

dog tired

Cut and paste. Working diligently, senior Adrian Kivett makes a sign in her class at the vocational school. "I enjoy this class because it gives me time to be around my friends and do all my work at the same time." Students like Adrian learned many different types of skills from the teachers and their classmates.

Blowing away! Stepping onto the competition field for the first time was a big step for rookie freshman Kerri McIlwan. Band students agreed that the long, hard hours of practice were worth the adrenaline rush felt while performing for the audience on the field.

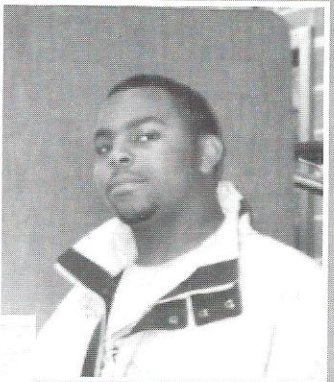

"This has been an excellent season for the year-book staff. I know we all worked hard. This was my first year as an editor, and it was very challenging. I would not have been able to get through the year without the help of my adviser, fellow editors, and writers. To show the academic growth of our school, we have changed the old academics section into the clubademics section- adding a spicy change to it.

-Rachel Hunt
Clubademics Editor

"I have a case of senioritus. I can't wait for graduation day. It is hard to concentrate in my classes since I know that this is my last year."

Joshua Adams, 12th

"Although this year was tiresome, I am going to miss it. Next year we will be going to the same school but with a twist."

Veronica Jarido, 11th