

dazed and confused

"This was my third year in journalism. Being in charge of people section and photography was tough, but I made it! Through all the stressful hours put into it, I think this yearbook will turn out to be an awesome last edition of the Pawprint."
-Paisley Polk
People Section Editor

"This year I took my second year of art. I express my opinion through art when words aren't enough to say what I'm really thinking."

-Elle Ellison, 10th

"'Experimentation is the key to finding yourself.' This quote is just like me; I experiment with my appearance."

-Jowe Nettles, 12th

Up close and personal. These students rush down the stairs to beat getting crammed by all the other students coming down at the same time. The stairwells were packed in between classes, and it was a surprise no one got hurt from all the people pushing. You gotta love Walterboro High!

Dazed and confused after a hard day of work. These three senior guys, Brian Teasdale, Lance Anderson, and Josh Adams, walked out of school together after ending the day as guidance helpers. They loved the fact that they were finally seniors and could afford to take "no work" classes. "I love it because I go to sleep everyday on the couch in the career center," laughed Lance.
