

TGIF muttered from the lips of students as they exited the school building on Friday afternoons. Students had the whole weekend to do what they wanted to, but what did they do?

Friday kicked off the entire weekend. Besides football games students and their friends went to the movies, the bowling alley, and other places in Walterboro.

"Saturday is my favorite day because I can sleep all day and stay out with my friends most of the night," said sophomore Jessica Benton. After a long week at school, students deserved rest after making it through a stressful week. Some students were not able to sleep late because of their jobs that required them to be at work early in the morning.

"Working on the weekends gives me something to do and it also gives me money to have so that I can spend it during the week. Although I don't mind working on the weekends I do miss being able to sleep in," senior Elliot Forsythe said.

Resting on the weekends was important to senior Sarah Hutson. She said that relaxing made her able to stand the long week of school. "I usually sleep in on Saturday until about noon, get up and watch TV, and lay on the couch for the remainder of the day. I also don't have my driver's license so it is hard for me to go out much," Sarah said.

"I like to take my girlfriend to Charleston to dinner and a movie because there's not too much to do in Walterboro. I don't mind much where we go; I just like the weekends because I get to spend time with her," said senior Will Smoak.

Like Will, many students decided to spend some time alone or with their girlfriends, boyfriends, and friends. Though weekend activities varied among students, most would agree that they were happy just to be out of school.
