

Coe's Crew

The Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball team struggled over the obstacles of inexperience to attain one of the first winning records in recent years. The team rose up from the dismal hole of a 4-12 record last year to emerge with an impressive record of 12 wins and 5 losses.

The team consisted of 10 freshmen and one eighth grader. Michelle Minton, an eighth grader led the team in scoring averaging 10.9 points per game. Lane McLeod had the second best scoring average with 6.2 points per game. Angie

Elliott also had an impressive average with 5.4 points per game. Rounding out the starting roster Terry Siders and Cathy Jakes led the team in rebounding, both with 5 per outing.

Coach Coe attributed the team's success to "a strong defense which was skilled and aggressive." She went on to say "this year's team represents a turn around for the J.V. girls' team. With more girls with more experience on the court, a winning team is surely expected."

NINTH GRADE PLAYERS: Angie Eliot, Shannon Polk, Lane McLeod, Casey Reed, Anne Hall, Cathy Jakes.

MICHELLE MINTON, an eighth-grade starter, lets go with another 2-point shot.
