fifteen minutes before kickoff fans, continued pouring into Bulldog Stadium. The prayer ended, and Coach Riley rose to his feet. The last thing Riley said stayed in the players' minds throughout the game. He said, "This game is like the last bone; you can either eat it, or let someone else steal it." The Bulldogs definitely decided to eat it. The football team strived even harder to win in order for the Bulldogs's season to be remembered as a successful one. "I just want the dogs to go out with a bang. People need to remember us," junior Travis Fredrick said.

For many players, the last year stood for more than just the end of the Walterboro Bulldogs. "A lot of us are graduating this year," senior Arnold Williams said, "Every other year, we could say we have next season to capture state, but now there is no next year for me... or the team."

The team also seemed to respect each other more this year. "There is definitely more team unity this year because we know we are the last dogs that there will ever be," senior Darius Johnson said, "We are trying to do something that has not been done in awhile, like win state. The last thing we want to do is go out with a losing record."

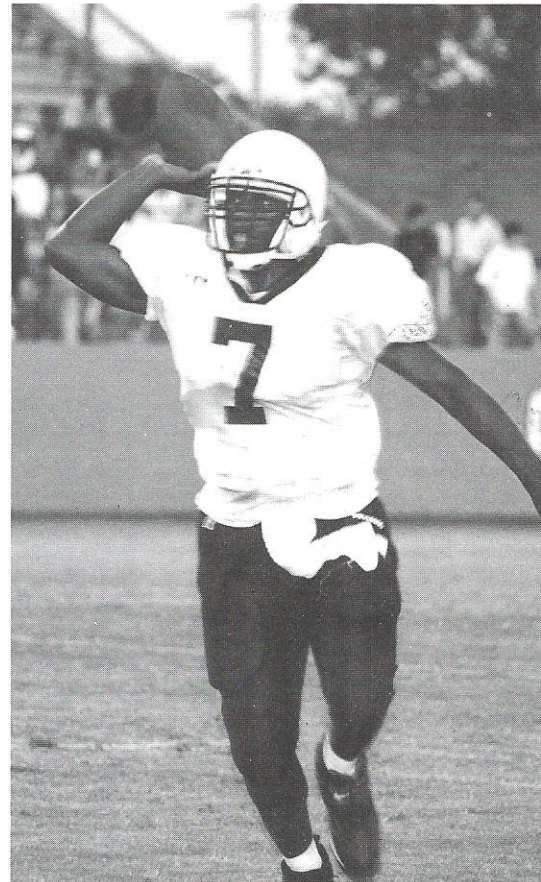

The Bulldogs determination glided them through a successful season. They were awarded as Region Champions, and defeated the Summerville Greenwave for the first time in eighteen years. The Bulldogs have ended, but the spirit of the team will live on forever.

It's good! Before making an extra point, Lucius Culpepper successfully kicks the football being held by Taylor Smith, both sophomores. "It'll be weird playing without the seniors next year," said Taylor.

Running through the defense. Successfully running the ball, junior Eric Jordan breaks through the defense of North Charleston during Sertoma. Eric gained plenty of yards, which helped lead the team to a victory.

Scanning the field. Looking for someone to catch his pass, senior quarterback Shawn Tomlin runs across the field. "Whenever I am on the field, my goal is total domination," Shawn said.
