

Going for C O M M U N I T Y The Gold

Students had the opportunity to become involved in many community activities.

The Rice Festival was a break from the daily routine, and students came out to partake of its activities.

Dogs against Drugs sponsored many events such as the Drug Rally Day at the Recreation Center and Mayfest at the Bulldog Stadium.

Businesses thrived in part because of student patronage. On a typical Friday night, students could be found at Ivanhoe Cinemas or at McDonald's, spending their money on movie tickets or on food, thus supporting these establishments.

With so many new businesses springing up all over town, business "boomed" in Walterboro. With the helping hand of the students, the community, as a whole, reached for the gold.

— Trevera Dawn Bowman

Movie Time. Children of the Library Reading Club attend a movie at the Cook Theater. The Cook Theater closed down in the early 80's after 30 years.

Beggin' for a Buck. Sophomores Jamaal Hudson, Tracy Donaldson, Muriel Fryar, and Nikki Young wait in the ticket line at recently-opened Ivanhoe Cinemas.