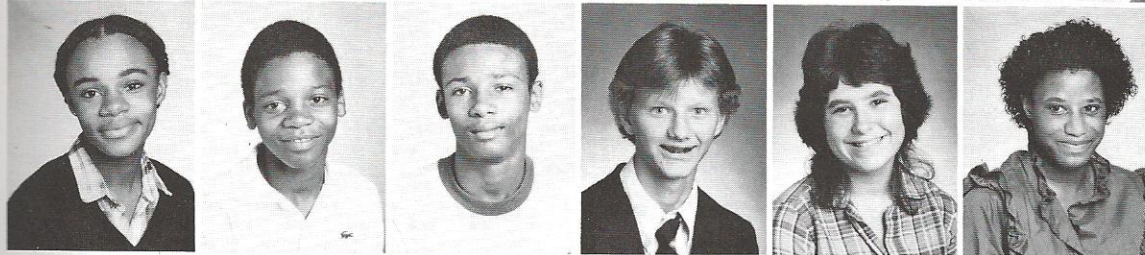

Saying good night to Jeff Benson after a Friday night party are Theresa Smith and John Nugent.

The Computer Revolution

Everywhere you looked these days, there was a computer in use in one form or another. There were computers being used in game rooms, small operating businesses and even police stations. Computers were beginning to become so large that they seemed to take over everyone's job. But, they have not been able to take over labor jobs.

The video games in which we emptied all of our quarters into were also considered computers. The video games have made a big market for computers. For the year of '82, they have totaled up to a sale of 8.2 billion dollars and its increasing.

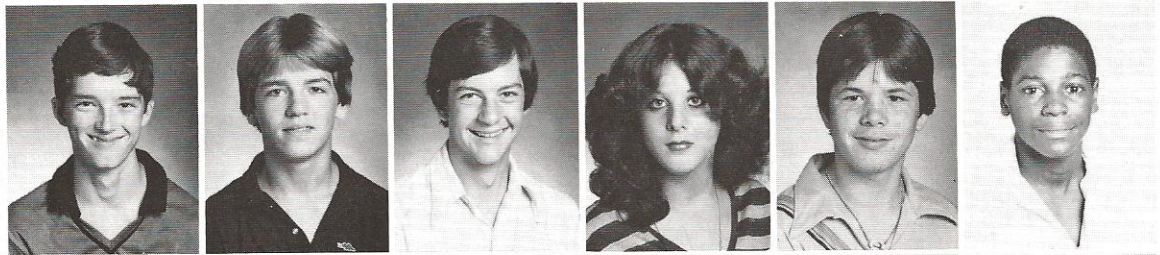

Since computers were coming in as a new form of doing things quick and easy, the everyday world seemed to be adopting to the process.

The Extra Terrestrial

They waited in line for an hour maybe two, to see it. In some areas, they spent up to $6.00 to see it. Tammy Adams even said, "It was the best!"

No, it wasn't a beauty contest, nor was it Homecoming, nor was it even a John Cougar concert. It was E.T.!

Though it didn't get to the Cook Theatre until early fall, people of all ages, races and sexes came to see the box office smash.

E.T., directed by Stephen Spielberg, grossed over 250 million dollars. "Though the prices for the movie went up while E.T. was here, I didn't mind paying it. The movie was definitely worth it," stated Lisa Andrews.

After the release of the popular picture, E.T. was seen everywhere: dolls, board games, Atari games, clothes and posters. Even though E.T. went home, his cute face will be remembered by all who watched, 'E.T. Go Home.'

Talented Sophomore

Not being able to speak or hear was no handicap for Chris Davis when he walked into Mrs. Zielke's third period art class. Chris began studying art formally last year, after his teacher, Mary Johnson, had noticed his unusual talent. Mrs. Johnson made sure that Chris got into an art class right away. He's been doing well ever since.

Last fall Chris won two ribbons at the annual fall sidewalk art show and his work was always on display at school. Mrs.

Zielke, Chris's Art II teacher, said, "Chris was really a pleasure to have in class, for he was not afraid to experiment or try new techniques." The other students in class have enjoyed knowing Chris, some even checked out books on sign language so that they could communicate better.

"Chris learned a lot in his third period art class, but the students and myself have learned just as much from this cheerful, likeable young man," said Mrs. Zielke.

Office Helpers

Most students tried to get out of work and some students never thought of doing work for nothing. Our school had some students who never thought of turning down work that would help someone else. Who were these people? These were office workers! These students worked hard but didn't get any compensation. They gave their time to the office and to the school.

Working in the office also had its advantages. Students learned what working in an office was like and also got to know how the school system worked.

These students worked together to make the office system a First Class operation.

Freshman Officers

Trying to get things on the right track was typical of every meeting. Members discussed possible fund raisers only to have advisors, the weather, and other problems slow them down.

"We tried to make the best we could of the year, and I think we did a super job!", said freshman class treasurer Kim Hendricks.

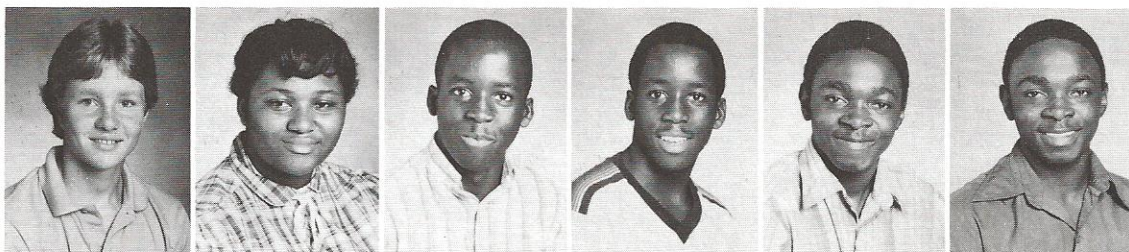

"I felt really good about my decision to vote for Leslie Williams for President. She has shown exceptional leadership qualities," stated Kathy Lawson. Whether it was representing the freshman class or planning an activity, all had to learn the ropes of student council. As Freshman Nicole Varnadoe said "They helped make our year great!"

The Love of Their Lives

What does nine and one mean to you? Well, it meant a whole football season to the J.V. football players of 82-83. The J.V. football players fought a hard battle this year and came out with winning hands.

"This year's J.V. football season," said Freddie Hamilton, "was full of pride and purpose." The J.V. football players held their heads high with pride because they knew they played 'First Class' games. Theresa Wright, a J.V. cheerleader said, "They practiced hard for their games and put alot of team spirit into them, which helped them win." But, with all their wins, the J.V. had a great loss. They lost a very important and admired player, Paul Humphries, whom every player will miss. But the J.V. did have a season that was the love of their life, and they will forever remember it.

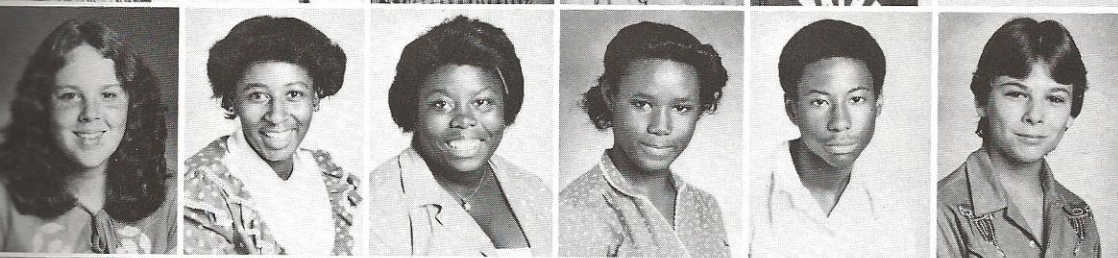

Showing off his running ability, Steve Riggins really glides with ease around his opponents.

New Kid on the Block

"Becoming a Freshmen was a kind of scary experience," said Felicia Martin. All those older upperclassmen roaming the halls really scared a nervous newcomer.

Seniors for years had been more like the moms and dads away from home for the underclassmen here at W.H.S. As one Senior Sharon Williams stated, "We had the responsibility to see that the newcomers felt welcomed." Giving simple directions or just being nice were some of the services granted to our newcomers. Like normal parents, Seniors gave their kids some discipline, but it went along with welcoming Freshmen into their big family at W.H.S.

Hot Rodders

Many associated fast cars with fast and unsafe driving. But this was not true for Chad Simons and Andy McClure. Chad Simons owned a '68 Camaro with many special parts, such as a 427 Chevy engine and a Turbon 400 transmission. Andy takes pride in his '57 Chevy. Chad plans to race his car in the eighth mile back at Cooper river dragstrip and the fourth mile track in Orangeburg.

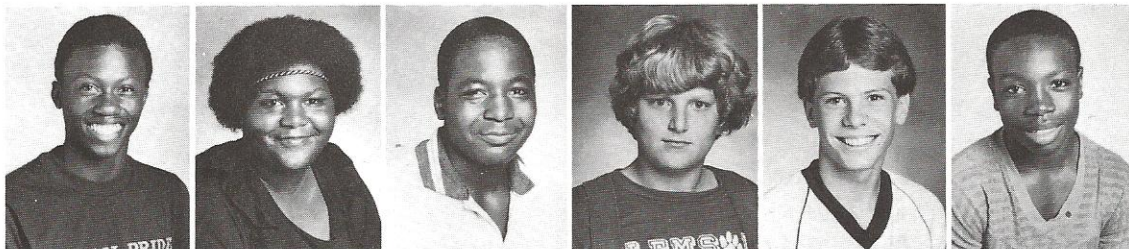

When asked why he enjoyed fixing up old cars, Chad replied, "New cars are all plastic, older cars are more of a challenge, and the finished product is more rewarding."

Rookies

When asked what was the hardest part of being a rookie in the Band of Blue, Karen Mannercak replied, "The hardest part to me was learning how to march and play at the same time, but later on it got easier."

To most people, being a rookie seemed hard, but it paid off if you won the Rookie of the Year award. Michelle Williams expressed her thoughts on being selected for the award. "I was shocked! I wasn't expecting it because I didn't think I was good enough."

The thing rookies were glad about was new rookies were finally selected.

Delphine Burns said, "I felt it would be fun to make new friends. Now we know how it felt to be a rookie and we'd like to make the new members feel at home."

Rookies were a very important part of the band, for through them the band continued to grow, continued to improve, and continued to be first class.

Physical Education

First exercise: Jumping Jacks. Ready Position, Exercise. 1,2,3,1; 1,2,3,2; . . .

Freshmen definitely dreaded taking P.E. as a first year course. They were afraid of people laughing at them in shorts but P.E. was very good for their health.

Students engaged in such activities as baseball, football, archery, volleyball, softball, routine exercises. Handball, weight lifting, foursquare bowling, and dancing.

Students performed a dance routine as part of their physical education.

The Special Olympics

Everyone is a Winner

The Special Olympics was a program designed for the handicapped. It included a number of schools who brought many participants to compete in different sporting events.

Another part of this program included student volunteers from W.H.S. and R.H.S. which helped with the different sporting events and with lunch preparations.

This program was helpful to its participants because it gave them a feeling of confidence and in those games of competition, no one lost.

Administration

Principals and assistant principals alike helped maintain a uniform, standard of discipline.

Principals were always around when they were needed. They could be found upstairs

(Mr. Barnhill), downstairs (Mr. Carter), and outside (Mr. Murray). Principal Mack Jones and Curriculum Coordinator John Stephens were housed in the main office.

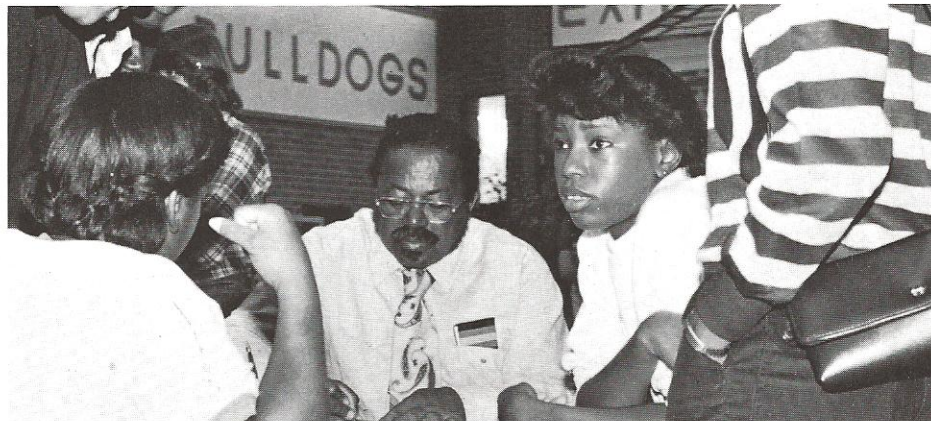

Mr. Jones and the assistant principals all helped to strengthen the school and created a first class act.

Almost 100 Retiring Teachers

Tough typing tests for Mrs. Amanda Smith, research papers for Mrs. Virginia vonLehe, and cross-stitching in Mrs. Catherine Robbins class, all of these things were never to be done again.

The teachers retired this year after 90 years combined teaching and were honored at a banquet held on May 25th. They were also honored at graduation with a scholarship put in Mrs. Virginia vonLehe's name. Funds came from donations made by former students.

These teachers have left lasting impressions on all students that they taught. All three of the retiring teachers say that they love young people and will miss them very much.

Organizations

It's fun to belong

Who joins clubs?

One who was interested in crime prevention or good citizenship might. A student looking into the future might sign up with a career explores group or the Future Teachers of America Club. The Future Farmers of America was an excellent group for those persons interested in the future of agriculture. The Pep Club was a great opportunity for spirited people to display their enthusiasm. Whomever the person and whatever their interest, it seemed a W.H.S. club could offer something for everyone.

Clubs were a good opportunity for students to relax and break the monotony of a tiring routine. On the first and second Wednesday of each month, 45 minutes was taken off the morning schedules for Group I and II Clubs. Walterboro High School had 28 clubs and two additional organizations, Student Council and National Honor Society.

Though some clubs required fees, afternoon practices, or extra effort, students readily complied with stipulations and gave willingly to make their organization a First Class Act.

National Honor Society

This years chapter of the National Honor Society has strived to be unique, to do things no other group before us had done.

To help us attain that goal we sponsored such projects as a Halloween Party for the children at the Walterboro Child Development Center and a drive to provide the underprivileged children of Colleton County a merrier Christmas by collecting gifts. This not only included the N.H.S. but was successful in getting the whole student body involved.

Then again in March it was back to the child development center for an Easter Egg Hunt.

This years N.H.S. was also unique in the fact that this was the first year in which sophomores were inducted. The N.H.S. felt that the early years of high school were very important and if sophomores were inducted it would give them and their underclassmen an incentive to strive for Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character.

Working 9 to 5

Future Business Leaders of America developed leadership, aggressiveness, and competence in order to ready themselves for a position in today's business world.

Persons enrolled in typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping were eligible for membership in the Club. President—Tammy Walling, V. President—Pam Scoggins, Secretary Treasurer—Phyllis Walling and Project Chairman, Sonya Mixson worked hard in order to create a business like atmosphere and achieve the goals of the club.

Future Homemakers of America were also preparing for competence in their positions as homemakers. Officers were President—Robert Taylor, V-President—Audrey Ford, Secretary—Yvette Stephens, Reporter—Tammy Doctor.

During the FHA meeting, future home makers are listening attentively.

Open Eyes and Ears

The broadcasting Club under the leadership of Mr. Chisolm had a disappointing year. The group had scheduled two important club activities, a trip to Carowinds, and a few minutes on the air at WALD. Both events had to be cancelled. The radio show because WALD went satellite, and the trip, because it was rained out.

With advisors, Mrs. Godwin, Mrs. Dowdy, and Mrs. Muckenfuss and the Audio-Visual club, the Media Center was run with ease and efficiency.

Ancient Tounges

The WHS History Club centered its activities around early American life, the homes, basic tools, needs and wants. The highlight of the year for the History Club was a trip to Middleton Gardens where the students viewed the beautiful gardens.

The Foreign Language Club strived to help students understand some of the many languages of the world. Their highlight was a trip to Ladson, South Carolina, for a foreign language fair.

Advisor Mrs. O'Briant prepares for the Foreign Language club meeting.

Get in gear and Make a Move

The importance of the Bus Drivers Club and the Sportsmanlike Driving Club was to help members become responsible persons on and off the road.

The new road posed problems in managing the buses but most were overcome by rerouting.

The Sportsmanlike Driving Club planned two educational trips.

Mad Scientists

Science club members were introduced to a higher understanding of science through class discussions and a trip to the Epcott Center. In order to join the group, you must have had an 85 average and a letter from your present science teacher.

The objectives of the Jets Club was to encourage pre-college level students to excel in their studies and to emphasize college preparatory courses in math, science, and communicative skills.

The main project of the Jets was to tutor students in areas in which they needed help.

For the Future of the People

When thinking of the future, it came easy to most students. But some of us had to make decisions dealing with our careers this year.

Students in the future profession clubs said their reason for joining the FTA and the Military club was to find out if they would enjoy their chosen vocation. "They discovered," said Robin Rutan, "that it wasn't as easy as they thought; there were many things to learn, and it will take a while to learn and experience them all." Most of them enjoyed the idea of pursuing these careers.

Student Council was an organization made up of representatives from each homeroom class, and officers elected from the student body. The class officers and "key" persons on the yearbook staff were considered members of the Student Council.

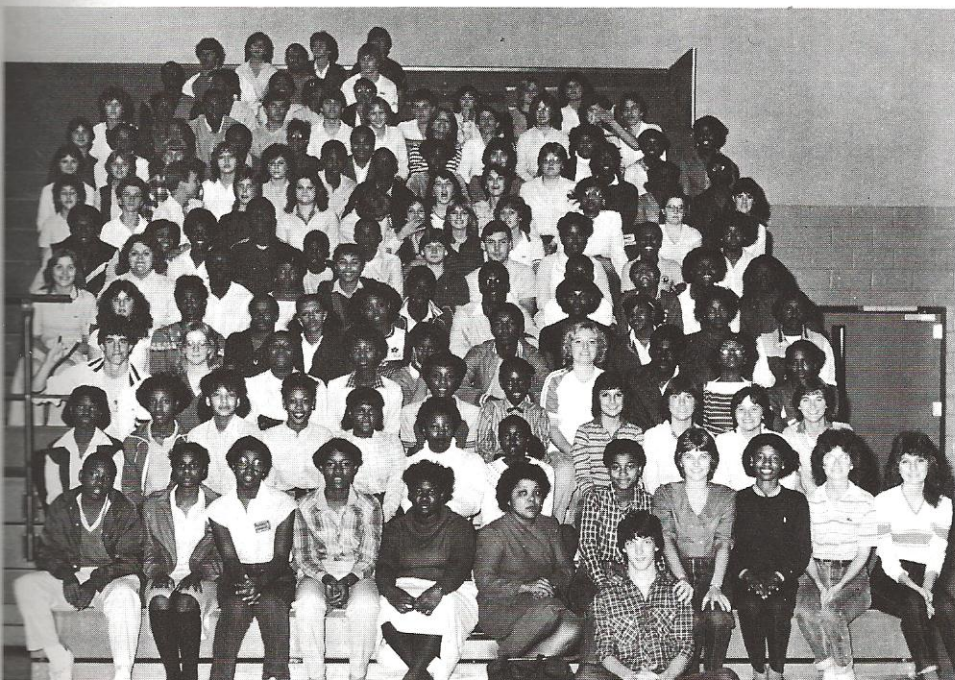

Several members of the Student Council organized a work shop for the purpose of discussing changes in the constitution and outlining objectives for the coming year.

The annual Student Council installation of officers was held on September 29, 1982. On November 3, 1982, Monique Tracy and the Student Council hosted a district rally at the Recreation Center. Schools from Charleston and Beaufort counties were represented.

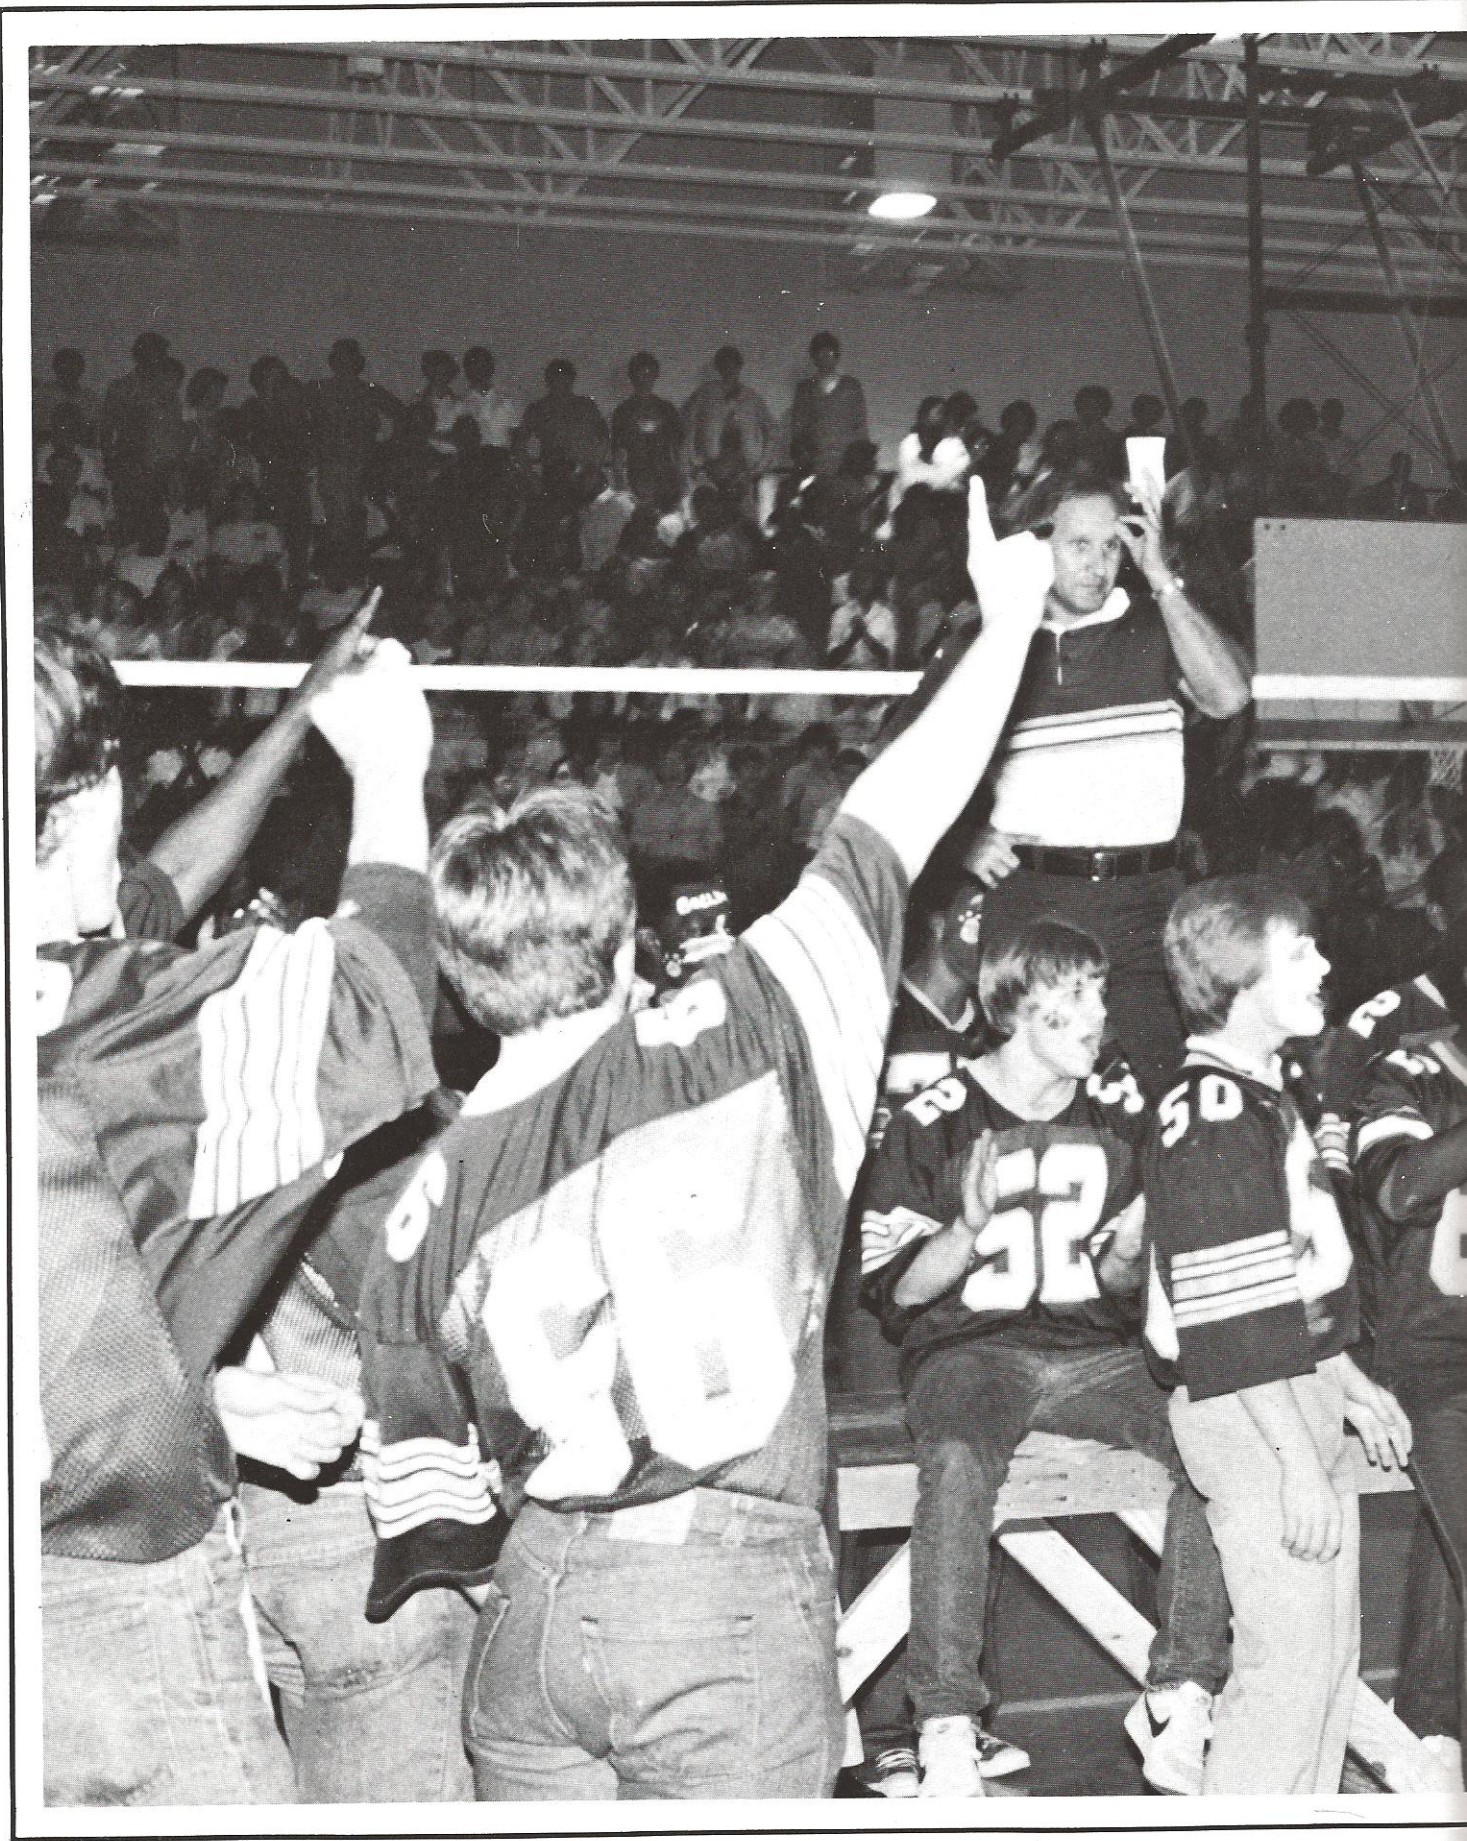

Less than one month later, Student Council sponsored the "Blood-mobile." Three weeks after the bloodmobile was sponsored, they sponsored the Miss WHS Pageant. The King and Queen of Hearts Contest was the last pageant of the year. Student Council then began to prepare for their Annual Award's Night Banquet.

A Season of Teamwork

Two, four, six, eight—who do we appreciate? The Bulldogs!

Atheletes and fans alike are an important part of the sporting act. The loyal fans gave the tired atheletes the boost they needed to take them to the top. And that's just what the Dogs did—they took it to the top.

Throughout the summer sweat, the tearful losses, and the winning smiles, the Bull dogs proved that hard practice, dedication and sportsmanship produced a First Class Act.

Eat, Sleep, Think Football

Before the season, the bulldogs worked all spring and summer lifting weights in the new weight room preparing for the upcoming season.

The dawgs left for camp at Erskine College in early August. That's where the hard work began. The dawgs had to build a new offensive line, backfield, and defensive secondary.

"As a senior, camp was fun this year even though all we did was eat, sleep, and think football," said quarterback-fullback Mike Hardee.

The Walterboro Bulldogs, with high hopes for a successful season marched into Johnson Hagood Stadium to do battle with Baptist Hill in the Annual Sertoma Classic.

Within the span of twelve minutes, the dogs had scored twice. Once from 6 yards and once from the 15 with Willie Frazier (22) doing the honors.

The dogs ran onto the field, fired up and spirited, they also ran off that way after defeating the top ten Orangeburg Wilkinson team 9-0. Late in the first quarter Mike Hardee (11) nailed a 27 yard field goal to take a 3-0 lead. In the third quarter O-W had the ball on their 12 yard line. On third and eight, the O-W quarterback dropped back to pass. Intercepting the pass was Ernie Wright (20) who raced 25 yards for the touchdown.

Starting off right

The week that followed their victory over O-W, Walterboro celebrated their second win and shut out of the season. They defeated the Beaufort Eagles 2-0.

The dawgs took the opening kickoff and drove down the field only to be stopped. It was one of those ever popular mud battles that caused a stalemate till the third quarter. The Beaufort punter was back deep in his own endzone to punt. A high snap and a powerful Bulldog rush caused the punter to be pounced on by Franklin McCoy, Tony Stephens and Greg Kinsey, breaking the deadlock score. This victory moved the dawgs up to eighteenth in the state.

It was just like playing on an enormous sponge. "All we could do was dig in and do battle," said guard Kevin Whitaker.

Putting another victory under their belts, the dawgs defeated the Wando Warriors, 20-6 by a tough Bulldog defense and a quick scoring offense. The dawgs scored twice in the second quarter with Willie Frazier scooting in from 9 yards out and with 1:54 remaining in the half. Mike Hardee hooked up with Ronnie Colson for a 2-yard touchdown pass.

In the third quarter Garrett Carter plunged in for a touchdown from a yard out.

Being 3-0 and tenth in the state, the dawgs pursued another victory by defeating the state champions Berkeley Stags 17-14 in a breath taking game that went down to the last second. In the 2nd half Mike Hardee drilled a 37 yard field goal that set a school record. With a 4-0 record, the dawgs ran high with spirit.

Cradling a ball, Ronnie Colson (88) catches the first touchdown pass of the season.

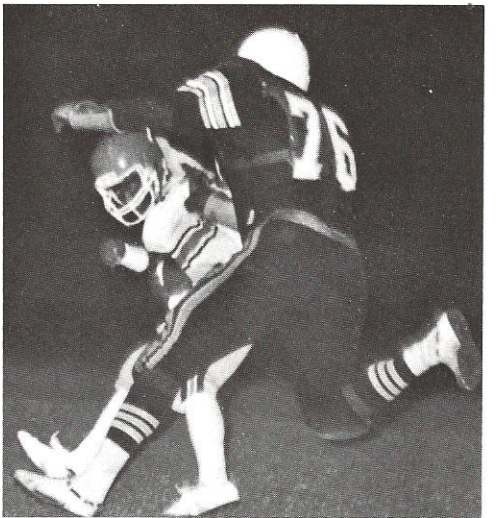

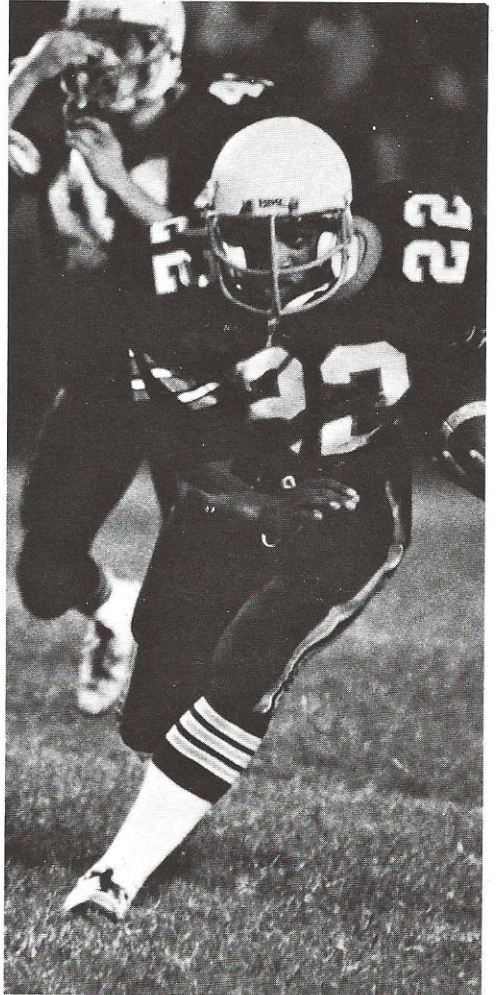

Fighting for the ball is Ernie Wright (20).

Cutting back for extra yardage, Willie Frazier (22) outruns everybody for a T.D.

Running down the quarterback, Tony Stephens (76) demolishes O-W's quarterback for a 20 yard loss.

With a 4-0 record and sixth in the state, the Walterboro Bulldogs fought a tough battle against the Middleton Razorbacks, who were ranked seventh. It was a defensive battle throughout the game with Middleton winning 7-0.

"It was a tough game all the way, but we just made one little mistake, said defensive end Franklin McCoy.

Homecoming night was an exciting game. Walterboro defeated the Burke Bulldogs 40-0 and ended the season 6-4. Greg Teasedale (32) scored on a 44 yard run off-tackle. Jeff Caldwell (41) did the honors next. He scooted 50 yards for the score. Then on first and ten, Garrett Carter (7) threw a 35 yard bomb to Ronnie Colson (17) for another T.D. Ernie Wright (20) wanted some of the action too. He picked off a pass and sprinted 40 yards down the right sideline for another Bulldog score. "It was a great season and I loved it, but I thought we should of won a few more games," said Jeff Caldwell.

Steve Carter, offensive coordinator recalled the season as follows. "I thought we had a good season but not good enough. The first four games were more than satisfying. The fifth game was a bad turning point which included injuries to key players. We started to regroup at the Goose Creek game but by then we had players sick. We weren't healthy in the playoffs either and didn't play to well. All in all I actually had more fun coaching these kids because they were so eager to learn."

Giving 110% and then some

The time had come. The long summer days of practice had ended. The hard work and dedication showed that this truly was "The year of the pup."

In the seasons opener, they traveled to Orangeburg where they began their championship season by soundly defeating the Baby Bruins.

The Bullpups rolled on like a hurricane, getting stronger each game, Beaufort, Wando, and Berkeley.

The most difficult game of the season was the match up of the two conferences most powerful teams, Fort Johnson-James Island, and the Bullpups. The Bullpups triumphed but not without loss. The starting quarterback, Benji McCoy, was taken out for the season because of a broken collar bone. Stepping into the position was Sylvester Bowman who kept the Bullpups on the winning track.

Even though they had a loss to Summerville, "The Best Year Ever," described the Bullpups season with their 9-1 record. When the season was completed the J.V. team had captured the conference Championship.

Finest Season Ever

This was a year of discontent in the National Football League. Coach Doug Bullock, head football coach of the J.V. stated, "I can assure you that we won't be on strike. Our boys want to play football." That's just what they did. The Bullpups had the finest season ever in the history of the Walterboro Junior Varsity program.

One of the teams strong points this year was its returning sophomores. Almost one half of this years team was made up of experienced 10th graders. When asked how he felt about the prospects for next year's season,

Coach Rusty Adams, offensive coordinator for the Bullpups said, "First we're hoping for alot of kids to come out next year and secondly, if we can get the kind of commitment we had this year we should be back on the winning track."

Benji McCoy, quarterback for the Bullpups commented, "We had a great season this year. The B-Team is sending up alot of good players making up for many of the sophomores who are moving on to varsity." Next year looks pretty good.

Trying to strip the ball, Kenneth Fryer and Thomas Washington go for it.

Soccer

The Kick is Back, and getting stronger.

Although this was the second season of soccer at WHS, it was still a new sport. There's no question that the soccer Dogs did improve significantly over a winless first season. They beat North Charleston and Orangeburg, tied a surprised H.E. McCracken team, and lost 13. The biggest game of the season came when the Dogs lost to a strong James Island team (now conference champs) by a score of only 1 to 3. Only 4 of these defeats were shutouts.

Anthony Woods and Chris Legourd gave the Dogs alot of opportunities at midfield.

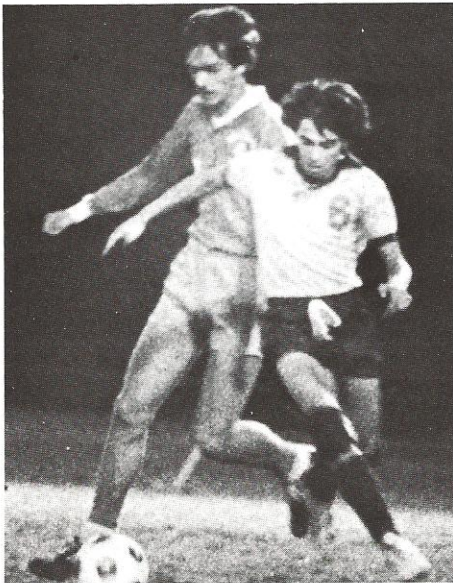

Timmy Geathers, Elijah McNeil, Charles Pinckney, Dale Hoover, and Craig Williams, played offense for the Dogs.

Walterboro relied on a strong defense. Fullbacks; Garrett Carter, Rolfe Martin, Richard MacLean, and Robert Clark and goalies; Grover Owens and Michael Carter, were all part of what the fans called the "Smurf Defense".

"I just hope we can improve as much next season as we did this year", said Coach Bob Williamson.

Cross Country

Running Long and Hard

The Cross Country team coached by John Clark was the first in Walterboro High's history.

Running long, hard miles for a few hours each day was the routine before meets. "Running, running, and more running was what we did, but it was fun. I thought the season was great; it was tough, but it was worth it", stated Elijah McNeil.

The course that the players ran on was usually marked off with chalk and 3.1 miles long. Three team members qualified for the State Cross Country Meet. Chris Legourd placed 14th with his best time of 16:30. Elijah McNeil came in 23rd and Jody Crider 27th.

At the Region 6-AAAA meet Chris Legourd placed first followed by Elijah McNeil and Jody Crider.

Considering the team's newness, the outcome was good; expressed Chris Legourd. Though Cross Country was not the Boston Marathon it was just as demanding for the new runners.

Volleyball

Bump, Set, Spike (and keep it off the floor)

Mine! I've got it! These were familiar sounds to the volleyball team. Their practice began in early August and continued through September, to the end of October. The team was relatively new and their record improved from previous years. Though the season's outcome wasn't great they weathered the losses as well as a few wins. Coach Cathy Layton said, "This season was a big improvement over the last two years. We gained a larger foot hold in a conference in which we were the youngest team. We were able to successfully beat the same schools twice and moved closer to a confident standing among teams with a lot more experience and years."

When asked what she thought of the sport, Co-captain Wendy McWilliams replied, "Volleyball is alot of fun and I plan to play next year." Captain Deni Godley joked, "We came, we saw, and we cried often."

Though the season was long and sometimes discouraging, these lady bulldogs stuck together and showed that the volleyball team had proven to be First Class.

Winning Isn't Everything.

It took awhile to get started.

The Walterboro Bulldogs lost the first two games but took the next two, by defeating Berkeley and James Island. Bruce Williams led the scoring in the win over Goose Creek. In the game against Middleton, Bruce Williams played an outstanding game, scoring 33 points.

In the eleventh and twelfth games of the season, the Bulldogs defeated Beaufort by 13 points, and Berkeley by 13 points. Next however, the Bulldogs took a heart breaking loss to James Island by one point. The Dogs went into a slump, not winning again until Beaufort.

The Dogs lost the first game of the tournament to Beaufort 56-60. Eric Overton lead the scoring with 23 points.

The Dogs will have to do some rebuilding after losing All Region performer Bruce Williams.

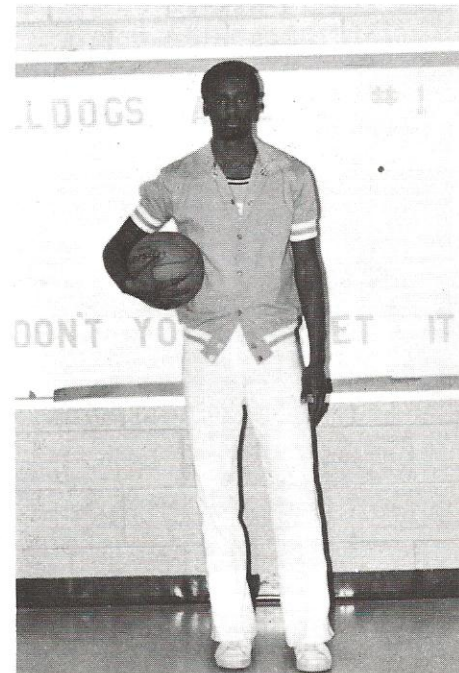

Terry McMillan, Kirk Rising, Thomas Shider Travis Evans, Bruce Williams, Jeff Benson, Samuel Pinckney, Gilbert Pickney, and Eric Overton.

Coming on Strong

All they needed was experience.

The Junior Bulldogs took the first game of the season and then suddenly went into one of those things you call a slump. Then in the middle of the season, the Dogs came out of their shell and blew everything off the court. Only losing a few games at the end of the season, the Dogs had a pretty good finish.

Leading the scoring was Daryl Black. The junior varsity team will be losing a very talented player to the varsity team, but they should be tough next year.

When asked his opinion of this year's team, Coach Bullock replied, "This years ball club was very inexperienced, with only a few starters from last year. It took them a few games to get adjusted before they won six in a row. They worked hard and a few of the players could be valuable assets to next year's varsity team."

On the Right Track . . .

Girls win their first game ever.

The Walterboro Varsity Girls Basketball Team started off on the wrong foot, but strengthened as the season progressed. Building a young team with a new coach at a new school was tough. The girls worked hard during practice and went onto the court to do their best and more.

Leading the scoring was Vermel Williams and Wilhamenia Young. Vermel Williams also lead the team in rebounds. There were two young ladies who stood out on defence, Michelle Wasson and Consyon Holmes.

The girls had a good attitude and worked with enthusiasm. They can't wait for next year!

A Disappointing Season but improving

The J.V. Girls started the year with high hopes. They lost their first game but not their drive. As the season went on, the girls practiced and improved. Even when things looked as if they couldn't get any worse, the J.V.'s wouldn't quit.

Debbie Doctor lead the team in scoring with a 3.1 point average a game, while Chris Hudson followed with a 2.7 average. Every one worked hard all year. They learned a lot and gained much experience. They will be a welcome addition to the basketball program of next year.

Hitting, Pitching, and Stealing

The Walterboro Bulldog Baseball Team started the season off by defeating Goose Creek by a ten run rule in the fifth inning. Stormy Brock opened the season with his first win by giving up only one run.

Next, it was Middleton, who fell to the Bulldogs. Mark Winkle opened up and let the smoke go by pitching a four hitter and gave up only one unearned run with ten strikeouts.

Ready for Summerville, the Bulldogs were behind 8 to 3 in the bottom of the seventh with two outs. Garrett Carter singled up the middle to drive in two runs making the score

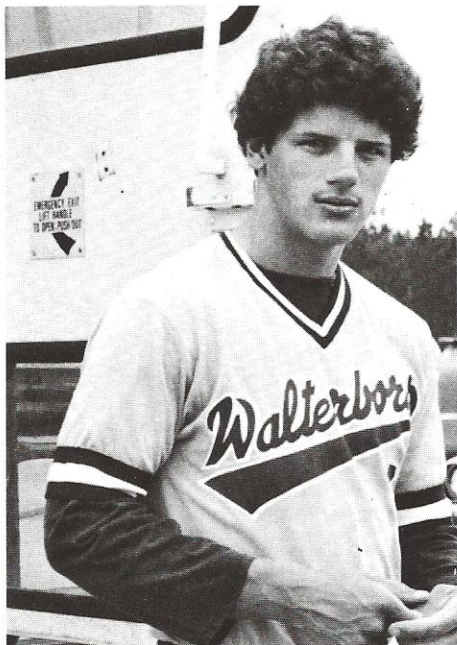

8 to 5. Hillie Lynah then hit a line shot off the pitcher's leg as Kevin "Duck" Whitaker walked up to the plate to take the first strike. Everybody was waiting in suspense. The pitcher hurled the next pitch—KaPOW! The crowd went wild as Duck trotted around the bases leaving the score tied at 8. The Bulldogs lost in the extra innings 10 to 8.

Going into the Hanahan Tournament with a 2-1 record, the Bulldogs took an easy 10-0 shutout against the Garrett Falcons. Mark Winkle pitched a two hitter and struck out 10, allowing only three men on base.

Track

A Hop, Skip, and a Jump

The Big Four

The track season of 1983 was the best season for several years. Although it was a team effort, the "Big Four" pulled them through a great season. The "Big Four"—Willie Frasier, Chris LeGourd, Tony Stephens, and Jeff Caldwell—broke many school records and racked up most of the points.

The first major track meet was the Beaufort Track Classic. Walterboro placed first over ten other teams. Jeff Caldwell broke the Beaufort Track Classic record as well as the school record with a jump of 13'4". Willie, Chris, and Tony also broke school records at that meet.

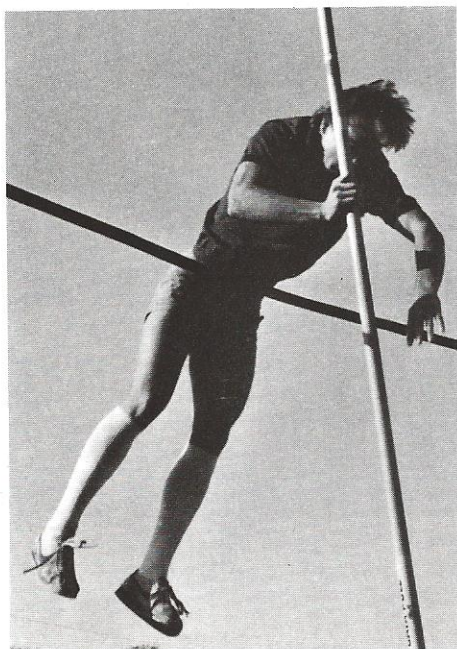

In the region meet, held at James Island, Walterboro placed third. This meet determined who would be selected for state. The "Big Four" was selected.

They went to the state competition with Tony Stephens winning both the discus and shotput events. Chris LeGourd (Two Mile Run) and Jeff Caldwell (Pole Vault) both came in sixth place. Willie Frasier, having had a bad day, did not place in the long jump event. Overall, their performance was outstanding.

The track season of '83, with its sportsmanship and dedication, was definitely a first class act.

Tennis

A Swinging Sport

What's Your Racquet?

Although not as popular a sport as some, tennis seemed to be a competitive and exciting enough sport to be able to attract a minimum amount of team members.

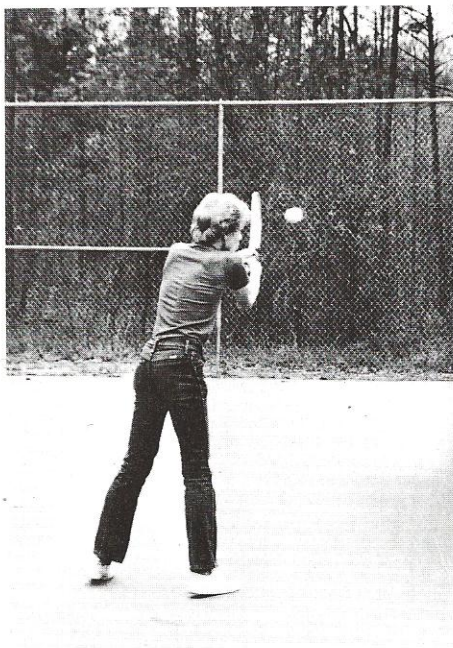

Mike Hiott recruited people and practically drug them on the court. If it wasn't for this kind of spirit, the team would have never survived.

1983 was a struggling year for the tennis team. #1 doubles and #2 doubles succeeded in winning some crucial matches, while singles play was the toughest in four years. The loss of three good players—Mike Hiott, Dargin Moore, and Ken Clark—means that next year will be a rebuilding one. But returning players Eric Clark, Paul Harrison, and Paul Siegler will present strong leadership and should prove to be powerful opponents to any who play them.

Golf

Swinging for the 18th

The Walterboro High school Golf team had a good season. Shooting in the 350 range as a team. The dogs shot a low of 349 and a seasons high of 399.

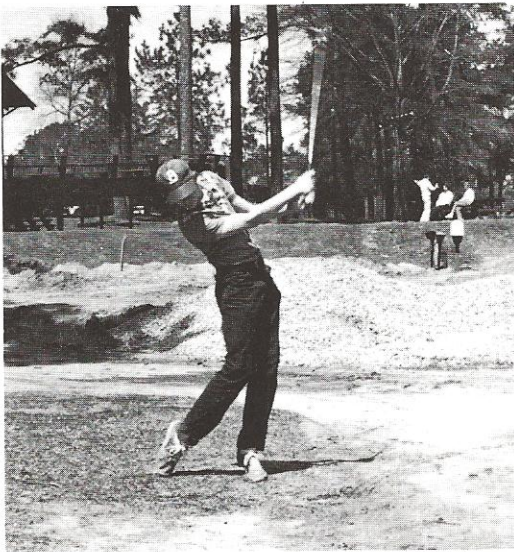

The team started off with 9 players but came up with only 3 players. Losing four because of low grades and two because of injuries, Andy Harrison and Scott Bridge.

Scott Halter shot his personal best and also broke a school record with a 69. Jeff Hale and Harry Bryan also shot their best, Jeff with an 85 and Harry with a 94.

"This year's golf season was successful. Losing two to injuries and four because of grades, that hurt us in the long run," quoted Coach Steve Carter.

Hitting and Defense

Undefeated in regular season play

The Walterboro High School Softball Team had a very successful season with a season's record of 12-0 an overall record of 14-2.

The girls took teams like lighting, defeating team after team after team. The only teams that gave the dogs a fit were Holly Hill-Roberts and Berkely.

The dogs jam-up defense and great hitting got the dogs into the Lower State play offs. In the first round, the dogs easily took Richland Northeast 14-4. The dogs finally lost their first game in the second round against South Florence 7-16. But Socastee fell in the third round 9-7. In the Semi-final game for the lower state, the dogs lost their second game to South Florence in a dog fight 7-14.

"We had a good season, but wait til next year," says Wilhemina Young. "This year was very successful and we had a good attitude toward the team. We were young and not experienced," said Coach Rusty Adams.

We've GOT THAT BEAT

The 1982-1983 varsity cheerleaders were a unique and spirited bunch during football season. They came back from Baptist College cheerleader camp with the "Most Spirited Ribbon," and three superior ribbons, two excellent ribbons, and one outstanding ribbon. On November 4, 1982 they went to the East Coast Regionals of the Eastern Cheerleader Championship and placed fourth. The squad also competed in the National High School Cheering Competition at the Atlantic Coast Regionals and got a Superior Rating on December 4.

Next, the cheerleaders were invited to the Grand Finals Cheering Championships on March 12 and 13, 1983 at Williamsburg, Virginia. According to Sylvia Gale, "This years squad worked harder and achieved more than any other squad. I am very proud of those young ladies who contributed so much, not only at camp but in competitions too."

Campus Life

Eating and sleeping, shopping on the weekends, studying during the week hoping for a better grade, and waiting for graduation and summer vacation were all part of a student's life.

What did students do with their free time? Some were involved with school related activities or intramural sports, others had jobs after school, while some just hung around and relaxed.

After school hours, weekends, and vacations were considered the student's life. Leisure time was necessary, for all work and no play would not have made Walterboro High School's year a First Class Act.

Opening Night Jitters

This was the first act of a whole new life for 1,746 students, and the new facility impressed the audience. Parents even came to enjoy the show.

The curtain opened in the gym. Surprisingly all of the students fit onto the bleachers and we were thankful that air conditioning had been installed.

Although students were eager to explore their new school and greet their teachers, Principal Mack Jones, Mr. John Stephens, William Reynolds, and the Student Council welcomed them first. As head of curriculum, Mr. John Stephens explained, "Rules and regulations are a part of the plot to a good year." A few new rules were no gum, stay off the grass and avoid the parking lot.

The schedule for the day continued. Students met their teachers and sat through a lengthy home-

Most students ended up in the wrong rooms at the wrong time, but a lesson was learned through getting lost there are only 250,000 square feet of school, who could possibly be in the right place?

Although most students crowded in the halls during lunch to discuss their favorite teacher and complain of tired feet, others patiently waited in line to receive their hamburgers and fries.

According to Mr. Jones, "the first day of school was a day of awe which continued for three weeks until students got into a normal routine." He expressed how pleased he was with the first day. "You could look into students eyes and tell they had not seen anything like it." To these students it was a "First Class Act."

How do you feel?

Fired up

Pep Rallies have always been a tradition here. As Monday rolls along most of our students can hardly wait until Friday afternoon at 2:35 to participate in the Pep Rally.

Unlike the Seniors who are accustomed to the Rallies, Freshmen seem to be a little shy and timid about "letting themselves go." They are not accustomed to the wild cheering and the rivalry involved between the different classes that goes on during these events. One Freshman, Tammy Coaxum said, "I was really surprised at the atmosphere of the rallies, but after figuring out what to do I soon played my part just right."

Pep Rallies are very important to our team. Gregory Teasdel, one of our football players, said "pep rallies are really a great boost for our team. If we can have all the support of the students, that really gives us more of a reason to go out and show our stuff!" So, as long as we have our Dogs, we will always have those sensational Pep Rallies that "make me feel proud of my school!" exclaims sophomore Theresa Washington.

Wylie Ellis sings to the crowd as his teammates look on.

Kicking the football season off to a great start, the Bulldog fans really show their spirit.

Spirit Week

Doctors, nurses, priests, and jockeys. What were these people doing at W.H.S. on Nov 1? Businessmen, lawyers, and servicemen roamed the hall all day long. Due to the elections on Nov. 2nd. we had no school, but we returned on the 3rd. to find numerous punkrockers and slob. Dirt, glitter, and wiggly boppers were everywhere. On Thursday everyone was dressed to kill in three piece suits, frilly blouses and high heels. An appropriate close to that special week could only be a day with everyone dressed in blue and white. Nothing else could be described this way but Spirit Week.

A fun filled Spirit Week was a great kick-off for a victorious homecoming evening. The Walterboro Bulldogs closed their season with a 40-0 win over Burke and Rhonda Jones was crowned Homecoming Queen.

Super Seniors

Leaving their mark

Winning awards, breaking records, being chosen for a certain group or just trying were things done by students. But during that last year, seniors tried to think of a way to leave their mark. In some form or another, many of them did.

Leading the school in the sports arena were Jeff Caldwell, Ronnie Colson, Tony Stephens, Kevin Whitaker, Bruce Williams, and Willie Frasier. All were either elected to play on state conference teams or broke state and school track records.

Excelling in the business world were Phyllis Walling and William Risher. William was chosen to represent the state as Mr. DECA and Phyllis won the U.S. Achievement Academy Accounting Award.

Whether it was singing or playing an instrument, people excelled in all areas of music. Besides being a Furman Scholar and Girls State Representative, Elizabeth Belcher was chosen to sing in the Honors-All-State chorus concert. Receiving the coveted John Phillips Sousa Award was Band of Blue member Dan Bodison.

Competing in tests became very important to students. Melissa Brown and Monique Tracy were selected as National Negro Achievement Scholarship Finalists.

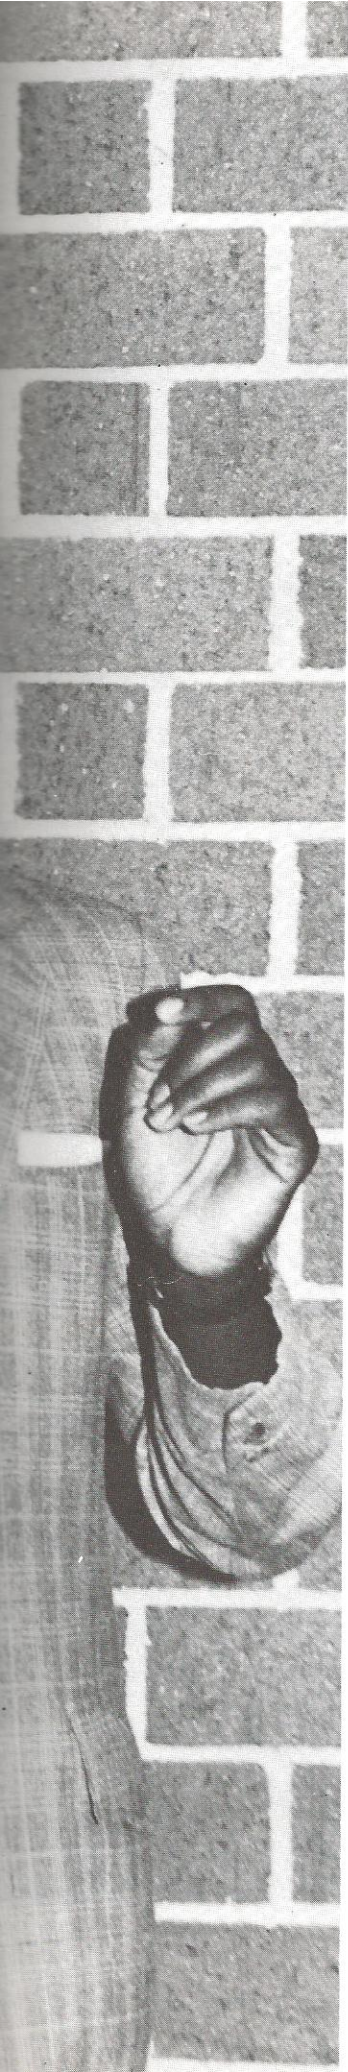

Student leadership was also a large part of the school system. Besides being a member of the National Honor Society, Student Council president William Reynolds made sure students had a voice in school procedures. Also Jerri-Ann Blakeman was chosen as Miss DAR on the basis of character, service, and leadership abilities.

So whether it was in a big or small way, most seniors will be remembered by teachers, other students and administrators because of the way they "left their mark."

Mr. DECA, William Risher, was chosen on the basis of his business abilities.

Making it Final

Ending the wait

Senior Keys, Memorybooks and cap and gowns. All of those items made the list of things many seniors ordered from Jostens. Ordering senior supplies for most seniors was an exciting experience. One Senior, Linda Doctor stated, "I've finally reached the point where I can really feel confident that I will graduate. My cap and gown symbolizes the many years of preparation and hard work put forward for this mo-

The memorybook that most seniors ordered will hold the most cherished and unforgettable moments of their lives. Each page is filled with autographs of friends, teachers and that one most important person.

Congratulations to our First Class Seniors. The first class of our brand new school. Good luck in the future.

Blood Mobile

Silent Heroes

In school, a hero is usually thought of as that certain football or basketball player who scores the winning point for that special game or that brainy senior who scores 1250 on the SAT. But, we have our own kind of hero—the silent hero.

The silent heroes were very helpful on November 23rd. From those silent heroes the Red Cross collected 97 pints of blood which may help people our heroes will never know.

We were very proud of all of our silent heroes. They went through alot, answering questions, filling out forms, having their blood pressures and temperatures taken. Then when the waiting was over and the blood had been given, our heroes were proud of the sacrifice they had made to save a life.

We would like to thank all of our silent heroes for their brave tasks. It was well appreciated. Thanks!

Doing his duty as a concerned citizen, Coach Driggers gives "the gift of life."

Christmas

For the first time, Miss Freshman, Miss Sophomore, Miss Junior, Miss Merry Christmas/Friendship, Miss Senior and Miss WHS were all combined.

On December 10th, Student Council sponsored the Christmas Pageants. "Organization of the pageants was a lot of work, but it was certainly well worth it!" exclaimed Assembly Committee Chairman, Rhonda Jones.

The results of all six pageants seemed to have pleased the crowd: Miss Freshman—Kelly Whitaker. Miss Sophomore—Samantha Ford. Miss Junior—Holly Craven. Miss Christmas/Friendship—Melissa Boles. Miss Senior—Yvette Stephens. Miss WHS—Renee Baker

Fashion

Knickers, duck shoes, mini skirts, leg warmers and Band of Blue jackets were all part of the 83 fashion scene. Knickers were seen winter through spring, and duck shoes were said to be the most comfortable shoes that students had ever worn.

Thomas White said "The only requirements for mini-skirts are a nice set of healthy looking legs, skinny legs just won't do!" And while some were showing off their legs others were covering them up. Stephanie Drayton said, "I think leg warmers go great with a nice pair of designer jeans."

Of course Band of Blue jackets were a popular sight. Deborah McDonald said "My Band of Blue jacket tells everyone that I am a part of the best band in the state of South Carolina."

Royal Sweethearts

They spent days choosing the right makeup, perfect shoes, appealing clothes and hairstyle, but when the final moment of truth came Rocky Dent and Kirk Rising were chosen Queen and King of Hearts.

The pageant, held February the 11th, was sponsored by the Student Council and consisted of the top nominees of each class.

Entertainment for the program was presented by various students. "Truly" was done by Deneen Green and Willie Frasier. "The Rose" by Tina R. Crosby. "Outstanding" by Willie Frasier, Monique Coleman, Tonya Coleman, David Logan and Deneen Green. "Lady" by Kevin and Evon Robinson. "The Other Side of the Rainbow" by Samatha Ford, and "The Girl Is Mine" by Willie Frasier and Mike Carter. Various students from Miss Layton's classes presented their own version of "Don't Stop til ya Get Enough".

After what seemed like hours, the final judging by Ms. Roxy Woovis, Mr. Willie Davis, Mrs. Rebecca Helmly, Miss Judy Holliday, Mr. Charles Aiken, Mr. Gowdy and Ms. Gladys Davis was completed.

Lords and Ladies of Hearts were: Ruth Deal, Kendra Singleton, Sharon Fishburne, Cathy Lane, Shirley Fields, Evon Robinson, Greg Walker, Leonard Gainer, Travis Evans.

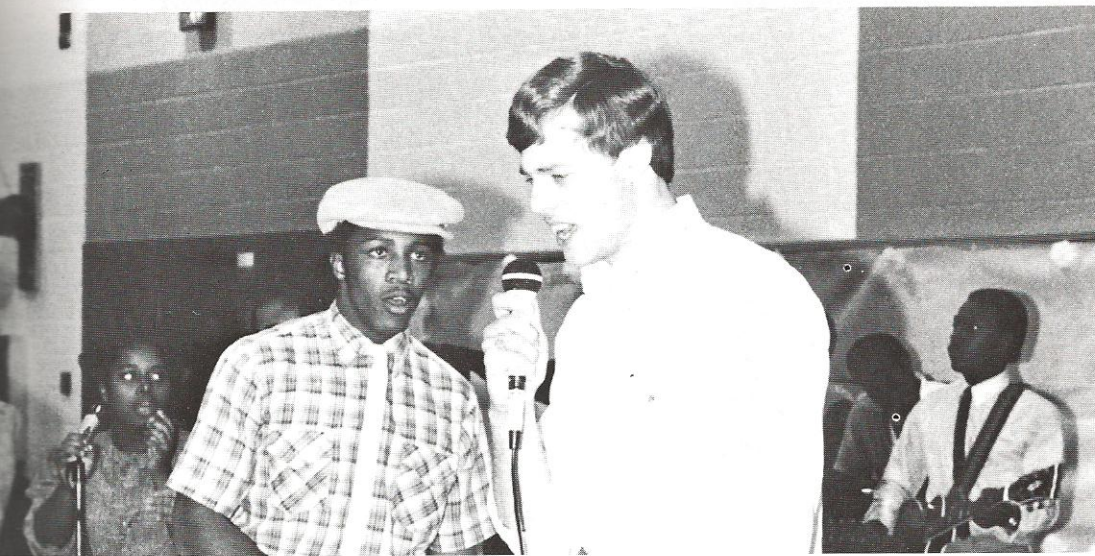

Duke and Dutchess: Robert Taylor, Angie Kelly. Prince and Princess: Tommy Reeves, Jerri-Ann Blakeman. King and Queen of Hearts: Rocky Dent and Kirk Rising.

Taste of Times

"forever changing"

T-Shirts! Miniskirts! Video games! Punk rock and new wave! Designer jeans and good ole' Levis! Did a student's world revolve around his or her clothes? When asked what clothes and fashion meant to her, Phyllis Bridge explained, "The way I dress is important to me because I believe people judge me by the way I look."

Music was also an important part of a student's life. Music influenced the way students dressed, acted, and felt about things. And for some chorus and band students, music was "their life."

Where did students like to go during "off hours?" When Mark Winkle and Derral Blocker were asked where they liked to spend their week-end time, they said, "Well, the jammingest place around is Charlie's so that's where we are." And on the way to their weekend place Derral and Mark stopped on Jefferies Blvd. to socialize for a while. That was where many W.H.S. students were. Jefferies Boulevard was their place Friday through Sunday night.

Orange Bowl

Here We Come

Two hundred and fifteen Band of Blue students and Chaperones were up bright and early at 4:30 a.m. After leaving WHS, the first stop was Orlando Florida. While in Orlando, the band visited the Epcot Center. The next day, five Greyhound buses left for Miami, Florida, their final destination. The band first marched in the Great Bands of the Orange Bowl. Six other bands from around the country also competed in the contest.

The next event was the Orange Bowl Parade on New Year's Evening. One member stated, "We tried to prepare ourselves for the bright lights and knowing we would march on national television, but no one could really know the feeling unless they actually marched." In preparation for the parade the band set up formation on the beach in front of their hotel and marched and played. It delighted the tourists and many took pictures with the members. A Miami T.V. station came and interviewed some of the band members and filmed the band while practicing.

Although the band had a job to do, they also wanted to have a good time. Leisure time was spent playing touch football, shopping, swimming, and lying on the beach.

It was the most beautiful weather the entire trip. Upon departure it began to rain and it rained all the way home. Although they were late getting home because of the weather and a flat tire, the trip had been a success; the Band of Blue was ranked third in the nation.

Working Hard

Special Groups

They put on plays, rode in parades, finished the season undefeated. Who were they? They were the Drama Club, Rice Planters, and the girls' Softball team.

The drama club put on a play called "No Time for Skirts." It told of a young tomboy who doesn't want to be May Queen. One junior, Lisa Andrews said, "The play was funny, I wish the drama club would do more." The play members consisted of Sanaa Taylor, Glenis Moseley, David Williams, Ricky Roundtree, Kendall Wilson, Dwayne Newton, Mazie Shider, Todd Moseley, Stacey Chapman, Annette Teasdell, Derrick Singleton, and Rachell McKay.

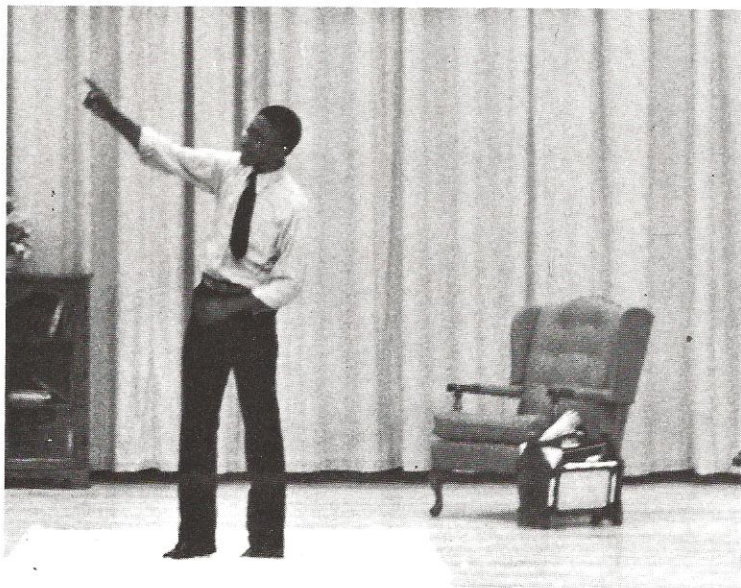

The girls' softball team finished the regular season undefeated and was named the Team of the Year by the Student Council.

The Rice Planters represented Walterboro in parades and other various functions. The Rice Planters from W.H.S. were: Annette Martin, Theresa Smith, Veronica Clayton, Lori Maddox, Holly Craven, Cherie Hudson, and Leslie Burgess, Melody Geddis, Kathy Avant, Regina Hutto, Dargan Moore

The Honor-All-State members went through nerve racking tryouts but made it all seem worthwhile. Honors-All-State members were Denean Green, Elizabeth Belcher, Bert Crosby, Steve Hanna, Tony Jones, Mike Carter, and Evon Robinson.

These groups made us proud and did their best to represent our school in whatever they did.

Showing his style during the play is David Williams.

During play rehearsal, Ricky Roundtree and Glenis Moseley seem to disagree.

Socializing Saturday night are Laura Bell, Pam Zygadlo, Wanda Webster and Todd Johnson.

After the Prom

It was a tradition with many students from Walterboro to go to the beach after the prom and spend the weekend. Immediately after the prom, they went home, got their clothes and changed. Although many went directly to the beach, some met at Dairyland or Sonic and formed a caravan to Edisto Beach.

Most of Friday night was spent talking to their friends and having a good time. "We stayed up talking with each other and our chaperones until about 4:00 a.m.," said Faye Barwick.

Saturday was a beautiful day. Everyone either swam, basked in the sun, or played football. Saturday night was a party filled evening. It was a night to have a good time and socialize.

Sunday, after staying up all Saturday night, was a day of relaxation, except for cleaning up the house and preparing to go home. After everyone was packed and the house all cleaned up, everyone went down to the 'wash-out.' The 'wash-out' was at the end of the beach and is supposedly the best stretch of beach. About 4:00 p.m., everybody left the beach and headed back to reality. Junior-Senior Prom was over and the students had to live through 4 more weeks of school.

A beach house bunch watches the action from their porch.

Swimming and lying in the sun are the main recreations at Edisto Beach.

Preparing For Heaven

The gym was filled with a lot of sighs and moans as preparers for the prom tried to decide the first step they should take. Some thought it was impossible to decorate the gigantic gym. Others felt they might not have enough time, but there were still those who were very hopeful as they pictured the scene, "Stairway To Heaven" in their minds.

Prom preparations began as Mrs.

Skelton got everyone organized to work on the decorations. There was much work to be done, and only two days to do it in. The decorations consisted of stars and glitter, while the most time consuming was the preparation of the Stairway itself.

All in all, there was much work done, a lot of sweat and determination, but it was completed ahead of schedule, and was a job well done.

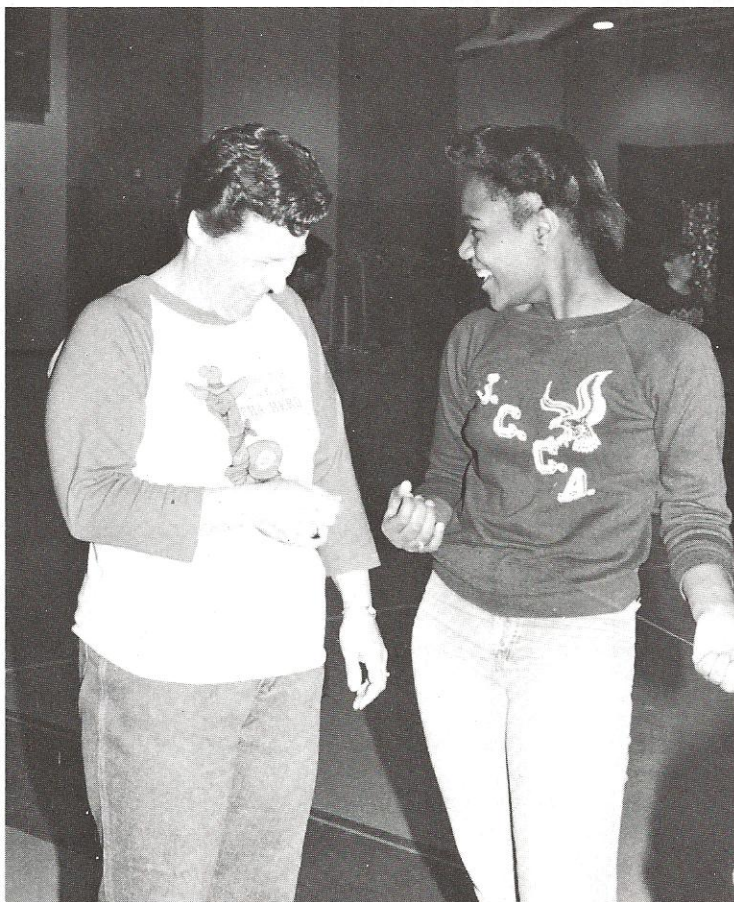

Decorating the table before the big night are Chris Davis, Pat Stevenson, and Mrs. Marilyn Zielke.

Bill Hough and Toya Brown find time during the busy preparations to joke around "under the moon and stars."

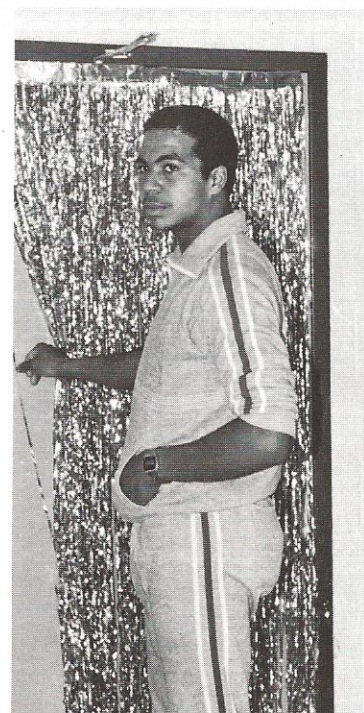

Trya Risher and Mrs. Linda Skelton are happily at work.

Making sure that the tinsel is on the door just right is Thomas L. Pickney.

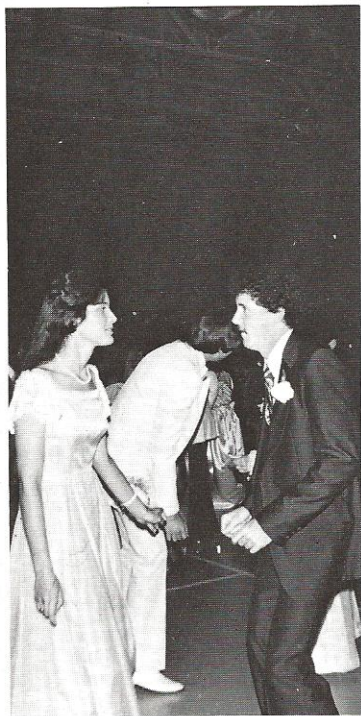

Stringing silver stars are Sally Aiken and Ruth Deal.

Climbing to the top of the ladder is Micheal Washington.

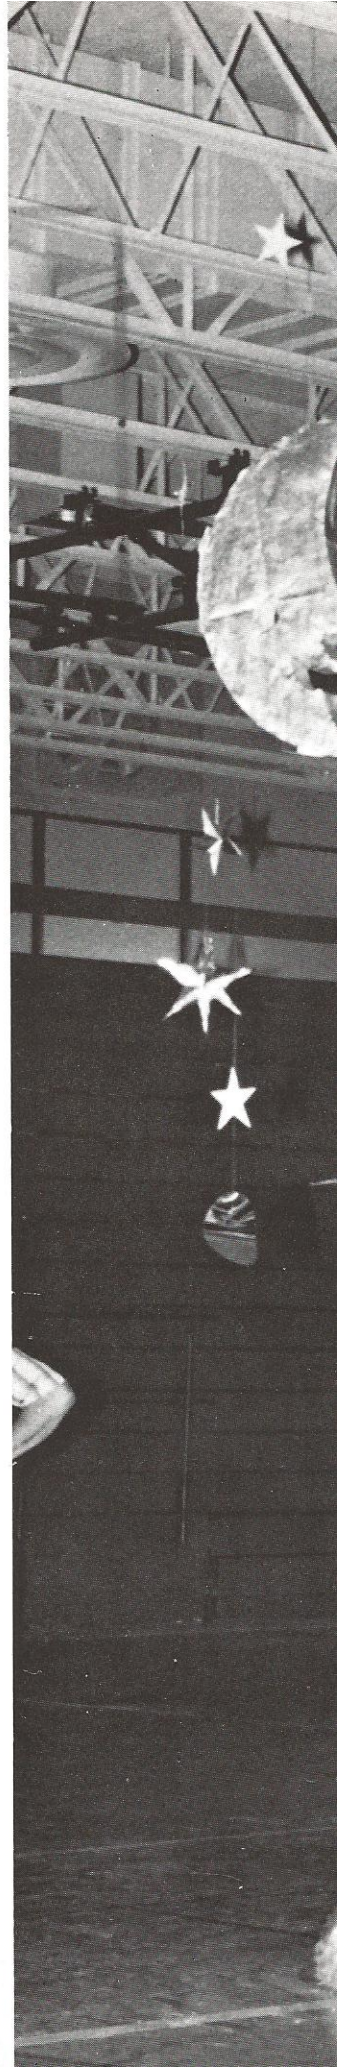

Posing in the archway to heaven are Eric Hodge and Celisa Ward.

Dancing to the music are Vonalyn Phillips and Kevin Malloy.

Carl Mosley, Tyra Risher, Tommy Reeves and Janice Nettles find the gym floor easy to dance on.

Stairway to Heaven

Students worried about broken heels crooked ties and upside down corsages: However, as they walked into the gym, a feeling of awe suddenly came over them. All of their worries were forgotten.

Handsome couples danced among floating clouds, shining stars, silver balloons and dancing planets. The chosen theme was "Stairway to Heaven". "It's hard to believe that the gym was decorated in two days! It was simply beautiful," said Freshman Kathy Lawson.

Music was performed by Gateway. Selections ranged from country, popular and soul to beach music. As they have done in the past years, the Junior class sponsored, decorated and chose the band for the much enjoyed prom.

Light refreshments were served by Mrs. Lelia Williams, Mrs. Laverne Crawford, Mrs. Carolyn Lewis and Mrs. Luara Hughes. After a warm night of dancing and conversing with friends, students headed to the beach for a fun filled weekend of clear skies and sunshine.

Taking tickets at the door are Mrs. Betty Farmer and Mrs. Cindy Sarvis.

Showing Leadership

The awarding of outstanding leadership did not come easy. There were too many people with the exceptional qualities needed by Student Council. The annual awards program was held on Thursday, May 26, in the commons area. Many well deserved awards were given out.

Students and faculty were entertained by Tina R. Crosby who sang "Too Long at the Fair". Speakers for the program were Rev. Dan Bo-dison, and Mayor Elton Culpepper. Mayor Culpepper stressed the importance of having goals and dreams, and having the ability to reach them.

Dinner was served at 8:30 P.M.: baked ham, dressing, rice, gravy, rolls and tea had been prepared for the members.

It was certainly a year to remember. The closing words to the audience were: "We had a great year, thanks alot."

Showing her gratitude toward Mr. Mack Jones and Mr. Franklin Barnhill is Mrs. Arlene Finney-El.

Delivering his speech is Mayor Elton Culpepper.

Congratulating Rhonda Jones for her award is Bert Crosby.

Preparing for the Future

Graduation Practice

"Lets do it again. Danny, get back in line." Preparation for graduation was a lot of work, and a little less than fun. But seniors knew they had to get it right for the real thing.

Practice started at 9:30 A.M. and lasted until noon. Seniors received report cards and a certificate from Senator Strom Thurmond. After finding the much looked for word . . . GRADUATED . . . practice began.

Seniors were told not to step out of line, to wear dresses or dress pants, and to wear their tassels on the right side.

"They wanted to make sure that we didn't mess up the real thing," said senior Melissa Brown.

After three hours of practice they were ready. Now all they had to do was to be back at the gym and ready to go, by 8:00 that night.

Reason to Celebrate

It's finally over

Yes, the time had come for seniors, it was almost over, time to grow up and start a new life.

Commencement excercises for graduating seniors were held in the gym of Walterboro High School, May 31, 1983 at 8:00 p.m.

The traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" was played as tears of joy and sadness rolled down senior's cheeks while marching toward the end of the wonderful days of high school.

As names were called to receive diplomas, memories of good and bad times flashed through senior's and parent's heads.

Head marshalls, Sabrina Green and Christa Gilgen led seniors through the gym and up the center aisle while marshalls Tony Jones, Annette Teasdell, Joeseeph Edwards, Rolfe Martin, Leslie Bright, Kristen Hoff, Melissa Boles and John Babilon, stood at attention honoring the new graduates.

LaDean Nettles, Eric Fraiser, Linda Howell, Tammie Phillips, James Beach, Renee Hamilton, Lisa Rogers, Sonya Mixson, Penelope Hughes, Cynthia Ladson, Thomas Crider, Rodney Harrison, Vivette Davis, and Kim Hunter ushered parents to their seats and saw that everything ran smoothly.

Afterwards, graduates, family members, and friends, greeted each other outside, said "Good-Bye" and drove off leaving the happy years of school behind them.

Melissa Brown, George Bryan, Kenneth Clark, and Bert Crosby listen attentively to principal Mack Jones.

A tearful but happy senior hugs her class mate.

Kendal Wilson is waiting for her name to be called.

Community

Walterboro is a great town! This slogan greeted residents and visitors alike when they entered our great community.

A new hospital and a new school were only a few of the additions made to Walterboro this year. Mayor Elton Culpepper expanded his quick stop business and built a prosperous Pepper Mart II. Piggly Wiggly changed ownerships and moved into a bigger and more modern facility while the County Council made plans for a new post office. Numerous factories and businesses closed down while others opened up and expanded.

Walterboro now boasts the best marching band in the state, The Band of Blue. Walterboro's hard working band also placed third at the Orange Bowl Competition in Florida.

These things, along with others made Walterboro a First Class Act

A Community Weekend

Fireworks, clowns, beauty contests, plantation tours, a parade and all the rice you could eat were just a fraction of the activities planned for the 8th annual Colleton County Rice Festival. The celebration has been held every spring for the past eight years, and each year seems to be getting better. The participation of so many of our students, had a lot to do with this years success. Students participated as Rice Planters, in beauty contests, in the golf tournament, and of course, as spectators.

Mr. Les Zielke, chairman of the festival, said, "I would really like to thank everyone from the high school who helped out, particularly the Art Dept., the Rice Planters, and Mrs. Vickie Smith for co-ordinating the Mayors tour and over-seeing the Rice Planters."

Even though rain dampened the parade, spirit ran high, and every one seemed to be looking forward to next year's festival, which will be held at a time when the community will be celebrating its 200th year.

The Western Two Steppers from Summerville performing downtown Saturday afternoon was a real treat.

Throwing rice during the parade, this years Rice Planters are smiling in the rain.

"Playing the piano gives me sort of a natural high," says, Bert Crosby, as he practices for the Choral Concert.

First Class Memories

Whether it was a Senior wearing his key for the first time, a junior going to his first prom, a sophomore participating in his first choral concert or a freshman going to his first pep rally, each student will have at least one certain memory that stands out above the rest.

"I'll never forget the fantastic J.V. football season. We were the best!" exclaimed sophomore Todd Osteen. Dianne Wade stated, "The change and especially the confusion is what I will remember forever."

Whether it was a winning season, a certain assembly, or just one especially great day, everyone will have their own memory of a First Class Year.

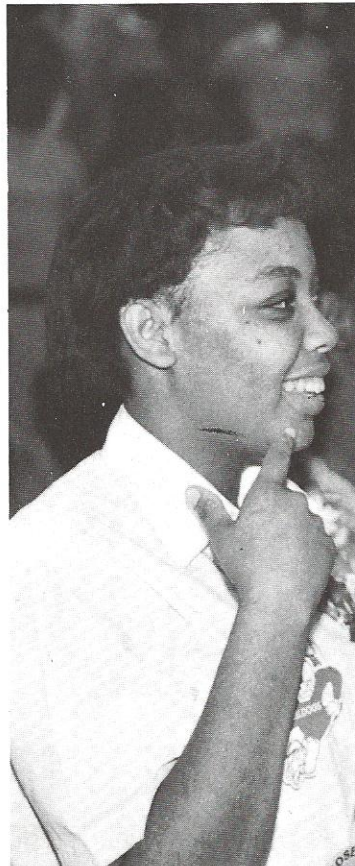

Taking time from her pizza, Charlette Bowden gives the photographer a quick glance.

Donning her homecoming corsage Lisa Bright watches her final Pep Rally.

Building their pyramid, the spirited cheerleaders finish off the last rally.

Discussing their plans for the weekend, Elizabeth Lubs and Nicole Varnadoc exchange smiles.

First Class Act

Class came in several forms and was not segregated to a certain race, sex, creed, club or group.

Class was seen by nearly everyone in the things done by our students; things such as helping underprivileged children have a merrier Christmas or helping very special students in becoming athletes. Students also provided free tutoring services to students before exams.

Showing class did not always come easy. Losing gracefully or at least trying to look graceful when an important game was lost was harder than one thought.

In every way, students showed caring compassion. Love and sharing all made the year a First Class Act!

Colophon

Paw Print 1983, Volume XIII was printed by Herff Jones Yearbooks, Montgomery, Alabama, with the assistance of yearbook specialist, Steve Karelitz. In order to finance the 236 page book, display ads and patron ads were sold. The yearbook was printed on 80 lb. Bordeaux glossed enamel paper. Type face used for headlines, captions, copy and dividers was Garamond 36, 18, 10, and 8 pt. and Garamond Italic.

The cover is Ultra Marine Blue with silver foil. End sheets are gray on which 70% black ink was printed.

700 books were ordered and most were sold before delivery. The initial cost of each book was $15.00.

Most photography was done by yearbook photographers. Of approximately 3,014 photos taken, 1,252 were used.

Special thanks go to Rob Novit, Bryn-Alan Studios, and Edward Robbins, for assistance in photography. Special thanks also go to Virginia VonLehe, Kate George and Sylvia Gale for their assistance in proofreading.
