

LENDING A HELPING HAND

Coachedwards

Coach Jeff Edwards was a 1998 Special Olympics volunteer and was often found donating his time to help the children of the Special Education Department. He was a coach at the Special Olympics and was pleased to see two participants win gold medals at the State Special Olympics.

"It's a challenge, but you see a lot of positive rewards develop from the work you put out," said Edwards.

Clockin' In. Senior Devon Strickland clocks in a runner's time as he crosses the finish line. Devon was a member of the volleyball team and also a member of the Health Occupations class.

Making a Difference. Junior Hunter McLeod shares a joke with his friend Mark, a participant, while preparing for the next event. Hunter was a member of the Tennis team.
