

Taking to the street, Robin Bullock waves to the crowd during the parade. Robin was on the varsity cheerleading squad.

With a smile, Rice Planter Leah Steele helps out at the Mahatma rice booth. Leah was a member of National Honor Society.

Holding steady, Isaiah Martinez holds his little friend, Trey, in his arms to watch the parade. Isaiah was the new commanding officer for NJROTC.

Riding down mainstreet, Mayor Harry Cone, Jr. waves to the crowd. Mr. H. Cone had been mayor of Waltherboro about ten years.

Color guard Tiffany Ellington marches in the parade Saturday morning. Tiffany was a member of the color guard since her freshmen year.

