

What would you do if you were eating at a friend's house and found a cockroach in your food?

"I'd try to be nice; I'd push the plate away, saying I was not hungry."

— Melissa Nettles

"I'd put extra salt on it and try not to worry about it!"

— Chris Collins

"I would probably push my plate away, saying I wasn't hungry. I wouldn't tell my friend about the roach because I would not want to hurt her feelings."

— Morgan Walker

"I would eat it and ask her if she had any more of them!"

— Ericka Tedder

"I would act like I didn't see it, and then I would leave!"

— Marquitis Jamison

Sophomore trivia

Six Sophomores were in Ms. Carolyn Lewis's first period Food and Nutrition class.

Making the Grade. Sophomores Amanda Garvin and Mary Nelson do their share to make lemon cream pie. Amanda was a member of the chess club.

All in Good Measure. Pouring in just the right amount of vanilla extract, Vonalisa Green and Shatonya McNeil try their best to make their first pie. Food and Nutrition class often provided students with new cooking experiences.