From the Editor . . .

THANK YOU!

The end has drawn nigh — the final story written, the last picture taken. The sun has set on yet another incredible yearbook, a treasure of memories of the laughter and tears, triumphs and defeats of the 94-95 school year.

I am deeply ingratiated to the hardworking, dedicated yearbook staff whose willing spirit and cooperative attitude have made my job as editor a pleasant one. I am really going to miss you guys.

Thank you Mrs. Janis Blocker and Mrs. Marilyn Zielke for motivating me to accept the privilege of editorship during my time of reluctance and doubt. I really would have missed out on a great leadership opportunity had it not been for your loving encouragement and support.

A warm thank you to Mr. Rob Novit for being forever willing to scan pictures for me to use on my dividers. I sincerely appreciate all of your assistance.

Those teachers who time and time again allowed staff members to leave class to fulfill yearbook responsibilities deserve a special thanks, as does Mr. Pence, who never once lorded over us an oppressive, censoring hand.

All of the aforementioned people directly or indirectly involved in the production of this yearbook have my love. Thanks for making this year WORTH MORE THAN SILVER.

Trevera Dawn Bowman
 Editor-in-Chief

"Worth More Than Silver," PAW PRINT 1995, Volume 25 was printed by Herff-Jones Yearbooks in Montgomery, Alabama, with the assistance of Mr. Steve Karelitz. With the first sixteen pages printed on 100 lb. Eurogloss, the remaining pages were printed on 100 lb. Bordeaux.

The theme was derived at the Carolina Journalism Institute held in June of 1994 at the University of South Carolina in Columbia.

Type face for body copy throughout the book was 10pt. News Gothic while captions were printed in 8pt. Caption lead-ins were 10pt. Bold. Headlines for the opening, closing, and dividers were set by Representative Steve Karelitz.

Out of School editor Selena Taylor chose 36pt. Newberry for headlines. She used 72pt. Newberry for "Seniors Select Sponsors." In School editor Jennifer Babilon chose 42pt. Bingham Script for headlines. People editor Monica Smoak used 36pt. Time Roman Bold for main headlines and 18pt. Times Roman Italic for subheadlines. Community editor Amanda Brooks used 42pt. Brush for headlines. Members of the People section worked diligently on the index until it was completed.
