

It's Spirit Week

School pride shines

Spirit Week, the exciting part of the school year, brought out many students' personalities.

Spirit Week activities started on Tuesday with "College Day." Students wore T-shirts, jogging outfits, sweatshirts, and jerseys to support their favorite college teams. Guys and girls wore clothing from the 60's, 70's, and 80's on Wednesday, "Era Day." Keesha Radcliff and Renata Ellison showed the style of the 70's with the latest bell bottoms and platform shoes. Harry Green and Harry Smalls walked proudly in their polyester suits. Everyday students could wear hats if they paid 50 cents.

"My favorite day was 'Era Day' because it was a fun day to see the students dress differently," said Keesha Radcliff.

Thursday students dressed up for "Costume Day," since

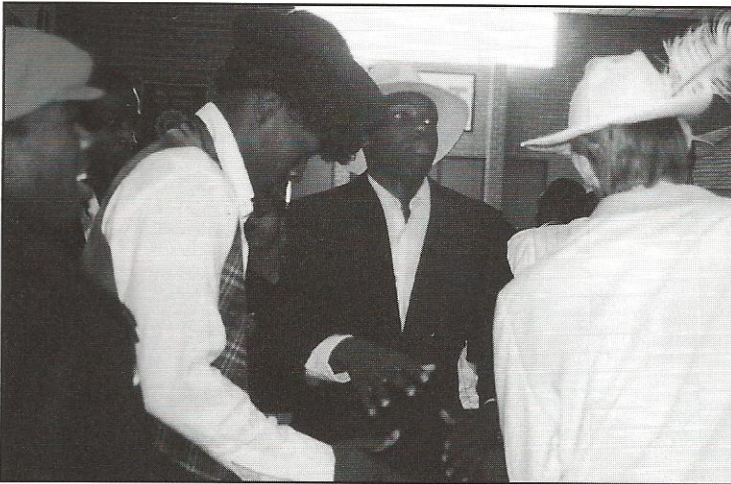

Halloween fell on that day. Some students looked frightful in their appropriate costume.

"My favorite costume was Timmy Glover's because he was dressed like Superman," said Carl Cole.

On Friday, regularly observed as "Blue & White Day," students supported the Dogs by wearing the school colors. The pep rally concluded the Homecoming activities with students showing their energy and excitement as they competed for the Spirit Award. The Class of '97 won the title of showing the most spirit.

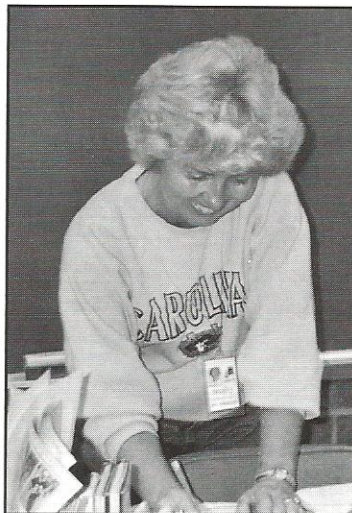

"I enjoyed the pep rally because it was the first one of the year. It was great to see everyone cheer the Bulldogs on," said senior Regina Nesbitt.

Blast From the Past! Gerard Wright, Conrad Gooding, Kent Whetsell, and Maurice Francis go back to the 60's during Spirit Week. Students enjoyed dancing during the four lunches.

I Love This Job! Mrs. Cheryl Murdaugh wears her Carolina sweat-shirt proudly for "College Day." She taught a new SAT Prep class.

Where do you draw the line when it comes to your school spirit?

"I have no limit to what I'd do for Spirit Week. Spirit Week is my time to show my spirit for Walterboro High School because I'm a Walterboro Bulldog."

— Rusty Ulmer

"I would not make myself look like a fool for school spirit. If it's something that would not draw laughter towards me, I would do it."

— Terrance Burgess

Let Me See That. Cheerleaders Robin Bullock and Jamie Virga show their school spirit by dressing up for "College Day." Both girls were members of the journalism staff.
