

U p to Par

Losing only two seniors from last year's squad, the golf team looked forward to the promising season ahead. Coaches Jim Craven and Tom Wilson hoped to improve the third-place region ranking on the 1992 season.

"The number of talented golfers in this area is growing in leaps and bounds," said Coach Craven. "If this continues, the golf team has the potential for establishing a dynasty. It is my responsibility to cultivate, nourish, and fertilize the seeds."

The coaches were pleased at the players' performances throughout the year. High goals were set, and the golfers reached them by winning the conference and making it to the state playoffs at Furman University. For the first time in the program's history, the golf team was atop the conference at season's end.

Rob Simmons, an eighth grader, became the first Wal-terboro golfer to be a conference medalist in Region 6 AAAA.

The team set as the succeeding year's goal to repeat as conference champions, compete in the state play-offs, and finish in the top 10 in the Southern Cross, a top invitational played at the Palmetto Golf Club in Aiken.

— Lawton Smith

1993 GOLF SEASON

George Miler
Stono Ferry
Berkeley
Dogwood Hills
Pine Forest
Snee Farm
Georgetown
Crowfield
Conference Championship
— Crowfield
State Championship —
Furman University

Back Row: Coach Tom Wilson, Adam Langley, Chris Fortner, Mike Wilson, Frank Ulmer, Alex Pournelle, Robyn Keller. Front Row: Justin Ulrich, Carolyn Hazel, Robin Bullock, Lauren Ulmer, Rob Simmons, Coach Jim Craven.

Sophomore Frank Ulmer takes a practice swing before he taking his first tee shot on the first hole at Dogwood Hills Country Club. He also played tennis and ran on the cross-country team.