

Who Do You Love? During a free period, Seniors Brandy Guffey and Lydia Harrison distribute flowers to eager students. Dozens of floral arrangements graced the stage of the mini-auditorium.

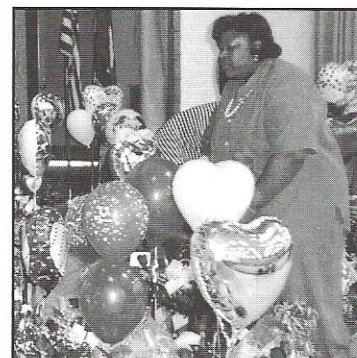

"My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose." Senior Wendy Frazier displays her gift of love. Students received roses from sweethearts, friends, and family.

"A Rose By Any Other Name ..." Senior Katina Wade rereads the card from her roses one last time before class starts.

Roses Are Red. Mrs. Joyce Davis searches for a student's flowers on the mini-auditorium stage. Mrs. Davis was one of the many teachers who volunteered their time to distribute flowers.

"Hello, I Love You ..." Having trouble opening her locker because of her load, Rejeena Washington balances gifts and flowers from her loved ones. The only bad part about getting flowers was having to carry them around the rest of the school day.
