

dog - eat - dog

world

Stars and stripes forever. As the impact of the September 11th tragedy hits the United States, Americans unite to proclaim that there is no fear without retaliation. In every state, in every community, the American flag served as a representation of pride and the ability to overcome adversity.

Pom Pom Pump It Up. Showing off his school spirit, senior Downs Hamilton participates in the annual National Honor Society Powder Puff football game. "It was the first and only time I had lots of women staring at me. They were all in awe of my perfect breasts," Downs said.

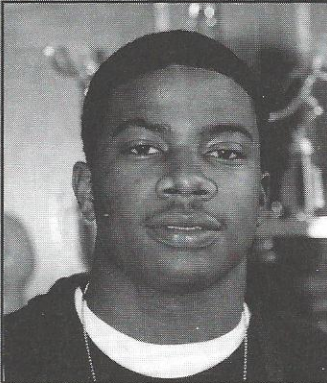

This year was a crazy year. With Brad, Hunter, and Kasey's constant playing around and Kara's never-ending complaining, the Journalism room was a hectic and sometimes nerve wrecking scene. On the other hand, there was the quiet co-operation of Jessica, the organization of Shantel, the tranquility and companionship of Paisley, and Morgan's hilarious satires. These different environmental personalities were somehow all pulled together with the teaching and editing efforts of Mrs. Travis and Tamara Spangler. Tamara, "Baby," I cannot believe that you will be gone next year, leaving me with the title of "Head Editor." Mrs. Travis, I look forward to working with you in the year to come.

-Charlie Hoffman,
Community Editor

"In my spare time, I help out at the nursing home, volunteer with the Sheriff's Department, and give my time to the United Way and the Fund Allocations Committee."

Mrs. Catherine Turner

"What can I say, I have nothing better to do with my time than to stay busy. I play basketball around my neighborhood, and I help out the elderly by doing yard work for them."

Herbert Varner, 10th